Waiting.

I have waited while prisoners faded:
I have waited till violets are dead,
I have waited till the cuckoo's song
Grew faint and full overhead.

Time's ray has passed over my tresses,
And lines on my temples are seen;
I have waited till harvest is gathered,
And the white summer clover is mown.

I have waited long under the elm tree,
Till the dew of the beeches grows brown;
I have waited while leaves of the lindens
In autumn came fluttering down.

I have waited through light and through darkness:
I have waited in sunshine and rain;
I am waiting for one who may never Come back from the rough sea again.

A Love Experience with a Moral.
The announcement of the late marriage of Senator Lafayette S. Foster, of Conn., recalls to one of our exchanges the following incident in his private history.

During the period of his law study in the south eastern portion of the state, he became acquainted with a young lady of propitious appearance, and more than ordinary accomplishments; a daughter of parents of the highest respectability; and moving in the most fashionable circles of the vicinity. With her he entered one of his earliest pleas, and commenced his suit.

That his suit was successful is evident from the fact that, shortly after his admission to the bar, and having obtained an honorable position and business connection, arrangements for consummating the marriage were made, and all went harmoniously until a short time before the appointed day. During his visit one evening, he remarked that he believed all necessary arrangements for the wedding were made, and the route for their bridal tour decided.

He added: "On our return we shall devote a short time to our friends here, after which, if you please, we will pay a short visit to my old father and mother, and spend a few days with them." Lafayette was always a good boy, and was taught to honor his father and mother, which early to him became pleasure as well as a duty. He had received from them words of love and encouragement, which had done for him without money (for they were poor) what money never could have done, and through all his privations and struggles to obtain an education and position in life, he had been stimulated by the thought of the pleasure of his success would give them, and he looked forward to the day when, with his chosen one, he should meet them beneath his humble roof, and receive again their blessings, as to be one of the happiest he should ever experience.

For a few moments the lady kept silence. She then said, "Mr. Foster, you know I have been educated with different ideas from yours, and have always associated with people whose manners and style of living is different from those of your parents and though I shall make no objections to your proposed visit, I wish you to understand that I shall not deign to associate with people of that class."

Nothing could have surprised him more than to hear those words from her lips. For a few moments he walked the room seemingly half bewildered. Then taking his hat in his hand, he turned, and with words more emphatic than refined, said: "Madam, I am glad I have found you out in time. You may go to the—"

The last we heard of the lady, she was still living, an ancient maiden, having seen this son of parents she considered beneath her notice. Fling with honor the highest public office to which his fellow citizens could promote him.

Champions.
Isn't the "champion" business about, as the Bowery venereal hall it, "played out?" We have billiard champions, fighting champions or half a dozen sorts, heavy weights, light weights, middle weights and catch weights; base-ball champions, quail champions, running leaping, swimming, shooting, walking, singing, dancing and kicking champions. Each trade has its champion, more emphatic than refined, a cut-throat, a chair maker and a score of others, each of whom claims the championship in his own department. Then we have champion yachts, horses, skiffs, bull-dogs, &c., and, alas! always a champion coming. In Washington, Mr. Long is not long since was an exciting race between rival butchers for the honor of the sheep-skinning championship. (fact), and their bright example has been emulated in the city of Madison, Indiana, by two ambitious youths, who waged one hundred dollars on sixty minutes pig sticking. Now, we submit that this is getting dangerous. It won't be long at this rate before we shall have eager struggles for the honor of champion grave digger; then, naturally we shall have rival doctors fiercely bleeding, listless, scuffling, and discharging—oh, sorry! with his championship by furnishing in the least time the most material to fill both the coffins and the graves. But the champion grows grim and ghastly—champion as more, champions.—Am. Press.

The visitor obeyed the invitation, ate heartily, was taken sick immediately, and died two days after—the doctors deciding that he had been poisoned.

CHICKENS HATCHED FROM EGGS 1,200 YEARS OLD.—The Paris correspondent of the "Nation" states that the guests of the Abbe Dennis, curate of the parish of St. Elio, in the Faubourg St. Antoine, dined a few days ago on fowls whose immediate ancestors figured, he says, on the table of the great Frankish King Dagobert. When the Abbe Dennis laid the first stone of the church and presbytery, he has built, by his own exertions, on the site of the old chateau and gardens of Dagobert, a hen's nest full of eggs was discovered beneath the ruins of the ancient building. These eggs, more than twelve hundred years old, and about to be thrown away by the laborers when the Abbe remembered that wheat had been grown from grain found in Egypt in mummies, dating back from the time of the Pharaohs, belonging to him that there might still be life in these eggs. A savant of the institute, consulted at once in reference to these precious relics of an age when there was as yet no France to detect "Perfidious Albion" or to be jealous of Prussia and needle pricks, advised their being forthwith confided to a hen of approved success in the maternal capacity. This advice having been acted upon, the good cure and his friends had the delight of witnessing, twenty-one days afterwards the hatching of a fine brood of chickens, the direct progeny of the denizens of King Dagobert's barn yard.

The fowls thus obtained have been carefully kept from any meanness, and are provided with the same food as with their congeners of less ancient blood; and the Abbe has now a yard so well replenished with "King Dagobert fowls" that he not only supplies his own larder with poultry of the illustrious breed, but is about to organize, at the suggestion of numerous friends, a sale of "King Dagobert's eggs," for the benefit of the poor of the parish.

BELLEVILLE, TUESDAY, OCT. 1.

THE "HIBERNIAN."—The steamship Hibernian passed Farther Point at 3:30 this morning.

WIRES DOWN.—The Newfoundland wires are down, and there is no communication with Heart's Content.

FIRE IN GALT.—A fire occurred in Galt about one o'clock this morning, and destroyed property to the amount of about $30,000. Losses were partially insured.

MOUNTED POLICE.—The Mounted Police force, which has been stationed in Madoc for some time past, was disbanded yesterday by order of the Ontario Cabinet.

Government Money to Carry Elections.

There is a mendacity about the Globe, when writing about its opponents, which is altogether inexcusable and unjustifiable. It is now busily engaged in trying to make its readers believe that "public money" has been used to carry the late elections, and when brought to book for uttering what it knows to be untrue, replies:

"Does the Globe mean to doubt that it has been the fashion on the Coalition side for Government contractors to contribute to their earnings towards the election expenses of Ministerial candidates? Does the Globe doubt that the contractors for the Ottawa buildings contributed money in that way; or that large sums were paid to them in a most irregular way, without vouchers, at the very time they were lavishing their money at elections to make Ministers attached special importance? Does the Globe doubt that Mr. Baing used part of his earnings to the election fund of the Conservative party?"

Supposing that this is all true, and that contractors as well as others, gave of "their earnings" to assist in carrying on the election of their friends, personally or politically, does it prove that the ministry of the day spent government funds for a similar purpose? The supposition is an utter absurdity, and no one knows it better than the Editor of the Globe, he having been in a ministry himself. Any attempt, therefore, to make the people believe (it is not only dishonest but disreputable on the part of one who knows better.

Not satisfied, however, with this general charge, the Globe becomes personal and says:

"There is no use of denying that a Coalition corruption fund was provided by some means or other, and that Coalition candidates had the benefit of it. In some instances, the Ministerial candidates were made decidedly poor by this world's goods, whose names so hanker would take for even a very moderate sum, and yet large amounts of money were spent in securing seats for their very men."

Was the Globe arguing from analogy when these remarks were penned? Has he forgotten that a draft was made some time since upon a gentleman in this town for $100 as his share of carrying on an election contest in the west, on the part of the Grits, without even asking him for a subscription, but levying the tax as a matter of right. Or does he fancy that every man's position is like that occupied by the great George Brown himself a few years ago, when the sheriff was his most intimate and frequent visitor? It comes with a very ill-grace from the Globe to talk about men being decidedly poor, when it is known from one end of the Province to the other, that there is no man in Canada, who has been the recipient of more favors in the way of subscriptions than himself, and that there is no man who has displayed more ingratitude to those who assisted him. Let the Globe argue public questions fairly, and convince the people that its opponents are wrong and it right, and no one will object, but this system of venomous reviling, cannot but recoil upon its head, and lead people to the belief that personal ambition and not the public good, is the sole controlling power of George Brown.

The public are cautioned not to append the initials "P. Q." to addresses on letters intended for places in the Province of Quebec, other than for the city of Quebec itself. The initials P. Q., simply, may be used, or the letter Q. only, which is still better.

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Parties going west would do well to secure tickets from Toronto west from R. P. D. A. agent for Great Western Railway, opposite the market, Belleville. 115-1m ## Insurance Asylum.

At a meeting of the Magistrates of the County of York, held in Toronto on Friday last, the following resolution was passed:

"Resolved—That it is a recommendation of the Board that Legislative authority should be obtained for the appropriation of all fees for selling liquor on Sundays or days on which elections are held, and for assailing of an individual, to the support of an Insurance Asylum, and that the Clerk of the Peace, Capt. Armstrong, Mr. McMillan and the mover, be a Committee to prepare a petition to the Legislature, praying that a law be amended in accordance with the foregoing recommendation."

The subject received full ventilation at the hands of the Magistrates present, and the discussion mainly arose on the question as to whether or not the taverns should be exclusively taxed. It was, however, shown by figures that, were the law rigidly enforced at the times specified in the resolution, a fund capable of building and maintaining an asylum could be raised without any extraneous effort. The resolution was carried amid a unanimity of feeling that promises well for the effort.

Failure of Buchanan &amp; Co.

Every one will regret to learn of the failure of Messrs. Buchanan, Hope & Co., of Hamilton. A correspondent of the Leader says:—"The city has been much excited to-day (Sept. 30th) by the reported failure of the firm of Messrs. Buchanan, Hope & Co., which, I regret to say, turns out to be too true. What the liabilities amount to I am unable to say, but they are doubtless large. One report says that the cause of suspension is a partnership quarrel, but another is that an assignment has been made. At any rate, whatever may have caused the suspension, the assurance is given that the firm of Buchanan & Co., of Montreal, has not been affected. It is known that a Chancery case has given a good deal of trouble to the suspended firm, as it involves a large sum of money, but as it is unsettled that cannot have had any immediate effect. The deepest sympathy is manifested for Mr. Buchanan, whose liberality has long been proverbial in this community."

FROM MADOC.

From our own Correspondent.

MADOC, Sept. 28th, 1867.

Election matters have somewhat subsided here other things assume more importance, though you can still see the chuckle, almost before you could hear it, in the faces of the successful electors. The last election is looked upon here as a more than ordinary one, for various reasons: 1st. It was a square stand up fight between two candidates who had been previously pitted against each other. 2d. While we generally hear of a good deal of work, in this case there was a good deal of work and not much talk, consequently the election passed off very quietly. 3d. The decided victory—no winning by a head or a neck, but the victor fairly distancing his opponent. Somewhat the result of this election also is accepted by the majority of the supporters of the unsuccessful candidate with more than the usual share of good nature. "I am not sorry," says others; "and some go so far as to say they are glad of it. There are a few who talk of 'bargains,' 'office seekers,' and of the Railroad Bill as an 'election humbug,' and so on; but no one needs it is generally believed that 'bargains' for 'office seekers' have been badly interfered with in the result of the election, and hence the growling. Well, this is foolish, better take a lesson from Mark Tapscott and 'look jolly'."

Gold mining is progressing, and all over the country shafts are being sunk with an earnestness of purpose that certainly promises to develop this part of the country much sooner than was anticipated a couple of months ago. To-day a report is current that gold is being found in the El Dorado mine in the quartz, visible to the eye and such quantities as to place it beyond doubt. Shares in this mine originally worth $10 are now said to be worth $50. It is to be hoped that this is true.

Messrs. Scott and Taylor have nearly finished their crushing mill, and it will probably be in full blast next week. I am told there are some fifteen applicants to have quartz crushed in quantities. Two crushing mills are being erected on Black Creek, one for the Barry mine and the other near Sugar's Mill. Mr. Wyckoff is now in New York selecting machinery for them, and also for another to be erected in this village. Assays are being made every day but nothing will satisfy fully but the result of the mills.

A very sad accident occurred yesterday near El Dorado, on the McIntosh hill. As Mr. Stewart of Claxton, formerly of Glenora, was descending the hill with a load wagon ran off the embankment, and the horse was so badly injured that he only survived a few minutes. A coroner's inquest was held to-day but I have not heard the result. Understand that Stewart leaves a large family.

It is very remarkable the number of sudden deaths in Madoc within the last two years. Scarcely a week passes without a sudden death.

The weather is fine and grain is beginning to move off briskly to market.

A Trip down the St. Lawrence.

MR. EDITOR.—Having business in Montreal, I thought I would go down the river. So on the 9th of September, I embarked on board the steamer Empress for my first visit to the city. I was much pleased to find that a party of seventeen, mostly from North Fort, were going the same trip. I thought very favorably of the steamer when I saw as respectable a company come on board, and who proved to be as merry a lot as you generally get down the bay and river. The moonlight view of the Thousand Islands surpassed anything I ever saw. Returning at rather a late hour, yet ready to rise at the orb of day to enjoy the morning breeze and the scenery on either side of the river, which was new to me. Breakfast being over, the party with some lady passengers, discoursed for the night it was all merriment and gladness, wondering how they would enjoy gliding down the torrents. Some expected to be sick, others frightened, but they were all quite disappointed, for we passed down so nicely it was only pleasant. In fact, I could hardly make myself believe that we had ran all the rapids of the great St. Lawrence, but so it was. At five o'clock on Saturday evening we found ourselves in the commercial city. The party all put up at the same hotel, and I thought I would not do better than to be found under the wing of the party. It proved to be so, for they were called and seated before the bell rang. On Sabbath we attended Christ church at 11 a.m. the French Cathedral at 3 p.m., and the Wesleyan Methodist Church in the evening. On Monday the party visited many of the principal places of note, and in the afternoon, I went with them to the mountain, a most delightful ride. While passing through the cemetery one of the ladies remarked that the grounds were so beautifully arranged and so much money expended in remembrance of the departed, that it would almost count our stay. At three o'clock on Tuesday, all on board, we started homeward. After one of the most pleasant trips I ever enjoyed, we found ourselves in York. While passing through the city nearly a week on the boat and in the city, on which I shall ever look as a gifted page in life's history. As for the good things of this world, we had a variety, and of which I was good. We sat down to some meals that would have graced a nobleman's table. Everything came on in the best order. A young lady remarked it was the longest party she ever attended. The Captain and officers on the boat seemed not to mind expense or pains to make all on board happy. There are not any sentiments aloft, but speak for all on board.

A PASSENGER.

Belleville, Sept. 30, 1867.

—At Fishkill, 1½ bushels of the Godrich potatoes, planted last spring, have yielded 120 bushels.

—For Boils, scabs, ringworms and Old Sores, Perry Davis' Pain Killer is the sovereign remedy.—See Adv.

—Mr. Violins, the greatest wine merchant of England, is dead. He was a sportsman; never had but one sort of wine in his cellar; never sent a single bottle to any one, never was in London, and never rode on a railway.

—Changeable weather produces colds, which, though they do not necessarily result in consumption, do the system great harm. If you have a cold, cure it, do not let it run till it past cure. Perry Davis' Pain Killer is the surest remedy.

—A man in Hamilton borrowed $30 from a friend, on the pretence of buying his brother's horse, but which brother was met shortly afterwards in the market square by the muleted friend, when a row followed. In the meantime the brother who borrowed the money decamped.

—A grand poem of the reformers of the County of Westmeath and the City of Hamilton is to be held shortly in the shape of a picnic. It has heretofore been supposed that picnics were for general enjoyment, but every thing has now-a-days to bend to the will of political agitators, and the "leading reformers" throughout the Province of Ontario are to give vent to their disappointments in general picnic style.

Labor in New Brunswick.

The New Brunswick correspondent of the Canadian News writes to that paper as follows: "By next summer there will be employment for 10,000 laborers within this Province, in consequence of the vast length of railway to be constructed, and able bodied men coming here, and obtaining work as navvies for two or three years, will have the advantage, if they are temperate in their habits, of being able to save enough out of their wages to purchase themselves with farms, upon which they can spend the remainder of life in perfect independence. Such men can obtain constant work in one of the healthiest climates in the world at one dollar per day, and upon this a large family can be comfortably supported and a considerable sum saved. Good land can be obtained at about half a dollar an acre when purchased for actual settlement; and thus the man who by frugality succeeds in saving the small sum of $50 can become the owner of 100 acres of land, a quantity ample sufficient to make an excellent farm. Comfortable habitations can be erected at a very small expense, the materials being found in abundance upon the land itself. There is no doubt that this is the world in which an industrious, sober man, possessing a little mechanical taste, can so easily and rapidly escape from the contingencies of a laborer's life. Once established in his homestead and having accumulated a little live stock, which is very rapidly done here, he can snap his fingers at bad times, and with the certainty of becoming more and more independent every year. The men that fail in this country, are those of dissolute and idle habits, but the orderly and industrious are sure to prosper."

American Despatches.

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The fall meeting of the Ladies Driving Association opened to-day. The hard race of two miles, for a purse of $500, was won by "Jockey." Time, 4:45 sec. The second race, swiftness, for three year olds, one mile, for $200. Twelve horses started. "Hazard" was the winner. Time, 1m. 40 sec. The third race, swiftness, for three year olds, was won by "Platiguard."

St. Louis, Sept. 30.—The funeral of General Stirling took place to-day, and was the largest ever seen in this city.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 1.—All the states heretofore published regarding the trial of Jeff Davis have been summarised, and the Government has not authorized them, nor has it made limitation of what it intends doing. It is supposed, however, that the Government will ask for further delay when the trial comes on in November next, and that the counsel for the accused will then make a motion of non prosequi.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Sept. 30.—Three fires occurred at Madison, Ind., during the last six hours, which are supposed to be the work of incendiaries.

SAVANNAH, Ga., Sept. 30.—A Boston mail steamer named Badger had gathered here of about 10,000 negroes. In the course of his harangue against white men he was interrupted, and a melee occurred. A large force of police charged through the crowd. The military came to their aid, and the muskets brought by a large number of country negroes were taken by the police.

LATON.—The city is now quiet, but disturbances are still threatened between the country and conservative city colored people. The military will remain under arms, but their services will probably not be needed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The Central Pacific Railroad Company are preparing for winter by routing in the most exposed portions of the track. Large quantities of freight are now crossing the mountains. An Oregon and California Stage Company has been organized. They will transport mails and passengers from Sacramento to Portland, a distance of 700 miles.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Our Consul at Remar, under date of August 30th, reports that yellow fever has again made its appearance there, principally among the seamen in the harbor.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 30.—The steamer Serra Nevada brings advice from Alaska up to August 30th. The Copper River country is reported by Indians and Russians to be rich in gold, copper and coal, but the savages are very hostile and warlike. The Russians, Finns and Germans are glad to be annexed to the United States. All kinds of common vegetables are raised; fish are very plenty; deer sell at 30c. each.

There is great excitement at Victoria over the supposed volcanic eruption 65 miles distant. The Colonist rejoices in the prospect of a union of the Colombia with the San Francisco 74 million.

NEW YORK, October 1.—The Croton National Bank was closed this morning by the Government examining for the redemption of circulating notes in lawful money on demand. The capital was $200,000, a part of which appears to have been lost. The circulation $150,000 is of course secured. It is thought that the depositors will all be paid eventually.

ANOTHER SERIOUS RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.—On Monday evening, the youngest son and daughter of Mr. Wm. Fox, senior, were returning from Wadsworth's Lake, they met with an accident when only a very short distance from home. The neck-yoke broke, letting the tongue fall to the ground, which frightened the team. As they were ascending the steep pitch in front of Mr. Charles Fox's house the wagon came in contact with a large rock. With the shock, the horses broke away, and the wagon was upset. Both of the occupants were thrown out, Miss A. Fox striking on her forehead and breaking her collar-bone. Her brother was fortunately uninjured, and immediately mounted one of the horses and proceeded to the village for surgical assistance. Dr. Jones was in attendance as quickly as possible, and were glad to learn that although Miss Fox sustained severe concussion of the brain, besides breaking her collar-bone, the skull was not fractured, and that she was progressing favourably towards recovery.—Madoc Mercury.

INSURANCE COMPANY

CAPITAL, . . . $10,000,000.

FIRE AND LIFE.*LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to TEN per cent. of the No. Life Income.
This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policyholders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, OCT. 3.

TOWN COUNCIL.—A meeting of the Town Council was held last night. Our report has been crowded out.

RECEIPTS & CO.—This firm has received its complete supply of French and English goods for the season. See Ad.

GOLD.—The following telegram has been received from New York:

Quartz from Lot No. 52, each containing 300 lbs., assayed here, yields 4.00 oz. of gold to the ton.

McGEE vs. DEVLIN.—A serious political encounter took place in Montreal on Tuesday, Oct. 2nd, between Mr. Devlin, who met Mr. McGee in the street and spat in his face. McGee, in return, called Devlin a scoundrel. The affair was connected with Devlin's professional career, which would be accepted by the public as damnable facts.

That "Bargain."

It has been said of the writings of one of the first men in Ontario that to quote from them without laying yourself open to misrepresentation, you must quote all he ever wrote. Although we do not wish to be chargeable with comparing very small things to large ones, yet we shall quote in full the remarks of our good natured contemporary, the Madoc Mercury, simply because that journal has assumed a similar position to that taken in reference to the writer to which we have referred, and because the Mercury has upon more than one occasion expressed its dissatisfaction at not having its remarks quoted more fully.

In reply to our remarks of the 19th Sept., the Mercury says:

"Certainly not. A newspaper editor has a perfect right, in such a connection, to allude to a person, without being called upon to descend to personalities, by naming individuals. The propriety was there in the Mercury's referring the same reference on this point, as the Intelligencer itself practices, in not mentioning the name of the office-seeking gentleman, who was a warm supporter of Mr. Wallbridge?"

"With respect to the 'bargain,' and Mr. Bowell's anxiety to know all about it, we must confess our astonishment at what appears the confused ignorance of the Intelligencer as to what we alluded to—namely, that before the election, in the course of conversation with Mr. Bowell, we told him we had heard from a gentleman, who said he knew because he saw it, that a certain proposition had come from Mr. Bowell. We leave it to Mr. Bowell, if he sees fit, to publish that conversation, of the general nature of which we told him, 'heard something before.'"

"Railway question, the unexpected majority for Mr. Bowell in last township must be attributed to some other cause."

"About the 'mere election dodge.' Here we have, first, to ask the Intelligencer a question. Why did it not give the whole of the sentence as we wrote it, and not merely a part of it? The Mercury pointed out that after the election, the railway issue was abandoned, and the supporters of Mr. Wallbridge were classed by the Intelligencer with 'office-seekers,' 'demagogues,' and 'annexationists.' In common language, how should such a charge be looked upon as an evidence that the Intelligencer had given the whole of a large number of those whom Mr. Bowell is now a Representative. The Intelligencer must know better than to expect us to comply with its demand for settlement about the supporters of Mr. Bowell who believed the Railway, or to be a mere election dodge. Let the Intelligencer be satisfied with the knowledge that the statement was not an unfounded invention on the part of the Mercury, strange as it may appear to our contemporary, there are gentlemen who agree with us in our opinion about the Railway business generally, although they voted for Mr. Bowell."

In this article there are a few things to be learned not very creditable to a newspaper publisher. And the first is that an "Editor has a perfect right" to charge men who do not think proper to be governed in their actions by his peculiar ideas of right and wrong, with anything his fancy may suggest, without being called upon to prove it. This theory is neither correct in law, nor just in equity. No man has a right to charge another with a crime, or anything else, without being prepared to sustain it by evidence; nor had the Mercury a right to charge any class or number of men who pursued a different course to himself, with ulterior objects in view, unless he was prepared to sustain such charge by evidence when called upon, unless he judged others by his own desires and wishes. Are we to understand that when he supported the unsuccessful candidate at the former election he was an office-seeker, and that fan-cyling he would again be the losing side, changed in order to effect his object. We do not say it is so, but the general charge which he brings against others may at least give an inference to be drawn. There is just this difference between the Mercury and ourselves which we should not give names. We brought no such charges against the supporters of Mr. Wallbridge, and only referred to the case in question in reply to a general accusation against his opponents. When the Mercury favors its readers with the names of the office-seekers to which he refers, the Intelligencer will be prepared not only to give the names, but to prove what it says to be true. Can the Mercury do as much?

The second paragraph in the above quotation proves two things. First, that the editor of the Mercury is capable of dissimulations; and secondly, of seeking a private conversation with a gentleman for the purpose of finding out what he had to say, or to try and create a feud between friend, and then to use it upon the first opportunity. The Mercury is welcome to either position. We shall show that the conversation to which he refers could not possibly affect the vote given to Mr. Bowell, and it would have been much more honorable had the Mercury told the whole conversation, which by the way, was not sought by Mr. Bowell, but commenced by the editor of the Mercury. What did it amount to? Simply that a proposition had been made by Mr. Bowell to select a candidate from each of these Townships, and run them upon a local ticket, each Township supporting such nominee; to which Mr. B. replied that he had heard of it before; and more, that if such an arrangement were made he would cordially and willingly support it. How, Mr. Mercury, could such proposed arrangement, or "bargain," if you please, affect Mr. Bowell? He was not what is termed a local man because he resides in Belleville; how then could such a proposition, which was based exclusively upon the local cry, affect him? And by what parity of reasoning is such a proposition made to apply to a candidate selected totally at variance with and in opposition to such proposal? If it meant anything, it meant a cordial co-operation on the part of the two Townships to elect local men, and as that failed, surely the Mercury cannot pretend that a similar bargain was either proposed or made in reference to the nominees of the Convention, because a large number of those who urged the local issue in the Convention voted against Mr. Bowell, and that conclusively shows that as far as he was concerned the former proposition had no effect, and that it never was intended to have any. To pretend or insinuate that it had, is mere disingenuousness, or "bargain," if you please, or a fanciful idea similar to the "office seekers," and used for a purpose.

In reference to the Railway dodge, it is not precisely in the same way as that of the other charges, with the condescending remark that we must be satisfied with the "knowledge" of the statement, was not an "unfounded invention on the part of the Mercury." Quite conclusive. The Mercury says so, and that's sufficient. Stand from under, the Mercury has said it, and who dares question it?

The South Hastings Exhibition.

The Annual Exhibition of the South Hastings Agricultural Society was held to-day on the grounds usually occupied by the Society, on Taylor's Hill. The Skating Rink was used for the display of grain, vegetables, fruit, poultry, the Fine Arts and Ladies' Department, and the grounds in the rear for the show of Stock, Agricultural Implements, &c. The weather was delightful, and at an early hour the different highways leading into the Town presented a busy and animating appearance. Long lines of carriages, filled with the cheerful, happy couples and families of farmers, with their wives and daughters, streamed through the streets and wended their way to the Fair ground. There were large droves of cattle and flocks of sheep, and pigs, which would go every way but the right way, much to the annoyance of their drivers. There were loads of grain, of vegetables, of fruit, of dairy produce, all bound for the Fair, and the scene altogether was a busy and exciting one.

At the time of writing—half-past eleven o'clock—we have not learned the exact number of entries for the Secretary is still busy issuing tickets, but that gentleman informs us that in nearly all the departments the number of entries considerably exceed those of last year. Certainly the appearance of the grounds indicates that in some of the leading departments the Show will be an improvement upon that of last year. But it is greatly to be regretted that exhibitors are so slack in making their entries, and so late in bringing their articles to the show-ground. Where there is but a one day exhibition, the entries should be made the day previous, and everything should be on the ground at least by ten o'clock. But here it is nearly twelve o'clock, and the Secretary is still kept busy issuing tickets to negligent exhibitors, and all the stock and articles for exhibition are not yet on the ground. The only way to effectually remedy this difficulty will be to either strictly carry out the rule, making it necessary that all entries should be made the day previous to the Show, and rule out all articles not on the ground by nine or ten o'clock in the forenoon, or what would be much better, have the Exhibition held two or three days. As it is, half the stuff on exhibition is barely in its place before it is time to remove it, and one of the chief advantages of the exhibition is lost to those particularly interested. But more of this anon.

In giving a brief description of the Exhibition, we will take the reader first to the Agricultural Implements department, which is located on the green to the south-east of the Skating Rink. Here will be found one of the finest displays of Farmer's Implements ever exhibited at our County Fair. The first article seen on going on the ground is a large Horse Rake, made and exhibited by B. Mallory, of Sidney. It is said by those whose business it is to use it, to be one of the best articles of the kind made. Next is Bennett's well known Double Action Fanning Mill, made by R. S. Patterson. It combines several advantages which render it a superior article. Then we have a Root Slicer and a Corn Sheller, made by G. D. Armstrong, and the same gentleman exhibits his Cider Mill, which is getting to be quite a favorite with cider makers.

J. M. Walker & Co. cover a considerable extent of ground with a very fine display of their well-made and highly-finished implements, embracing a Wood Saw, which must be a great convenience in new settlements, for you can take it into the woods and cut with it the largest as well as the smallest timber; a Threshing Machine, Straw Cutter, Corn Cracker, and a variety of Ploughs, including the famous Bennett Plough. These implements attracted a large and admiring crowd.

Messrs. G. & J. Brown had a large and fine display of their manufactures on the ground, around which were gathered a large number of those who took an interest in Agricultural Implements. The display of this firm was larger and more varied than they have exhibited for some years, and the style of their work and finish was much admired. Amongst the articles they had on exhibition were a Grain Cracker, a Threshing Machine, with raker attached, a Corn Cultivator, a Hilling Cultivator, and a great variety of Ploughs, suitable to every description of soil, including their famous Scotch Plough. They exhibited what is called a "Universal Cultivator," adapted for a variety of work, and from the different uses to which it can be put it well deserves the name of "Universal Cultivator." This firm had also on exhibition a Cooking Stove, called the "Commonwealth," with cast iron furnishings from their own establishment, for neatness of finish would compare favorably with those of any other manufacturers in the Province. They also had a fine box stove called the "Black Giant."

Mr. J. Gordon, Agent of Hall's Agricultural Works, Ottawa, exhibited a combined Reaper and Mower, and a Mower called the Ohio Junior, which attracted considerable attention.

Mr. John Rowe, of Sidney, had on exhibition a Clover Machine from the manufactory of Hall's, Ottawa.

Of carriages, Messrs. Brown and St. Charles were the only exhibitors, but what was lacking in quantity was made up in quality. Their covered and open buggies, for sale and finish, were equal to the best shown at Kingston, and their Demonstrator and other Carriages were not surpassed by those of other class manufacturers. Sheriff Taylor had on exhibition a two-horse covered carriage, and the only other article in this department we observed on exhibition, was a lumber wagon, made by Mr. Vermilyea, of Sidney.

The show of Stock was far superior to that of last year in most respects. Of Sheep particularly, there was the finest show we have ever seen at any County exhibition. There was also a large variety, comprising Leicester, Southdowns, Merinos and Common Sheep, particularly those imported by Mr. Wood, of Thurlow, and it was the opinion of those who were at the Provincial Exhibition, that some of our Southdowns and Leicester would have carried off prizes there had they been on exhibition; as very few of the owners were present when taking notes, we are unable to particularize. The prize list will show who were the successful competitors.

Of Pigs there was also a better show than last year, particularly of young animals. Mr. Robert Clark, of Tyndinaga, had on exhibition his two-year old Yorkshire Boar, which took the first prize at the Kingston Exhibition, and which was very justly admired, if not as a pretty specimen, at least as a huge and profitable sample of the porcine species.

The show of Horses was also far ahead of last year, particularly of young animals. We do not remember ever having seen, at our County Fair, so fine a collection of two and three-year olds as was on the ground to-day. Finely proportioned, well bred, and having all the "points" which horse fanciers desire, there was the making of a lot of fine roadsters on exhibition amongst the young stock of Brood Mares with the Oat there was a measure show. In Carriage Horses, single and double, there was a fine show, some of the turn-outs would have done credit to large cities like Toronto and Montreal. Of Draught Horses there were but few on exhibition.

Of Cattle, the show on the whole was about what it was last year, though in much cow it was considered a great deal better. In bulle, the principal exhibitors were Messrs Donald Anderson, of Tyndinaga, and Wm. Woods, of Thurlow, who had their well known Durhams, and Sheriff Taylor, who exhibited a Devon. The calves were good, and of steers and oxen there was a very fair show. Two pairs of twin steers, exhibited by Mr. Secunda Reed, of Sidney, being in color, size, and points, exactly alike, were much admired. Take the stock as a whole, it was an improvement upon the exhibitions of the last two or three years, and we hope we may have the satisfaction of chronicling further improvements in future.

(The remainder of the report, with the Prize List, will appear in to-morrow's issue.)

Court of Chancery.

This court held its semi-annual sittings at Belleville on Tuesday last. There were only two cases set down for examination and hearing.

The first case tried was Jones vs. Jones, executors of James B. Jones, brought to set aside a sheriff sale by Sheriff Thorpe, of Picton, of a farm valued at $5,250, and to cause the executors to account for the personal estate of the deceased. The facts showed that this valuable farm had fallen into the hands of a lawyer as purchaser at that sale under a number of land executions from the County Court of Prince Edward, three of which were against the executors, one of which was obtained upon judgment by default for goods sold to the executors. Another was obtained upon a judgment by default (with the exception of a few dollars worth) sold to the executors, both of which suits the executors ought to have defended, as the estate was not liable for these goods. The third was obtained by default on a note held by one of the executors for $144, who renounced, and handed the note to one Henry McDonald, to be paid in his name, but under this execution no deed had been delivered by the sheriff. The amount due on the two executions, under which there could be any pretence of reaching the testators lands was about $143.

Vice Chancellor Mowat gave judgment on the spot, decreeing the sheriff's sale and his deed void, thereby setting aside both the sale and deed, and ordering the executors to account for personal property, and to pay the executors to be worth about $1,348; and thereby preventing about $6,000 worth of property being taken from the lawful heirs, one of whom was the plaintiff.

A. R. Dougall and Thomas Hodgins, Solicitors for the Plaintiff, Barton Gilbrat and Boss for Executors, R. J. Fitzgerald for Counsel as purchaser and others.

CULMINE vs. HAMILTON.—The Plaintiff in this case contended that a lease executed to him, omitted by mistake a small piece of land intended to be leased to him, and the action was brought to reform the lease.

The Vice Chancellor after hearing the evidence held that the Plaintiff's contention was right, and decreed that the lease be amended by adding this piece of land, as also leased to the Plaintiff, thereby reforming the lease.

Moss Solicitor for Plaintiff, and Blake for Defendant.

Editorial Summary.

A young lady in a Boston school, on being asked why in Latin, words came to be called masculine, quickly replied: "I do not know unless it is because they are so foolish."

A strong shock of an earthquake is reported to have taken place at Odellton, (Lacolle) New Canada. It was preceded by the usual rumbling noises, which lasted for several seconds.

A short time ago the sea, in Orkney, exposed portions of an embankment in Wainey, exposed to view a quantity of human bones. Among the remains a skull was picked up which exhibited such curious interest, as a linen's nest was found inside.

The five papers in Portland, Me., which were burned out last year, and since then have occupied temporary quarters, and out of the city, have at last found an abiding place, and, like a happy family, are now housed under the same roof.

On the 7th of September, two days after killing, two deaths from cholera occurred on board the Himalaya, and another from the same disease on the 20th; and two deaths from ordinary diarrhoea. She was detained twenty-four hours at quarantine. The Superintendent permitted her to pass up with a clean bill of health, a case of well dressed cholera having developed itself within a few days of Quebec. The Government thought it necessary to order her back for further cleansing and purifying. Indignation is expressed at her being allowed to come up. No communication was held with her.

A HINT TO THE LADIES.—Women who wear short dresses should read and heed this bit of advice from the New York Times. "There is one little fact that our ladies seem to overlook in the effect of the recent fashions. In other days, when trailing skirts were the mode, the habits of twenty years lead the whole generation of women, whether they had experienced the whole twenty years or accepted their results from others, to use their feet in a very careless manner. Walking, standing, or sitting, the awkwardness of feminine feet will walk the street or sit in the cabin of the ferry boat with her feet in such positions as would in her own eyes instantly stamp any man indulging in them as a candidate for the 'awkward squad.' We have it supposed to be highly improper to observe lady's feet, but when by reason of either grace or clumsiness they attract attention they will be observed, and the present walking dress affords ample opportunity for the display of either of those qualities."

Telegraphic News.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

FLORENCE, Oct. 1, evening.—Intelligence has been received of quite a serious revolution in the demonstration by the partisans of Garibaldi at Viterbo yesterday. The latest despatches, however, announce that the outbreak had been quelled and that the city was tranquil.

PARIS, Oct. 1, evening.—There is much distress in political and financial circles here. M. Rouher, the French foreign secretary, Lavalley, the home secretary and M. Nigre, the Italian minister to France, left to day for Biarritz to confer with the Emperor.

VINNA, Oct. 1, evening.—It is announced to-day that the Emperor Francis Joseph will visit Paris on the 26th inst.

BELLEVILLE, Oct. 1, evening.—The North German Parliament has fixed the salt tax at two shillings per 100 lbs.

LONDON, Oct. 1, noon.—No further telegrams relative to the recent disturbances in Italy have been received. In the meantime many wild rumors are afloat. It is said that a serious revolt has broken out at Rome, and that the Pope has been obliged to fly to Civita Vecchia for safety.

The Optimism, a semi-official journal of Florence, says that Rome will soon belong to Italy, and that without a broken treaty.

GLASGOW, Oct. 1, noon.—Messrs. Buchanan & Co., a firm largely engaged in American trade, stopped to-day; liabilities not stated.

LONDON, Oct. 1, noon.—Admiral Farragut arrived here yesterday and was received with marked civilities.

BERLIN, Oct. 2nd.—One hundred deputies in the North German Parliament have entered protest against the disturbance of the long established maritime privileges of those German states which border on the Baltic Sea.

The Herald's Copenhagen correspondence says Admiral Farragut's fleet sailed from Denmark to-day. The reception has been exceedingly cordial. The Admirals staff and Captains dined with the King last night. The King of Greece with a brilliant suite was present. The two Kings were very friendly and warm in their expressions towards the United States.

The Herald's Berlin correspondence says a postal connection between the United States and the North German Bund has just been concluded by Mr. Kasson, American Commissioner, and submitted to Count Bismarck for official signature. It reduces the postage between America and Germany from 30s to 15s, via England; to 10s via direct lines. The newspaper postage is to be largely reduced.

LONDON, Oct. 2, midnight.—Reports from Italy are startling. A despatch from Florence last evening says that the outbreak at Viterbo was not quelled. The small town of Anagnone, in Orvieto, has been captured by the insurgents, who now have full possession of all the roads leading to it. The commander of the forces of the Pope has asked the Italian Government for assistance. Italy refuses any soldiers. There is no longer room for doubt that the revolt is serious. There are alarming apprehensions of an interruption of the friendly relations between Italy and France.

LIFE DEPARTMENT

THE principle on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Insurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds. Ours is the advantage secured by those who insure their lives with this Company in that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the law of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management must largely influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1898, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

The Impending War of Europe

A great war in Europe is inevitable.—Those who place the slightest trust in the assurance of peace which the rival governments are continually making, forget the maxim of Talleyrand, that the use of speech is the concealment of force.

Prussian minister, forget that truth is the one especial virtue which a continental statesman cannot afford to practice. A great war in Europe.

clamations of peace, so that the very phrase of "international amity" sound like the report of a gun. The nearer the war, the more earnest are the protestations of good prize-fighters who, just before they beat each other to jelly, exchange the warmest hand-shakings and most cordial smiles. We have had more than one instance ing their subjects upon the prospect of long and happy peace at the very moment when they were preparing their armies to invade somebody else's territory. "France desires peace; all her interests are bound up undisturbed commerce, manufacture, and art. She will make any sacrifice to avoid war." This is the manner in which the Emperor talked at Amoy. "I have ed France with the Empress from Strasburg to Dunkirk, and our hearty and sympathetic reception everywhere has filled us with the liveliest gratitude. Nothing, I perceive which, for 20 years, the French people have placed in me. They have estimated at their real value the difficulties I had had to surmount. The ill-success of the prestige of our arms, since everywhere the valor of our soldiers overcame all opposition. The events accomplished in Germany have not caused our country depart from a calm and dignified attitude and it relies with justice on the maintenance of peace." Yet all this reliance upon peace did not prevent Napoleon from b England. Nor did it put a stop to unusual activity in reorganizing, drilling and arming every branch of the as busy as her manufactories. Immediately after the triumph of Prussia measures were taken to organize an army upon a basis of 800,000 men.

Prussia, equally emphatic in her protestations, has been as significant in her action. The avowed policy of Bismarck is the consolidation of the North German States into a single empire, the annexation of which Prussia shall be the head, and it is notorious that his schemes have for their intermediate object the detaching of the South German States from the influence of Austria.

needle-gun is to be met with the Chasse rifle. Austria is sacrificing the hereditary policy of the House of Hapsburg to gain what she has never had—the effect support of Hungary, and an assurance that Hungarian troops could be depended upon in a battle. Italy and even Switzerland adding to their materials of war, with their best and semi-barbaric power, with ing cloud has already announced that Sultan must revolutionize the whole system of his Government. Every movement of all her movements, the late demand the boldest. And war does not result fr the action of the Czar, as much as his act

Peace may be preserved by a miracle—miracles are very rare in politics; and there is any significance in facts, the editor of this paper was right when he lately morning when two great armies meet, and while the birds sing and the bees hum the clover, await for a few brief moments the command to fire and the word

A lady appeared at a Long Branch fan ball as amiability. Her husband failed recognize her.

The Manchester Fenian Outrage.

Riot and Daring Rescue on the 15th Sept.—A POLICE SERGEANT SHOT—THE MURDERER ARRESTED—THE FENIAN PRISONERS CARRIED OFF.

The London Times of the 16th Sept. says—The Manchester police, about a week ago, apprehended two men, who were loitering about the streets in a suspicious manner, at between 3 and 4 in the morning. They gave names which are supposed to be false, and claimed to be American citizens, but are quite unknown. They were supposed to be plotting the robbery of a shop, and on being taken into custody offered great resistance, trying to get their hands in their pockets, where each had a loaded revolver. They were brought up under the Vagrant Act and remanded. From communications with the Irish police, some of whom have visited Manchester, it is confidently believed that those men will prove to be the notorious Fenians known as Colonel Kelly and Captain Deasey. On their being brought up a second time at the Manchester police-court yesterday, they were again remanded for further inquiry.

MANCHESTER, Wednesday, 9 o'clock.
This morning the supposed Colonel Kelly and Capt. Deasey having been remanded by the magistrates were placed in a cell with a view to removal to the city goal, Bellevue. About 3 o'clock the van was drawn up in front of the police court to remove all the prisoners to goal, and among them the two Fenians. At this time the police noticed two men hanging about whom they suspected to be Fenians, and a policeman made a rush at one of them to arrest him, in which he succeeded, but not till the man had drawn a dagger and attempted to stab him. The blow was avoided. The other suspected person made his escape. In consequence of this Kelly and Deasey were put in irons before being taken to the van. When the van left the city it had to proceed over Ardwick and along Hyde road, a fine open street leading to the goal, and nearly a mile in length; it was drawn by two horses, and was guarded behind by seven policemen. The van had proceeded about half a mile on this road when, on passing under the viaduct which carries the London and North-Western Railway across, with an open field on the right, a volley of shots were fired at it. The policemen, not seeing where the shots came from, dropped off the van and spread themselves out wide. There was then a rush of 30 to 40 Irishmen upon the police and upon the van. One man had a hatchet, another a hammer, and a third a bayonet, with which they worked to break open the van. One man took a revolver and fired it into the lock. Ultimately, men with large stones—one of them of nearly 100lb. weight—broke through the top of the van and the panels of the door behind, and set all the prisoners, including the Fenians, at liberty. The policemen collected in a body and made a rush to prevent the prisoners being liberated, but several revolvers were discharged among them, and one constable was shot over one of his eyes, causing the eye to protrude, and was taken to the infirmary. A young man, a bystander, was shot through the head. It is expected the Fenians, being in irons, will be recaptured. The streets of Manchester have been in a state of great excitement all the evening. The officer shot in the head is Sergeant Brett. He had passed through his head, and lodged in his hat. William O'Hara Allen, said to have fired the fatal shot, was chased and taken. Detective Bromley received a shot in one of his thighs. Another policeman was shot in the back, wounded but slightly. Both the horses in the van were shot. The driver was knocked off his box with a stone. A dozen arrests have been made. The two Fenians are at liberty, but a squadron of Dragoons are passing the Telegraph office, guarding a carriage, at this moment, which may contain further important captures.

11 o'clock.
Three men were escorted to the Town-hall by the police, who are identified as taking part in the rescue. The secretary of the Manchester Police has authorized a reward of £300 for Kelly and Deasey, and the Manchester corporation offer £200 for the men concerned in the rescue. Allen is said to have acted as captain of the rescuing party, and had been waiting with a number of followers for hours before the van arrived. He shot at the driver and policeman on the box and at the horses, shooting one through the neck. He also fired at Brett, who was inside the van, and tumbled out when the door was forced.

THE MODERN FLYING DUTCHMAN—A SUSPICIOUS CRAFT OFF THE IRISH COAST.
The Dublin correspondence of the London Times contains the following—
"The suspicious craft which was reported a few days since to be hovering about the coast of Derry is now fitting along the Western shore like a will-o'-the-wisp, exciting vague apprehension, and exciting Her Majesty's gunboats and coastguard constantly on the alert. A report from Carrivernon on Sunday announced 'something remarkable,' and that the 'Coastguard' seem as if they expected another 'rising.'"

FIRE and LIFE

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement. Ten per cent of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policyholders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1868, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

of Cape Town, in Africa—differences of opinion which was one of the causes which led to the assembling of the Synod—was to have been brought up for decision. On the third day, co-operation in missionary efforts was to constitute the principal subject for discussion. The session was to last three days. Only the most details of the work to be done are here given. The mails will, in due time, bring a full account of the results of discussions so important to the unity and general welfare of the Episcopal Church.

Strange Vicissitudes in the Life of a British Nobleman's Son.

The Decatur, Ill., Magnet, says: Most, if not nearly all, of our citizens have noticed a dissipated vehicle, somewhat resembling a circus wagon, located on a vacant lot on north Main street, in which resided an old and poverty-stricken man. Some time in the spring, the wagon, propelled by a couple of attenuated horses, arrived in this city, and the old man pitched his tent in the place mentioned, where, through the charity of the owners, he has since been permitted to dwell. Here he has lived ever since, seeking out an existence by the donations of our benevolent citizens, he having disposed of the horses for a small sum. Yesterday, F. S. Murphy, Esq., one of our prominent lawyers, received a Scotch gentleman named McGregor, who, after a long and weary search, had found the individual named he have thus described, and whom he identifies as the youngest son of the late Earl of Clannaird, one of the wealthiest and most influential noblemen in Scotland. The story related by Mr. McGregor is almost marvellous in its details, and would furnish the material for a first-class, three-volume novel. Some forty years since, the poor old man, who has attracted the compassion of our citizens, was a dashing and stylish officer in the Life Guards; becoming enamored of a beautiful girl of humble origin, he married her in opposition to the commands of his proud father and renounced his equally proud elder brother. Being disinherited and thrown upon the world, he sold his commission, and with his wife came to this country. After five years of vicissitudes upon a rugged farm in the Western wilds, his wife died, and broken in spirit and sore in heart, he relinquished his claim, and roamed without aim or purpose over the country. During the Mexican war he enlisted as a private soldier, and served until the close of hostilities. Since then he has been the companion of roving Indians; decked-out on steamboats; a pedlar, &c., until his arrival in this city. By the death of his elder brother, which occurred about four months since, he has become the possessor of an estate to the value of three thousand pounds per annum. His good fortune—alas!—has come too late; prostrate in mind and enfeebled in body, he cannot realize, nor can he long enjoy, the princely fortune to which he has fallen heir. Yesterday evening, named McGregor, he embarked on the eastern train, en route for his lordly mansion in Laverne, Scotland. Fortune smiled too late! His early love sleeps in La Bella Riva, and his late wife, who was his former self—too imbecile to heed the frowns or smiles of fortune.

The Toronto Leader of the 23rd says: "The past week has been a busy one for produce dealers, as the banks have done a good business in the way of discounts and advances. During the week from 75,000 to 90,000 bushels of barley have been taken from the teams, and about fifteen thousand bushels have been received by cars, making the total receipts for the week of 110,000 bushels. The receipts during the previous week were put at 45,000 bushels. A large portion of this has been shipped, and for a good number of cargoes owners have received their returns and realized their profits. Nearly the whole quantity has gone, or is expected to go, to the Oswego market, but we notice that a cargo of five or six thousand bushels specially selected is being shipped by Messrs. Clark Brothers for Halifax. We hope the venture will result so favorably as to induce other shippers in the same direction."

WHAT IT COSTS TO MISGOVERN NEW YORK.—It is a general rule, says the New York Sun, that the best article costs the most money. The rule is not invariable, however, for if it were the Municipal Government of New York would be a paragon of excellence. This year the tax bill foots up in round figures, twenty-two millions of dollars. That sum is larger than the annual sum of running the United States Government thirty years ago. At the later period—1837—the total tax levy for the city amounted to $1,244,000, which is a little more than one-twentieth of the present tax. Ten years later it had reached only $2,581,875, and in 1857 it was $8,117,750. In 1862—only five years ago—the total city tax was $9,890,251, and it has therefore more than doubled within that time. If the present tax were apportioned pro capite, it would be equivalent to $32 per year for every man, woman, and child upon the island, or about $150 for every voter.

Decatur, Ill., boasts of a female brass band. Boys ought not to be permitted to travel in the summer. They are too sharp. The American boy is a dangerous weapon, with the edge to him and the handle to get hold of. At the Fort William Henry House I saw a lover and a lady tormented with the company of the lady's younger brother. "It is a sweet life," sighed the lady, "I wish I might have an island in it, and solitude." "Without me?" said the lover, plaintively. "You are solitude to me!" she said; "you put the rest of the world far off from us." "Yes," said the boy, "he's a sweet old solitude, he is! He's a solitude with a bar room in it, and boys to set up ten-pins. He's more solitude by himself than solitude!"

BELEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 7.

LACROSSE.—A meeting will be held to-morrow (Tuesday) evening at 7:30, at Hamby's, for the purpose of organizing a Lacrosse Club. Persons feeling an interest in the game, are requested to attend.

IN IT POSTER.—The London Free Press states that a number of the men belonging to the Grey Battery, Toronto, who deserted some time since, are now engaged drilling the Fenians in the neighborhood of Buffalo.

SCOTCH SONGS.—Kennedy, the eminent Scotch Vocalist, sings to-night in Nelson's Hall. To those who have heard him, a word of commendation is not needed; those who have not, would do well not to lose the present opportunity.

SONS OF TEMPERANCE.—The eighteenth annual session of the Grand Division Sons of Temperance of the Province of Ontario, Canada, will be held in the town of Bowmanville, commencing on the 23d of October, 1867, at 10 o'clock a. m.

HOWE'S BOMBAST.—Hon. Joseph Howe said in Windsor, N. S., on Wednesday: "I go up to Canada, and advocate the repeal of the Union. If I cannot get it there, I will appeal to the British Parliament; if I cannot get it there, I will appeal to the civilized nations of the world."

PROFITABLE HORSE TRAINING.—A correspondent of the Toronto Globe informs that a horse dealer from Canada named Blackstock, purchased a horse last week at Niagara for $170 and sold him a few days afterwards at the Rochester fair for $1,100 in greenbacks. The animal, which was found capable of trotting a mile in 2:37, was sold the next day for the sum of $2,300.

THE PREMIERS.—The Ottawa correspondent of the Quebec Chronicle, referring to the return of the members of the Ministry to Ottawa, says: "The greetings of Sir John to John B. are one of the best stories of the year. Sir John—Well, Sandford, you've beat them,—aye, routed them, horse foot and artillery! My Cabinet is all sound, but what a run lot you've got! Sandford—How so? Sir John—Well, to begin with, Sandford, one lung; Wood, one arm; Cameron, one leg; and Richards can't take his seat!"

PRESENTATION.—On Friday evening, 4th inst., a very pleasant occurrence took place at Hill Point, in the shape of a presentation to H. B. Rathbun, Esq., the employees of Messrs. Rathbun's extensive establishment, presented Mr. Rathbun, Senior, with a very handsome Library, on the occasion of his removal to New York City, on account of ill health. The library comprised 250 volumes of standard works, and cost the sum of $400, American currency. Mr. John B. Benson, on behalf of the employees, many of whom have been connected with the business since its commencement, delivered a very neat and appropriate address, to which a suitable response was made. The presentation was a great surprise to Mr. Rathbun, being entirely unexpected. His departure from Hill Point will be greatly regretted by all the people in that vicinity, to whom he was much attached, and by whom he was highly respected, and their best wishes will go with him for his speedy and complete restoration to health.

NOVA SCOTIA POLITICS.

The Howe organs of Nova Scotia are playing a different tune now that the elections are over. The Halifax Citizen says: "It will be time enough when parties do arise, if the Dominion lives long enough to allow them to grow, for the Nova Scotia members to say on which side they will range themselves; and until then, it will be their duty to give the existing government or any government that may be formed, a fair trial, regulating the extent of their support by the extent of the injustice that may be offered to Nova Scotia."

The Chronicle (Mr. Annand's paper) says: "The people of Canada condemned whatever offences may have been committed against them in times past by those who compose that Ministry, and as McDonald and his colleagues have inflicted no injury upon us, we would be do to oppose them simply because they wrangled years ago with other politicians in Upper and Lower Canada. One of that Ministry, it is true we have dismissed, from public life, not on account of the policy he may have desired to pursue in the future, but on account of his deeds of the past. He was a Nova Scotian, and he chose to assume the responsibility of denying to our people their just rights. We have punished him. It is our own quarrel."

Halifax city in the general election went largely for the Union, and the recent election for Mayor, it gave unmistakable evidence of its devotion to the cause of Union, by the election of a Mayor by over five hundred majority. It seems that the Anti-Unionists put up a demonstration in favor of Howe in Halifax, after his return from Windsor, which the Evening Express describes as in exceeding bad taste. The Express says:—

"The very proposal was a public insult to the citizens of Halifax, who act as if on a stage at once upon propriety and decency. The insolence of the proceeding may be gathered from the fact that in the whole city of 8,000 electors, after the most strenuous exertions, and every corrupt means that could be devised, only 824 Anti-Union votes were polled altogether. That a city in which the sentiment in favour of Union is so strong should have been chosen as the spot for celebrating an Anti-Union triumph, was most extraordinary, and that the foolish actors in it did not suffer for their temerity, was due altogether to that forbearance, and love of peace and order, which have all along characterized the Union party. As it was, the demonstration was a complete and a most disgraceful failure. Some fifty or sixty rascals, composed of the very scum of the city, were hired at no more than a head to carry torches. A great crowd followed this 'procession' till it brought up at the Grand Parade, where Mr. Howe, mounted on a carriage, endeavored to address the gathering. This was too much, and the shouting, yelling and confusion, were such as were never witnessed in this city. Not a word could be heard, and after fifteen minutes or so, of mere dumb show, Mr. Howe sat down, and A. W. McLellan, of Colchester, ventured to get up, but was received with such savage vociferations that he at once discreetly gave up any attempt to speak."

If the Halifax Citizen may be taken as authority the dominant party of that Province has at length declared its policy. It has determined to accept the situation, recognize Confederation temporarily, and go to Ottawa, not arraying itself with either party, but with quietness until it sees which party will offer it the best terms. The terms which the party expects may be gathered from the following remarks of the Citizen. It says: "On the 18th of September, Nova Scotia entered upon a new phase of the Confederation contest. Up to that day, the responsibility of action rested with the people. They have nobly discharged their duty, and it now rests with the men whom they have elected to represent them in the Dominion and Local Parliaments to carry on the work to its legitimate conclusion—the object to be aimed at—is the repeal of the Act of Confederation; and failing that, to procure such modification of its terms as will permit Nova Scotia to exist under the new, complicated and burdensome system of government, so unfairly thrust upon her." So it seems the first object of the anti-Unionists is to repeal the Union, and failing that, to procure certain modifications of the system.

So far as the Union party is concerned, it is safe enough, and we think when the real grievances of Nova Scotia are brought before the consideration of the Commons, it will be found that they are merely imaginary. The leading statesmen of Nova Scotia, members of the Quebec Conference, they were parties to the Act of Confederation; they obtained all they asked for; they accepted the situation then, and we think the members elect for that Province will find it to the interest of the Province as well as of the country as a whole, to accept it now, and put forth their best efforts to work the system as it is. If there be found any defects they can be remedied by future legislation.

Tyendinaga Township Fair.

Saturday, the 5th inst., was the day appointed for the Annual Exhibition of the Tyendinaga Agricultural Association, and Shannonville was the place where it was to be held. But the late rains, and the fact that Saturday morning and forenoon, so that but few ventured beyond their own doors. There were some, however, more enterprising, or more venturesome, than their neighbors, who defied their appearance at the show ground, and brought with them such articles as they had prepared to exhibit. They started out with the idea that if the success of the show depended upon them, they were bound to do their part, and they did it. At one o'clock there was one small bull and two cows on the ground, a few sheep and pigs, and a solitary mare and colt. In one building there was quite a quantity of grain, some bags of potatoes, a few lots of corn, a basket of turnips, and a pair of ducks; and in another building there were several lots of butter and cheese, a few rolls of flannel, satinnet, cloth, &c., a couple of quilts, a counterpane, and half a dozen pairs of socks and stockings. Neither the President nor Vice-President of the Society being on the ground, the Directors present (four) decided by three to one to have the exhibition postponed. This decision did not satisfy all those who had brought articles to the show, and they demanded that the show should go on. After waiting until nearly three o'clock, a meeting of the members to the number of thirteen was held, and after appointing Mr. Carlton McCartney, one of the Directors, Chairman, decided nearly unanimously to go on with the exhibition. Judges were thereupon appointed, and in order to give every opportunity for parties to have their articles on the ground, the time for the judges to commence work was extended to four o'clock. At this time it had stopped raining, and some addition had been made to the stock of horses, cattle, and sheep, as well as in some other departments. But to show the meagreness of the show, it may be mentioned that of about four hundred articles entered for exhibition, only about one hundred and forty were on the ground.

LONDON, Oct. 4, midnight.—A message has just been received from Florence announcing that the Papal troops, holding a strong position near Bagnara, in Viterbo, were attacked by the Papal forces. A short sharp fight ensued, which resulted in the defeat of the attacking party, who were obliged hastily to withdraw. The losses in the engagement are not stated. The effect of this victory is very inspiring to the party of action.

A public meeting of the friends of Garibaldi was held at Trafalgar yesterday. Revolutionary speeches were made by many distinguished persons. Great crowds of people were present and the enthusiasm was unbounded.

Meetings of a like character are in contemplation in other cities of Italy.

Though a prisoner at Capra, General Garibaldi has issued a stirring address to his followers, which is published to day all over Europe. He recites at length the grievances of Italy and asks his countrymen to redress them now. He appeals strongly to their patriotism, and urges all his friends to march forth to Rome.

LONDON, October 6.—Despatches from Rome state that great agitation prevails in the City.

FLORENCE, Oct. 6.—Despatches are arriving here, and memorials are pouring in from all the cities of the Kingdom, demanding that Rome be made the capital of Italy. The press throughout the country are urging subscriptions of money for the Garibaldian Volunteers, who have been wounded in the fight which occurred at Viterbo.

American Despatches.

NEW YORK, October 6.—By means of the Gulf cable we have advices from Vera Cruz, Mexico, to the 2nd of October. The news is unimportant.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 6.—The disclosures relative to Mrs. Lincoln's wardrobe are causing considerable agitation among fashionable and political circles in Washington.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The Herald's Panama special says: "The French steamer Louisiana, from St. Thomas, brings intelligence that a fierce engagement took place on the 12th ult., before Fort Blasin, in the borders of St. Petersburg, but on Haytian soil. The Cacos Haytian revolutionists specially opposed to President Salnave, who were in possession of the Fort, hoisted a white flag on the Fort, and while Salnave's troops proceeded to take possession of the Fort, they were met and cut to pieces by the revolutionists. Some members of the first families of Port au Prince are among the fallen."

NEW YORK, October 7.—The Herald's Chicago telegram says the stories concerning Mrs. Lincoln's poverty, which appear in the New York papers, occasion much surprise here, as they are untrue. They are looked upon as an advertising dodge of the parties engaged in disposing of property which she does not wish to retain.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The gold reduction and assay works of John A. Wyckoff, at Greenpoint, burned last night. Loss $30,000.

NEW YORK, October 7.—The French steamer "Perrier," has arrived, making a passage from Boston in nine days and two hours, to be the fastest time on record.

Albany Lumber Market.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK ENDING OCT. 2.

There has been a falling off in the receipts of lumber owing to the break in the canal. The stock in market is ample of all kinds, excepting best ashlings, which are becoming scarce. The sales have been moderately active, with some large transactions for winter supply. Prices remain without change, as the advance made in the lumber and lake freights has been small up to this time. The shipments have been large, though some delay has been caused by low water in the river.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Insurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Power of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policyholders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums retained for Management
Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in the profits should insure at once.

The "Alabama" Claims.

As we have every reason to believe that the correspondence recently published under this heading is not only entirely fictitious, but calculated seriously to mislead the public on this now very important question, it is with much pleasure we place before our readers what we can guarantee to be accurate copies of all the letters that have passed, or may be expected to pass, between the two Governments in reference to the question under dispute. We need scarcely add that we have them from an unquestionable source.

LETTER I.
MR. SEWARD TO MR. ADAMS.
SIR,—I guess you'll just tickle up that darned old huss, the British Lion, diabolically. Slice it on thick about them ship fixings, and their screws, and advertise me about the beast, slick—I am, &c. W. SEWARD.

LETTER II.
LORD STANLEY TO MR. SEWARD.
SIR,—Mr. Adams has this day communicated to me the substance of a despatch, &c., &c.—I am, &c., "STANLEY."

LETTER III.
MR. SEWARD TO MR. ADAMS.
SIR,—Tell Stanley that to hand, but that Jonathan ain't dead smart to swallow corkscrews and such like logic slaked up in molasses. Lay it on about them Fenians and their gangs, and how the United States of America corked 'em up, as they was about to gallop down John Bull, the Queen, and barometer, like so many skinned hoisters.—Yours, &c. W. SEWARD.

LETTER IV.
LORD STANLEY TO MR. SEWARD.
SIR,—In my last despatch, I purposely abstained from making any observations, &c., &c.—I am, &c., "STANLEY."

LETTER V.
MR. SEWARD TO MR. ADAMS.
SIR,—Keep up the tickling. As much as he'll swallow—on and off—just to look friendly and fondle him, while you get a good ketch of his—I am, &c., &c. W. SEWARD.

LETTER VI.
LORD STANLEY TO MR. SEWARD.
SIR,—I very much regret that the explanations Her Majesty's Government have made, &c., &c.—I am, Sir, &c., "STANLEY."

LETTER VII.
MR. SEWARD TO MR. ADAMS.
SIR,—If the cusses won't stump out, hush with a snigger, but scowl! like, we'll whip 'em on to it. Always—ill—ill I advertise you further. Twist I and you, we mean it! The beast—I am, Sir, &c., &c. W. SEWARD.

LETTER VIII.
LORD STANLEY TO MR. SEWARD.
SIR,—After the very liberal offers Her Majesty's Government have made, they must decline, &c., &c.—I am, Sir, &c., "STANLEY."

LETTER IX.
MR. SEWARD TO MR. ADAMS.
SIR,—Skeddado! It's war. We've been deceived at it, and now we're going to whip that beast into apple shavings, and feed the rest of Europe with the same—I am, Sir, &c. W. SEWARD.—Tomahawk.

A tender-hearted father, wearing the peace against his three sons, thus concluded: "The only one of my children who showed me any real filial affection is my youngest son, Ichabod, for he never strikes me when I'm down."

The secretary of the Chamber of Commerce reports the amount of wheat in store at Milwaukee at 148,000 bushels, against 248,000 bushels last year. The city mills draw from the elevators during the past week, about 14,887 bushels. The shipments from Milwaukee since the opening of navigation to September 18th sum up as follows: To Buffalo, 1,290,740 bush; to Oswego, 738,537; to Cleveland, 188,329; to Toledo, 9,004; to Port Huron, 38,523; to Ogdensburg, 282,503; to Saginaw, 18,000; to Kingston, 208,801; to Montreal, 12,700; to Cape Vincent, 5,000; to St. Catherine, 43,745 bushels.

The oil region—A recent visitor of the oil region of Pennsylvania describes the decision which reigns in a once famous locality. Between Oil City and Meadville not one well is in operation. It is only a long line of rotting derricks and rusted boilers and engines. At Frackville, where the French creek empties into the Allegheny, they show with pride the great court house that they are building, the tall marble monument to the martyrs of the war, and the tumbling down farmhouse of the Evans family. Three years ago, $100,000 were offered to this family for their house and ground. The offer was refused, as too moderate, and the daughter of the house, in the flush of sudden wealth, scorned her native love, and cancelled her engagement. Now the estate, house, farm and all, will not bring $1,000, the daughter pines for single blessedness, and the family can only remember, in their present misery, their former hope.

FRANCIS OPINION OF THE POSITION OF ITALY
TOWARDS ROMAN NATIONAL INFLUENCE ON VICTOR EMANUEL'S POLICY.

(From the Paris Constitutionnel, Sept. 24.)

For a long time past Italy has offered the strange spectacle of a country in which, side by side with a regular, permanent, revolutionary faction, dared to wear orders, bring together partisans, proclaim aloud its contempt for all the rules of public law and international treaties—in a word, assume all the style and conduct of a sovereign power. The King's government had to become the king of this faction, and it was only allowed to look on as a passive spectator at the exploits projected by what people have accustomed themselves to call the party of action. Astonished Europe asked itself whether the Italian peninsula had conquered its liberty and independence only to fall into the most frightful anarchy. For every one was agreed upon one point—that the invasion of the Pontifical States would only be the first stage in the revolutionary march—What course will the Italian government take in the face of plans proclaimed so ostentatiously? Will it allow them to proceed, in order, in case of success, to profit by the conquests of democracy? Or will it wait until Garibaldi has commenced to execute his projects? Or, finally, will it endeavour to prevent a new Aspromonte? Such were the questions which presented themselves to the public mind in its native alarm. For ourselves, we never doubted that the course last mentioned would be the last chosen by M. Rattazzi, because it is the only one that is just, humane and incumbent on a government worthy of the name. The Ministerial declaration, by the clearness of its language, puts an end to all equivocation and to all false interpretations. It denounces the project of Garibaldi and his partisans as an attack upon the sacredness of treaties and it shows to the people the injury which these proceedings inflict upon the honor and prosperity of Italy. By this energetic declaration the Rattazzi Ministry has deserved well of its country.

(From the Paris Etendard, Sept. 24.)

Henceforward there will be no more doubt, and the Italian who may have believed, on the authority of the reactionary press, in a secret understanding between the ministry and the party of action, will now know that, before reaching Rome, the flag of Savoy must be attacked. The official declaration is clear, and leaves no room for doubt. If Garibaldi moves forward on his line of march, and, for the second time, the great Italian patriot will have to direct his arms against his own country. An energetic attitude of the Government is not without danger for the Cabinet which advises it, for the Italian people, for many years a prey to secret societies, have not yet altogether escaped from the influence of certain men and the dangerous words; but M. Rattazzi has proved, on three distinct occasions, that he can sacrifice his popularity to his patriotism. After Novara he signed the treaty of peace in spite of all the popular resistance; a peace which saved the House of Savoy and secured the future of Italy. After Solferino he consolidated the work accomplished by fulfilling the promises given; and then he resolutely confronted Garibaldi and arrested him in his culpable enterprise. And now, as at that period, it is possible that a Parliament, more anxious about its own re-election than careful of the interests of the country, may think it right to sacrifice the Minister to a certain popular sentimentality. But M. Rattazzi will have acted well, and his political life will be that of a good citizen.

(From the Paris Presse, Sept. 24.)

This declaration vindicates for the Government the prerogatives which were ignored; it reminds Garibaldi that no one has the right to place himself above the law, and it specifies, with a clearness not to be contested, the obligations which the Convention of the 15th September has imposed upon Italy. The language of the Florence Cabinet leaves nothing to desire, if it be as sincere as it is distinct. The event will show whether M. Rattazzi means all that he says, and whether he has strength necessary to accomplish what he desires. We have no occasion to congratulate a Government upon negotiating and holding out to its engagements. Experience has proved, indeed, that the interests of Government are in harmony with their honor, and that good faith is a power as well as a duty.

(From the Paris Moniteur (clerical organ) Sept. 24.)

Respect for sworn faith, public tranquillity and the interest of the State credit, are the motives put forward by M. Rattazzi, and which are all derived from political considerations. As to the rights of the Church and of Papacy, there is no mention whatever of them in the document which is not astonished at the omission. We can remark the words, "the glorious name of Rome," which seem to be introduced to attenuate the fault of the Garibaldians, as if the Minister felt that such of his excuses the measures which he is obliged by circumstances to adopt. Rome is thus in safety and guaranteed for the moment. Are all alarms, therefore, henceforth to cease? It would be a mistake to believe so. The Cabinet of Florence is giving way to a foreign pressure. On the day when the Italian Government shall think itself able to interpret the proclamation to its own advantage and free itself from its obligations, who will prevent it? The situation is, therefore, still precarious, and Providence remains charged with the safety of the temporal Papacy. We repeat, for the present moment, that the Rattazzi Ministry has disappeared. If M. Rattazzi be sincere, Rome and its diminished territory are as well preserved from an attack from without or from a rising from within as if they were defended by 100,000 men. Why that security? Because Florence has spoken, and she has done so because Paris has advised her. Does any one believe that Gen. Manroba came to Paris for nothing?

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, OCT. 10.

FROM OTTAWA.

(By Special Telegraph to the Daily Intelligencer.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 10, 1867.

Lord Monck, with his family and suite, arrived by steamer last evening. He was received at the landing by members of the Privy Council and a guard of honor of the Rifle Brigade. A large concourse of citizens assembled on the heights and around the wharf and heartily cheered the royal party.

DR. WALDRON.—The Grand Jury in the case of the Queen against Dr. Waldron, for manslaughter, after investigating the case, returned "No Bill." He was consequently discharged.

INQUEST.—On Wednesday, the 9th inst., an inquest was held on the body of a shoemaker named Wm. Brown, a stranger in the place, and about fifty years of age, by Coroner John P. Macdonald. Deceased went into Charles McCarty's, Front street, on Sunday morning, and after sitting for a few moments fell over and never spoke afterwards. A post-mortem was held by Dr. Holden and Dr. P. T. Donnelly, who found that deceased died from effects of whiskey—Verdict, death from excessive use of alcoholic liquors.

Town Council.

WEDNESDAY, Oct. 9th.

PRESENT.—His Honor the Mayor, and Messrs. Diamond, Sutherland, Brown, McIntosh, Watters, Tannahill, Holden, and Henderson.

It being after eight o'clock before a quorum was present, Mr. Brown called the Mayor's attention to the fact that a member of the Council who was present had left and as there was not a quorum together until some time after eight, according to the Rules of the Council, the proceedings would, to say the least, be irregular, and if the person who had been present chose to object to what might be done he could upset the proceedings. He had no wish to obstruct the proceedings, but the Council, but as there was no one of importance before them, he thought best, under the circumstances, not to go on with the regular business.

The Mayor coincided with Mr. Brown and ruled that the meeting would be irregular. A free and easy discussion took place upon points of order, which was conducted with the most perfect good humor, and which lasted half an hour or more. It transpired during the discussion, that the Solicitor, H. Henderson, Esq., had prepared the writings respecting the extension of the Island up to the water, and the parties concerned were coming up to morrow. It would be desirable to have the agreement adopted by the council. It was then mutually agreed that the necessary business be before the Council.

The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Mr. Holden asked to have a petition of John Kerr, which had been mislaid, to be considered as before the Council, which was granted.

The agreement between the Town and H. B. Rathburn & Son, respecting the extension of the Island was then read, and on motion of Mr. Tannahill, seconded by Mr. Holden, adopted, and the Mayor was authorized to sign the same and attach the Seal of the Corporation thereto. On this motion Mr. Watson rose to say.

Mr. Diamond gave notice that at the next regular meeting of the council he would move to appoint a committee to revise the By-Laws, and to amend By-Law No. 79, respecting the Rules of the Council.

Mr. Sutherland introduced a By-Law, of which he had given notice, respecting Taverns, which was read a first time and as there was no objection he would not urge its further consideration until the next meeting.

Mr. Diamond asked permission to introduce a By-Law to amend By-Law 132, respecting the use of blasphemous and obscene language. An appeal to the Quarter Sessions against a decision of the Police Magistrate was not sustained on account of the wording of the By-Law, which he desired to amend. Leave was granted and the By-Law was read a first time.

Mr. Sutherland handed to the Council the sum of $75, which had been given to him by Mr. Kennedy, the Scottish Vocalist, for the poor of the Town.

The Council then adjourned.

The Assizes.

CONTINUED.

ALEX. MOFFAT vs. BENJAMIN BOWE.—This action was brought for breach of covenant in a lease. Defendant leased a lot in the Town of Belleville to plaintiff for twenty-one years, without covenant to terminate the lease any sooner unless Plaintiff should fail to rent his covenants. Defendant had promised, said lot to one Bradford, who abandoned the lot and went away to the States without relinquishing the lease he held. Defendant took possession and gave Plaintiff Plaintiff's name, a notice to recover damages for being ousted before the termination of his lease. Mr. Jellett addressed the Jury on the behalf of the Plaintiff, and called on his first witness.

DAVID BRADFORD, sworn—I had a lease from Defendant of a lot in Town. I went to the States and left my daughter in possession; when I returned I found one Ralph in possession; my lease was for twenty years, ten years yet unexpired. I could not get another house for the same rent; I was to pay $2.50 a month; I now pay $5 for the house I occupy, which I do not consider as good as Bradford's. I paid $100 a year for Defendant's lot, with good security for the rent.

Cross-Examined—I now live on Hotel-St. Belleville premises are in West Belleville, in what is called the Grove. When I rented it ten years ago there was a small house on the lot. I considered $300 a year a fair rent for the land; it was worth $100 a house much. I built a kitchen, grocery, and stable on the premises; I do not know who let Ralph into the premises. I heard my lease was for twenty-one years, but I did not know of $75 a year for the remainder of my lease. I do not know that Defendant ever told me he knew my lease.

JOHN D. McKAY, sworn.—Have lived in Belleville for some time and have known Bradford for some years; pass them every day several times; think it a good stand—a business might be done there. $300 a year is a fair rent for the land; it was worth $100 a house much. I built a kitchen, grocery, and stable on the premises; I do not know who let Ralph into the premises. I heard my lease was for twenty-one years, but I did not know of $75 a year for the remainder of my lease. I do not know that Defendant ever told me he knew my lease.

Cross-Examined—I have been in the house several times during last year. I have rented property on both sides of the river, and have a good idea of the value of property in the Town.

G. C. Chapin, who was sworn, thought that $75 a year would be a fair rent for the premises.

JOHN MCCREARY, baker, who knew the premises, said that for his business they would be worth $100 a year.

HENRY J. HAMPTON proved that plaintiff had put on improvements to the amount of $20.

MARGARET REEVES proved that plaintiff had built a fence, paved all the rooms, put up a board partition, put in outside doors, plastered some of the rooms, made other improvements, but did not know what water thrown on Smith's wheel; if there were no artificial obstructions there would be no water on Smith's wheel; I have seen the water on Smith's wheel. The boards seem to be fastened by strong wooden pins.

Cross-examined by Mr. WALLBRIDGE.—Without slat boards, with the ordinary flow of water, if the slide is open, the water would run over the dam; the river below plaintiff's mill dam is 90 feet; there is what is called a back channel around the north-west corner of Smith's mill, below the dam; there would be no water on Smith's wheel; the width of the river at the narrows at the old still-house is about 60 feet; this is about 15 chains below the plaintiff's line; Smith's mill is a slide below the dam; the natural obstructions in the river are the Hog's Back, the narrows in the river and the island; in the ordinary flow of water in the Spring, supposing Wallbridge's dam to be out of the way the wheel might be somewhat obstructed; there might be a few feet of water on Smith's wheel; there was a back water when I was there the other day, because there was not much water in the river; the defendant would be obliged to lower his dam about eleven inches in order to come to the bottom of plaintiff's dam; the water below the plaintiff's line to his mill, is bold and rocky on the south side.

Cross-examined by Mr. BELL.—The dam is differently constructed to what it was in 1848; parts of the dam are lower than they were; have noticed when the water was level with the dam that the levels he had made were correct; there are times when Smith's wheel would not be obstructed if Wallbridge's dam was not there.

County Council.

SECOND DAY—AFTERNOON.

WEDNESDAY, October 9th.

Council met at 2 o'clock.

PRESENT.—His Honor the Warden, Messrs. (Gibbous, Tunney, Wood, Appleby, Frizzell, Anderson, Armstrong, Rose, Moon, Eno, Hamilton, Conley, Walker, Norman, Daly, Graham.)

The Minutes were read and approved. The Warden named Messrs. Graham, Appleby, and Wood, as a Committee to report upon the petition of Smith Bartlett, Junior, P. M.

The Warden read a communication from the Principal Inspector on the matter of privies to the gaol.

Moved by Mr. Hamilton, and seconded by Mr. Walker, that the County Surveyor be instructed to examine the bridges on the County road in March lower than they were in 1848; and to report thereon to the next meeting of the Council.

Moved by Mr. Frizzell, and seconded by Mr. Appleby, that Mr. Richard L. Laxer be and is hereby appointed to erect and establish a road across lot 31, in the south range of the 3rd concession of Tyndenna. Carried.

The Warden read a communication from the County Surveyor, asking for an increase of salary to the amount of $100 on account of travelling expenses.

Mr. Wood moved that the Treasurer be requested to call on Messrs. Northcott & Co., the sum of $1,000 for extra work and loss on cost of tract for gaol.

Mr. Wood moved that the Treasurer be requested to call on Messrs. Northcott & Co., the sum of $1,000 for extra work and loss on cost of tract for gaol.

Mr. Wood moved that the Treasurer be requested to call on Messrs. Northcott & Co., the sum of $1,000 for extra work and loss on cost of tract for gaol.

A conversation took place on the matter of the debt due the County by the minor municipalities. Mr. Frizzell suggested that the Warden should take the opinion of a Chancery lawyer on the matter of the Thurlow case of 1865.

Mr. Daly thought the people of Thurlow were anxious to have the matter settled, but they would not bear out their taxes in paying the whole amount of it.

Mr. Wood thought the opinion of Mr. Daly was applicable to that of some of the minor municipalities. He was inclined to have the matter tested by the people of the Thurlow township, and the inhabitants of other townships blamed him for not enforcing payment. The point was whether the Council has the power to compel the minor municipalities to pay their debts when they refuse to do so, or not. He did not single out Thurlow, but because Thurlow was the only municipality which refused to pay.

Mr. Frizzell proposed to bring the matter to arbitration.

Mr. Graham was anxious to avoid fooling away money in going to law.

The Warden said his communications with the County Council were very unsatisfactory, as they would not say what they would do.

Mr. Tunney said steps must be taken to compel payment, as there were $10,000 due this day, and no cash in hand to meet them, which he too had, when there were $20,000 due from the municipalities.

The Warden said the Council must take some steps to put the Treasurer in funds.

A communication from the County Treasurer on this matter was referred to the committee on Ways and Means.

A discussion took place on the question, whether the minor municipalities ought to levy the amount named by the clerk, or the amount of rate established by the Council.

Mr. Graham said the Council might make use of the various sinking funds in making their estimates.

Mr. Wood said the Council had no control over the sinking funds, but was obliged by law to invest them, the trustees being the Warden, the Treasurer, and the Judge of the County.

Committee on Ways and Means resumed. Hon. Mr. Flint came in.

Committee rose and reported. Moved by Mr. Eno, seconded by Mr. Walker, that this Council is not satisfied with the large amount charged for postage by the Local Superintendents, and that no such accounts be allowed in future.

Mr. Graham presented a petition from some of the inhabitants of Sidney and Thurlow in the third and fourth concessions.

Referred to the Committee of the whole. On Roads and Bridges.

The Warden informed what was to be done about the sum of $10,000 due the County. The Council then adjourned till Thursday morning at 10 o'clock.

LONDON, October 9.—Manifestations of ill-feeling on the part of the Irish in the north of England have created much alarm. The inhabitants believe that the Fenians are conspiring an outbreak in that part of the country. Troops have been dispatched by rail-road to assist the civil authorities there, should any disturbance occur.

DUBLIN, Oct. 9, evening.—The uneasiness caused by the rumors of the revival of the Fenian conspiracy still continues, and is increasing. Extraordinary precautions have been taken by the military and police authorities throughout the island.

FRENCH, Oct. 9.—A report is in circulation that Menotti, the son of Garibaldi, had been arrested by the Italian Government. When last heard of, Menotti (Garibaldi) was actively engaged in carrying out his father's plans for the invasion of the Roman territory. With these plans he was well acquainted, full confidence having been reposed in him by the general. His arrest will be a severe blow to his followers, and the absence of Garibaldi, it deprives them of their most capable leader.

MUNICH, Oct. 9.—At the sitting of the Bavarian Diet yesterday Prince Hohenlohe, the chief Minister of the Cabinet, made a speech in which he discussed the question of German unity and indicated the position of the Government in relation to the other States of Germany. He declared that the true policy of Bavaria was to seek union with the North German States under the presidency of the King of Prussia, and at the same time to take steps for the establishment of a firm and enduring alliance with the Empire of Austria. Should this alliance be carried into effect, the unity of the whole fatherland would be completed, the balance of power between Austria and Prussia preserved, and the peace of Europe additionally guaranteed.

and the Council raised them to $1,050,000 and they raised the same amount on the dollar as the other townships on their own assessment.

The Warden asked by whom they were assessed.

Mr. Farley answered by their own assessment.

The Warden asked if it was a fair assessment.

Mr. Farley allowed that it was a low assessment.

Mr. Wood said the only ground for Thurlow's refusal was that the Council failed to pass a By-Law to make the equalization.

Mr. Daly stated that he had never spoken of the equalization of 1865, but the arrangement of 1866.

Mr. Frizzell asked when this action was commenced against the town.

Mr. Daly said in 1866, and went on to explain that the Council estimated that a certain sum would cover all expenses, but when the Bill was received from the Clerk it exceeded the amount estimated by some $1,300.

Mr. Wilcox, the then Reeve, thought it unjust, and refused to pay it. The lecture of the Reeve of Elzevir was a good moral lecture, but did not apply to him. He had never in his own business found it necessary to creep out at a gimlet hole, and did not wish to do it in country matters.

When a resolution was brought forward that the balances of 1865 should be paid in 1866, he, Mr. Daly, voted for the motion, and certainly did not repudiate.

Mr. Wood rose to explain that Mr. Daly did not repudiate, but would make no arrangement.

Mr. Daly went on to say that the moment they were sued the matter of arrangement was put an end to. The Council could not expect them to come and offer compromises, when they thought they had a legal right to refuse. They would wait the decision of the court.

Mr. Frizzell said the Council ordered the Warden to take steps to collect from Thurlow.

Mr. Farley denied this, and an animated conversation ensued between Messrs. Farley, Wood, and Frizzell, on this point.

Mr. Graham said the difficulty originated in 1865, when the Council estimated a sum, which the Clerk and Treasurer, on making out the accounts, found too small, and directed a levy on the correct amount. Thurlow had levied the amount according to the estimates, and the then Reeve thought it lawful. Mr. Graham thought it desirable to compromise, as it might avoid going to law, and not to squander the money of the people to put it in some lawyer's pocket.

Mr. Daly said before the matter went out as a repudiation on the part of Thurlow, he wished it to be recollected that they were sued in June 1866, for the balance of 1865, when other townships were two or three years behind.

Mr. Flint said the reason for pitching upon Thurlow was, that the Council had had previous difficulties with Thurlow, as to the payment of their taxes. He complained that the representatives of Thurlow had misused the Council with pretended arrangements since 1866, and had never said that they did not owe, and would not pay, till day, when they come out flat-footed and repudiate.

Mr. Farley contended that it was not the representatives of Thurlow who broke faith, but the other members of the Council who did so. They had paid all they had been assessed for.

The Warden said, on their own assessment, which was not legal.

Mr. Flint moved an adjournment till 2 o'clock.

Mr. Farley would not be interrupted while speaking.

The Warden read the motion for adjournment in order.

The Council then adjourned till 3 o'clock p. m.

Present: Warden and Councilors as before.

The minutes were read and affirmed.

Mr. Flint moved, that the directors of Thurlow send a better Reeve to the Council next year.

Mr. Farley. "I second that motion."

The Warden read a communication from the Reeve of Belmont, asking aid to repair the road from Mamora Village to the Belmont line.

Moved by Mr. Appleby, seconded by Mr. Frizzell, that the Warden and the Treasurer be empowered to borrow the sum of $10,000 to meet the requirements of the County till the taxes of the year are collected.

Moved by Mr. Frizzell, seconded by Mr. Appleby.

That the Warden be authorized to take steps to have an Act of Parliament passed to legalize the equalization of the year 1865.

Mr. Farley demanded the yeas and nays.

Yeas—Tumulty, Wood, Norman, Hamilton, Flint, Conlin, Walker, Moon, Appleby, Frizzell, Rose, Armstrong, Anderson.—18.

Nays—Farley, Daly, Orr.—8.

Moved by Mr. Tumulty, seconded by Mr. Norman.

That the Council go into committee of the whole on By-Laws—Carried.

Mr. Graham in the chair.

The committee rose and reported the second reading of a By-Law to repeal By-Law 213 and to re-establish the County Road through the Village of Madoc, on the line formerly travelled.

The third reading of the said By-Law was laid over to the first meeting of the Council of 1866.

The Council then adjourned.

The Assizes.

THIRD DAY.

have made an examination of the river and dam at Madoc, and compared the figures with my own; I made a difference of about two inches, and am satisfied that Mr. Harlet's measurements are correct within about an inch; agree with the statement made in the memorandum made by Harlet; the lowest part of the dam throws water back on Smith's wheel, and obstructs the operation of the mill; in extraordinary freshets without the dam there might be water on Smith's mill; the piers above Walbridge's dam narrow the flow of water and obstructs the flow; there are 60 feet of piers; at this point the width of the river is 125 feet; the channel is deeper at the narrows, where the river is 65 feet wide, than it is at the piers.

SAMUEL SMITH, sworn.—Am a brother of the plaintiff; have helped to take levels in the year 1837; saw mill first erected in 1815; the grist mill was put up in 1831 and 1832; the dam at Walbridge's was first put up in 1834; when we made the level we found the dam to be seven feet high, and the top of the dam was five feet high; when our wheels were standing still and would not work, the dam below gave way, and the effect of it was to raise the water; this was in the spring of 1837, and the dam was put up again; I think that same season; have seen at several times the water level; the dam was built with a free lower dam were opened the gates at the mill; I think the present dam is about the same height as it was in Penn's time, or at least a foot higher; I measured it in Penn's time, and found the dam about seven feet high; eleven years ago the wheel was affected about the same as it is now.

Cross-Examined by Mr. Walbridge.—There was no mill at Defendant's place in 1816. The first saw mill had fluted wheels, and the first grist mill had fluted wheels; fluted wheels are generally set so as to be above the water.

FIRE AND LIFE

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Insurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds.
One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Board of Directors to Ten per Cent of the Net Life Income. This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is specially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management
must largely influence Profits
and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1888, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

Break up of Mormonism

The recent disturbance among the Salt Lake Mormons, are regarded in England, as whence many Mormons have come, as a salutary indication of a general break in Brigham Young's "Dynasty." The Mail Gazette, after arguing that the Mormon system contains the seeds of its own dissolution, affirms that the "same generation which has seen the growth of the most startling religious imposture of modern days is about to witness its collapse and utter decay."

"The report which reach us of the internal dissensions of the chief men in the community, and of the rebellion of sundry quiet spirits against the authority of the prophet are not only full of details, but they are so exactly what might be looked for in the present stage of Mormonite history that we should have been surprised if they had been otherwise."

we were suddenly to learn that a formidable schism had actually taken place, and was rending in twain the most highly displined body of people in the whole western world. That such a schism, ending in total disruption of the whole Mormonite body, is sooner or later a practical certainty, in, in truth, hardly be doubted by any reasonable person who will take the trouble to compare the phenomena and position of ism with the history of two religious communities to which it bears the most striking resemblance—that is, Judaism and Mohammedanism—to the former of which, indeed, it appeals as supplying a precedent for its most characteristic practice.

The reports of difficulties at Salt Lake City will doubtless place a check upon European emigration thither.

Tragedy at Sydney, Australia.

On the 20th of August a fearful catastrophe occurred at Sydney Heads. The ship "Strathdon," from London, wanted a pilot, and pilot Robinson went off to board her in his pilot boat, with four hands. A heavy ale was blowing from the south-east, and in getting clear of the land the boat was at once capsized by a heavy sea. Mr. Robert Green, brother of the champion sculler, rushed to his assistance, and got the five men into his boat. Pilots Reeder, Shank and Jenkins put off in their boats to the rescue; but the boat of the latter was the only one that lived in the fearful sea run ning. Jenkins got ten into his boat, and to others held on to her sides and were rowed into smooth water. Pilots Robin on and Reeder and five of their crews were rowned. Mr. Green bravely declined to deprive another man of a chance of going into Jenkin's boat, offering rather to stick to the wreck of his own until the life-boat arrived; but ere the latter could reach him the heroic fellow was driven towards the towering cliffs of North Head, and as the boat, bottom up, reached the breakers, he as seen standing on her keel, waving his at flag. An instant more the man had disappeared and fragments of timber which had formed a boat were crashing to splinters against the rocks. None of the bodies were ever found. The shiping is port and the public buildings are flying their flags at half-mast ever since this occurrence, which has cast a gloom over the city.

THE RODMAN GUN.—The capabilities of the Rodman 15-inch American gun have been tested at Shoeburyness in the presence of the Ordnance Select Committee. The 9-pounder was fired with 100lbs. of American cannon powder against the 8-inch get with the Warrior backing. In two stances it passed completely through at ange of 70 yards; but it is considered tain that our 8-inch plates have nothing four from the gun at any distance at such torts and ships are likely to engage. The English 9-inch gun, fired obliquely at the same target, gave some excellent results.

COLLISION.—The steamer Rochester on her last trip from Belleville to Oswego, came in collision with a schooner (name unknown) about twenty miles this side of the "Ducks." The boom of the schooner was carried away, but it being night the extent of the damage was not ascertained. The Rochester was forced to return to Belleville, where she arrived this forenoon in a disabled condition. The wheel house and some other portions of the steamer received considerable injury. She will not resume her trips until repaired.

Meeting of the Medical Convention.

The Medical Convention met at Quebec on the morning of the 9th inst., delegates from all parts of the Dominion attending. Dr. Russell, of the Quebec Medical Society was appointed chairman. A resolution for forming a Canadian Medical Association for the advancement of medical science was unanimously adopted.

The following are elected officers of the association.

PRESIDENT.—Hon. Dr. Tupper, C.E.

VICE-PRESIDENTS.—For the Province of Quebec, Dr. Pelletier, Montreal; for Ontario, Dr. Hodder, Toronto; for Nova Scotia, Dr. Black, Halifax; for New Brunswick, Baron L. Botsford, St. John.

SECRETARIES.—For the Province of Quebec, Dr. Hingston, Montreal; for Ontario, Dr. Canfield; for Nova Scotia, Dr. DeWolfe; for New Brunswick, Dr. Harding.

TREASURER.—Dr. Russell, Quebec.

GENERAL SECRETARY.—Dr. Bellevue.

The proceedings were conducted very harmoniously. Two hundred delegates were present.

The promenade concert given in honor of the delegates came off on Wednesday, and was a brilliant success.

The Medical Association resumed their deliberations on Thursday morning, at 9; the President in the chair. A large number of important Committees were appointed to form a Constitution and By-Laws, and carry out the objects of the Convention; to report at the next meeting which is to take place at Montreal in September next.

In the afternoon the members of the Association were entertained at the Beauport Asylum in a most sumptuous manner. Toasts were drunk and responded to in brilliant speeches. The President, Dr. Tupper, was most happy in his remarks.

A Sell.

The literary community of Belleville was badly sold yesterday evening. For some time past flaming placards were to be seen on the walls announcing that Geo. Vandenhoff, Jr., the celebrated elocutionist, would give the people of Belleville a night, and the programmes freely distributed and advertised in the papers promised a rare and rich treat. Few stopped to enquire who this Vandenhoff was, whether he was the great original, or his nephew upon whose shoulders the mantle of the elder had fallen. He was a Vandenhoff, and the name was sufficient to draw a house. It was a dark, dismal evening; it had been raining hard all day, and threatened to rain again as night came on. But this was no damper to the enthusiasm of the admirers of Vandenhoff. They flocked to the hall in large numbers; they came from all parts of the Town, even from its remotest limits. They filled the hall and, waited anxiously to drink in the eloquence which was to come from the renowned and gifted George Vandenhoff, Jr. But 8 o'clock came and there was no Vandenhoff; a quarter past eight and no Vandenhoff; half past eight and no Vandenhoff. The ticket agent in the meantime had collected a nice pile of quarters and half dollars showed signs of great uneasiness, and became fidgety; and significant shrugs and nods were visible in the crowd, which speedily changed to something still more significant in the shape of rough old sawn boards. To the question of the whereabouts of Vandenhoff, he said he was at his hotel and he expected him every moment; it was very strange he did not come. Finally he wanted to be at the tavern over the way, but this request of the crowd, the greater part of whom began to "smell a rat," were not disposed to grant, and he was very politely advised to return into the ticket office and disgorge. Discretion was the better part of valor, and he quietly submitted to the fate which appeared to be against him. Having settled one or two bills out of the receipts, he told the victims he would pay out all he had, and those were fortunate who were first at the wicket, for the funds soon became short, and he could not satisfy the whole. Threats of lynching, ducking, riding on a rail, &c., were freely indulged in, but still the crowd kept their good humor, and after an hour or so he was allowed to depart. A warrant was in the meantime got out for him, for obtaining money under false pretences, and he was taken before the Police Magistrate, who committed him until this forenoon for examination. When he was brought up this morning, it was discovered that there was an informality in the warrant. The information was amended, and after taking the evidence of one or two witnesses, the further investigation of the case was postponed until Monday.

North Hastings Fair and Cattle Show.

On Wednesday, the 9th inst., the annual Fair and Cattle Show for the North Riding of the county of Hastings, was held at the Town Hall, Huntingdon. The weather was propitious and the turnout fair. Upon the whole, the Fair was creditable, though nothing in comparison to what it should have been, for a large and wealthy agricultural county like North Hastings. The truth is these fairs instead of representing the whole Riding are too often confined to exhibitors from the Township in which they are held, and those immediately adjoining, hence the limited number of articles on exhibition every year. The present year is not an exception, nor is North Hastings. Those in the South are, taking everything into consideration, more defective than its less pretentious neighbors.

Blood cattle with a pedigree, it will be seen by the Premium List, were not represented. The grades, comprising a cross between a Durham and Galway, with a few natives, comprised the exhibition in this department, of which there were some fine specimens; but in order to keep them up it will be necessary to introduce new blood.

The show of Horses was very good, though thought not to be so extensive as that of last year. There were, however, a number of noble animals exhibited, and some young stock which bid fair to rival any in the County. We are glad to see that our farmers are paying attention to the breed of their horses, and that the different classes are becoming more definitely defined.

In Sheep, the show was not large though there were specimens, which show the interest taken in procuring the best of stock, and one or two which would have compared with those of our best breeders in the South. Too much attention cannot be paid to this branch by our agriculturists. The wool trade is assuming an importance which will justify more attention, and a greater outlay of capital in procuring the best breeds of sheep, than has hitherto been given to it.

Of Swine we can say little, the competition being so limited. There were, however, a couple of specimens of the large breed, port Yorkshire, which would have carried off prizes, had they been in Kingston at the late Provincial Fair.

The exhibition in the Domestic Manufacture Department was a credit to the County, and exceeded in number and variety, the Fair in Belleville. We shall not attempt to particularize, but can safely say that almost every article in this Department was of a superior quality.

The Fine Arts was not well represented. Still there were a few specimens, showing that while the more substantial and useful receive the most attention, the ornamental is not forgotten.

There were some very fine varieties of Summer, Fall and Winter Apples, and Pears. A little more attention to the culture of these fruits would pay well.

The Dairy was better represented than upon former occasions in North Hastings, and some excellent samples of Butter shown. The Cheese shown was far superior to that on show last year, showing great improvement in the manufacture of this article of food. A capital specimen from the Tweed Factory was also on exhibition. In the connection we may mention that the importance of this branch of trade has introduced the people in the vicinity of the Town Hall, Huntingdon, to commence the erection of a Cheese Factory adjoining the Town Hall, three stories high, which will be ready by next spring.

The show of grain was good in every respect, as was also that of roots. The latter, considering the season, were remarkably fine, far exceeding those shown at the South Hastings Fair.

We were pleased to see that our Agriculturists are introducing more extensively labor saving machines. The show in this respect was decidedly in advance of former years. There was a new portable Cider Mill, or Wine press, imported by Mr. Thomas Graham, deserving of special mention. It is adapted to almost every purpose in extracting juice from Apples or Rhubarb. Mr. Graham has this year made, with this press, over 400 gallons of Rhubarb wine, and can manufacture 200 gallons of cider per day with it. It is a hand power.

The handwork of the delicate fingers of the fair portion of the Riding was well represented in the Fancy work department. There were many exhibitions of skill and taste seldom surpassed.

The Judges having completed their labor the Secretary read out the names of the successful competitors as follows:

QUEEN INSURANCE COMPANY.

APITAL, $10,000,000.

FIRE and LIFE.

LIFE DEPARTMENT.

THE principles on which this Company is founded, contain all the elements required to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assureds.

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement to Ten per Cent of the Net Life Income.

This most important restriction shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is especially called to this point, as the proportion of premiums expended for Management Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in 1898, and all those who wish to participate in the profits should insure at once.

Punch on the Eschians

Punch has long satirized the dress.

Now reason in a measure reigns O'er female dress; some girls with feet and ankles gifted, and with brains Weasels.

The wearer thus her brains doth show,
Exhibits feet and ankles too;
Without her dress held up, as though
On purpose to afford the view.

Now you can see a form of grace,
Whose outlines were before concealed;
Draped simply, and, besides the face,
With judgment other charms revealed.
Old times return, emotions old Back with

The dull blood feels, in winter's cold,
As though revisited by spring.

Our very youth, serene through smoke
And self-sufficient as are they,
With some sensation may be shamed

Ye fair ones, blest with minds and souls,
Effect just one amendment more;
Discard those chignons from your polls,
And you'll be objects to adore!

Miscellaneous Items.
THE SILVER QUESTION.—The Woodstock Sentinel has it from good authority that the government intends, at its first session, to introduce a measure to reduce foreign silver, namely, American 50c. to 40c, 20c to 10c, and so on, at the same rate, for all other denominations of foreign silver.

An American backwoods clergyman has been alluded to an anchor in his discourse. He described its use in the following ludicrous manner:—"An anchor is a large iron instrument that sailors carry to sea with them, and when a storm arrives they take it

A traveller was boasting of the luxury of arriving at night after a hard day's journey to partake of the enjoyment of a good dinner.

"Sir, what is the peculiar luxury of a leg?" "Sir, to conceive its luxury, you must find that it is the only leg that left, and that you have no right to it."

A DEFEATED CANDIDATE IN LUCK.—The Guelph Mercury says: "On Monday evening, 30th ult., over three hundred of the friends of Mr. Smith, the defeated candidate for the representation of Peel in Local Legislature, met and presented the gentleman with one hundred and seven and five dollars in receipted election account and a purse containing one hundred and fifty dollars, making a total sum of the hundred and twenty five dollars.

hundred and twenty-five dollars. The object of the presentation was to reimburse Mr. Smith, the defeated candidate, for necessary election expenses, which, although a highly laudable act, is the first on record.

A TYPO ON FENIANISM.—A typo recently delivered the following essay before the printer's literary society: "The--- of t--- funny-guns are a queer set of fellows--- they are 's which shineth in darkness. N to this, the engineer has attached to the locomotive two very heavy fly wheels. Going down hill they act as a brake, and the force they gather will carry the train up the next hill.

A RAILWAY NOVELTY.—A Russian engineer exhibits a railway invention. The object is to save the power gained in descending, by recovering it in the friction of the brakes, when ascending.

an equal rise, less the friction. Then a model train, loaded with water, runs down a sharp incline, the water runs off, and the force of the fly-wheel carries the train back to the place of starting. In this way, a short line taking coal down an incline company is to take place in London for the purpose of considering and approving an agreement between the Grand Trunk Railway Company of Canada and the Great Western Railway of Canada." Herapath

GRAND TRUNK, AND GREAT WESTERN RAILWAY.—A meeting of the Grand Trunk

Railway Journal briefly refers to the position of the two great Canadian railway companies and expresses the opinion that the two companies cannot do better than come to some understanding which will tend to save working expenses and prevent con-tant and useless competition. Herepath says very truly:—"Railway competition in Canada is absurd. The country is not rich enough for it. The best railway property in that country is the Great Western."

Canada, which, for a Canadian, is particularly good, but even the Great Western of Canada shares are not at a premium."

Hemizing.

Who that regularly reads the newspaper has not been struck with those many named columns into which the news of all the world is compressed? Various styled in various newspapers, they aim to grasp and localize the news of the world in a brief, body, everywhere, and to present it in as small and tellingspace as possible. They carry the reader in a breath from India to the pole, and hurry him along from sentence to sentence, to conduct him in a trice to the antipodes of thought. The reader never thinks, as his eyes take their rapid journey down the column of the news, the pains, the taste, the skill, the patience, necessary to reduce those items to attractive shape. The scissors and the paste do a good deal of the work it is true; but the brain helps more than it is given credit for. Fancy and imagination and judgment have to play their part. The scissors do not selectively at a "good" item, and the brains step in and decide whether its publication would be judicious. Is the item old? Has it ever appeared before? Is it nice and fresh, and crisp and sparkling? What position shall it hold with regard to the other items? Has another one on the subject been clipped out? Might not the phraseology be changed, so as to bestow point and pith? Could a piquant joke be tagged? Again, when the work of selection is done, and the items—personal, miscellaneous, religious, theatrical, and what not—are all arranged in order, will they make a glittering and symmetric whole, over which the eye will delight to rove, like a bird from flower to flower? All these things have to be considered in attending to the "item" department of the newspaper. The tastes of every possible reader must be anticipated. Since it takes all sorts of people to make a world—a trism of profounder meaning than is generally appreciated—it takes all sorts of items to make a newspaper. The newspaper for the time is the world, and the items are the people in it, filling the columns with life and variety, furnishing infinite material for thought, and bringing close beside one another all the characters and events in this teeming world. 156m-WH

In Newport, Ky., last week, a man who had been absent with his family for the season, hired a boy for $3 to clear his cistern (which he wished to repair) of water, with which it was half full. The boy informed the neighbors that they could have some water there, and because of the drought this was welcome intelligence to said neighbors. In the afternoon the boy had pumped the cistern dry, the boy sitting on a fence looking the job—American paper. 156m-WH

REFORM DEMONSTRATIONS.—The Toronto Globe says: The number of Reform demonstrations about to take place is surprising—especially in the absence of all political excitement. 156m-WH

Telegraph replies that it is surprising, but may be accounted for in a variety of ways. 156m-WH

1. On the same principle as that on which the boy acts, who after being well caned fills the air with dissonant howls over the painful inflictions of his master. 156m-WH

2. On the principle that to take away the strings of mortification they intend to eat and drink themselves into a state of stupidity. 156m-WH

3. On the principle of the whipped braggart, who to cover his defeat, becomes more than usually demonstrative in wordy valor. 156m-WH

The ingenuity of England and France has recently fabricated a small state scientific apparatus, which are sold at wonderfully cheap prices, and should replace the hobby horses, carts, dirt pipes and dolls which the present grown up generation were so lovingly familiar with in their salad days. 156m-WH

"Wanted" to magnify several thousand times, is sold in London for half a crown, and toy steamers and locomotives, exact copies of the larger "originals" and well finished are decidedly cheap at "10s to 25s." The youth of the present and future generations will soch be in a position to follow "the royal road to learning." It will shortly be able to study the mysteries of steam and engineering in the nursery and eat the rudiments of science with a pop-soup. 156m-WH

AN ICE CAVE.—The San Francisco correspondent of the U.S. Monitor writes: "It is not generally known, perhaps, that nearly all the ice used on this coast is obtained from a never-failing ice cave in the northern part of Oregon. This is a remarkable subterranean phenomenon, where the ice remains in a perfect state the year round, is situated on a stream known as the Columbia river, on the Washington Territory side, about 100 miles below the Dalles. The entrance to this icy chamber is under the base of Mount Adams, which stands twenty miles from the Columbia, and whose melting snows constitute the waters of the White Salmon. The dimensions of this cave are vast, extending many miles under the snowy mountain, and the scenery inside is supremely grand. The ice is found in columns frozen as water falls. These columns are cut out in blocks and conveyed on pack animals to the Columbia river, and from thence are shipped to all markets on the coast. 156m-WH

Saturday, May 10

How many a heart has been wrecked—how many a life lost—how many a loved one lowered into the silent night—how many a babe has gone from earth—how many a little crib or cradle stands silent now while the mother's heart nighd the ravens eat all the treasures of the heart and leave life. A week is a history. A week marks a sorrow or gladness which many people never know. Go home, my man of business. Go home, my striving wanderer! Go home to the children. Go home, you wronged old on life's shore!
Go home to the wife who has borne your toil, and give one night to the joys and comforts fast lying by. Leave your books and your pen. Leave your dirty slippers and your dusty shoes. Rest with the busy stars! Rest with the silent stars! Rest with the next Saturday morning! Will you forget the world?
Care and the world will be forgotten. You rowed the world. Draw close around family heart. Saturday night has fallen. Rest in sadness, in tears, and silence. Go home to those you love.
Go home to those you love. Rest in the loved presence, and meet to arrive loved unborn of your heart's pets, strive to be a blessing God for giving rest to weary children so close to the river to the Eternal, as Saturday

A Beautiful Incident.

[illegible]

They knelt together, and Victoria inscribed her rings like the young king of Israel in older times, by asking from Highest who rule the kingdom of men, understanding heart to judge so great people, who could not be numbered nor counted for multitude!

The sequel of her reign has been, of course, the ongoing. Every throne of Europe has tottered since that day. Most of them have been for a time overturned. The of England was never so firmly seated in loyalty and love of the people as at this hour. Queen Victoria enjoys personal influence, the heartfelt homage of every Christian, woman—comparably wider and greater than that of any Monarch now reigning.

The Living Epistle.

Dr. Guthrie says, in the Sunday Magazine—
He who so orders his life and conversation as to glorify in his relation to his fellow-men, who gives no occasion to his enemies to blaspheme, nor by his falls and inconstancies to furnish scandal to his brethren, who is not a slave to the streets of Ashkenod, does well. He may think God that amid life's slippery path he has prayed, nor prayed in vain, that he may say, "I have not slipped nor." He does better still in whose religion presents itself less in a negative, and more in a positive form; for he who is able to do good, and who does not do good, nor does he live in vain who empties his daily life and conversation of the things which are true, and eternal, and sublime, and saving doctrine of God and of his Saviour. The first is good, the next better, the third best. He who is able to be thankful as well as living epistles of Jesus Christ and read of all men—so to live as to recommend the truth to those who are not able to read, and to bring them to the light—What a good and blessed thing is true religion!—as in some measure to win the souls of men.

Blessed in the work that bare them, and in the path that gave thee thine!—to live, to love, to resemble those thou lovest, to be like them, to cure them, they are bound on gold, are illuminated, and illustrated with gold.

ings; or those pillars which, while their planer neighbors supporting the superstructure, are also in ornaments, rising equal from the floor in fluted columns, and crowned with wreaths of flowers—this is the best of all!"

PARAPHRASE OF THE LORD'S PRAYER.
The following paraphrase of the Lord's prayer has been set to music in England. It is the best we have ever seen, in any language—there is nothing wanting and nothing redundant.

Our Heavenly Father, hear our prayer.
Thy name be hallowed every where.
Thy kingdom come, thy perfect will
In earth, as heaven, let all fulfill!
Give this day's bread that we may live;
Forgive our sins as we forgive;
Lead us from temptation to withstand;
From evil shield us by thy hand;
Now and for ever unto Time,
Thy kingdom, power and glory be. Amen.

Food Statistics.

The following comparison between the food statistics of New York and Paris has been made by a contemporary:—"In the Paris markets about $85,600,000 worth of fresh meats, poultry, game, vegetables, food, butter and eggs are disposed of annually. The first cost of these articles in New York is eight and one-half per cent less than the first cost of the same articles in Paris, but what in the latter city is valued at $100 is retailed to the consumers at an advance of $24, or for $124, while in New York the same articles costing only $91.50 are retailed to the consumers for $184.80—a difference of $93.30 in favor of Paris on every $100 worth of produce consumed. Again, there were required and supplied to the city of New York in 1885 of beefs, cows, calves, sheep and swine an aggregate dressed weight of 379,124,647 pounds. There were also required and furnished 54,169,671 pounds of dressed fresh meats. The aggregate first cost of all these was $35,081,184.37. The value of the poultry, fish, game, fruits, vegetables and other perishable food was as much, if not more, than that of the meats—amounting together to over $70,000,000, and for which the consumers in New York paid about $140,000,000. For the same amount of food the consumers in Paris would have paid but $94,178,000—a saving to them of about $40,000,000 on the supplies of one year." These facts are striking evidence of the existence of an artificial state of things in the United States. Assuming the population of New York to be one million, and that the same degree of extravagance obtains in other parts of the Union, we find that the United States waste in articles of food, as compared to Paris, the enormous sum of $1,380,000,000 annually, or an amount which, if economized, would wipe out the national debt in two years. Besides waste in food, there is also great extravagance in dress and an artificial condition of affairs in the matter of house rents. We have not at hand the means of drawing a comparison between the dress and house-rent statistics of Paris and New York; but we should think from the present prices of articles of clothing in the United States that the difference is at least eighty per cent in favor of Paris. What, it may be asked, is the cause of this great difference between the cost to consumers of the necessities of life in France and the United States? The only cause, or the chief cause, is, undoubtedly, the Protective policy of the Government.

Why don't he do it.

When the farmer knows that the winter season is the time to prepare bar-posts and repair all kinds of farming tools—Why don't he do it?

When a farmer knows that wagons and sleighs and other carriages, will last a great deal longer when properly housed—Why don't he do it?

When a farmer knows that cows will do better on a less quantity of feed if properly housed through the winter—Why don't he do it?

When a farmer sees the boards dropping from his stables, barns, and out-buildings, and knows that it would take a few minutes to nail them on again—Why don't he do it?

When a farmer knows that a good part of his farm would be much improved by ploughing it in narrow lands—thus giving the water a chance to drain off—Why don't he do it?

When a farmer knows that most of his plow-land would be greatly improved by sowing clover—Why don't he do it?—Genesee Farmer.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 19.

FROM OTTAWA.

(By Special Telegraph to the Daily Intelligencer.)

OTTAWA, Oct. 19, 1887.

The Canada Gazette of today contains the appointment of Major General DOLY to the Lieutenant Governorship of Nova Scotia, and Col. HARDING, senior officer in New Brunswick, to the Lieutenant Governorship of that Province.

POSTAGE WITH LOCAL GOVERNMENT.—We observe it stated that the Post Office Department has decided that the Local Governments occupy similar relationship to it as the municipalities, and that they must therefore pay postage on their correspondence with the public. So that a party writing to any of the Departments of the Local Government must not only pay his own postage, but enclose stamps to pay the return letter, if it is desirable to save the extra cents which are charged upon unpaid letters.

NEW SCHOONER.—A few days ago a new schooner, named the Mary Everett, built this season, was launched at Shannockville. She is one of the largest boats on the bay, is rated at 243 tons, and will carry 11,000 bushels of grain or 300,000 feet of lumber. In length she is 112 feet over all, in beam 26 feet, and 7 feet 10 in. in the hold. Her cost was $11,000. She is a trim, neat sailer, is fitted with cabins and state-rooms, has wire rigging and all the modern improvements, and is in every respect a credit to her builder, Mr. Tait, and to the enterprise of her owner, Francis Wallbridge, Esq.

The Fenians Again.

The Globe's Ottawa special who has become as famous as Jenkins of the New York Herald for prying into secrets, says:

OTTAWA, Oct. 17, 1887.—"I have special information confirming my statement of the shipment of Fenian arms at Potsdam, thirty-six miles from Ogdensburg. The arms are those seized by the American Government in 1866, and taken to Sacket's Harbour. They were lately restored to Fenian agents there. The process of removal from that place to Watertown by wagons has lately been going on. From Watertown to Potsdam they have been expressed by railway at large cost—care being taken that the train should arrive at Potsdam in the middle of the night—the express car being attached to freight trains, while farm wagons were in waiting to remove them for secrecy into the country. About 4,000 stand of arms have already arrived at Potsdam. Cavalry saddles have likewise arrived there. The quiet way in which this has been done shows that cooler heads are now directing the Fenian movements than before. The elections come off in the State of New York shortly, and it would seem as though the Fenian leaders were preparing to strike a blow at Canada at the polls. Both the police and parties will least desire to quarrel with them. At a large Republican meeting in Ogdensburg this week, a speaker stated that the Fenian movement was as active as ever, and that the next raid on Canada would be more successful than the last. The sentiments were loudly applauded. The Government have been furnished with full information on the subject, and it is to be hoped will take necessary measures of precaution."

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Parties going west would do well to secure tickets from Toronto west from Mr. R. P. DAVY, agent for Great Western Railway, opposite the market, Belleville, 115-1m.

M. P., M. P., or What?

The Toronto Leader and Ottawa Times have been editing their readers with long disquisitions upon the manner in which the members of the Commons of Canada, and the Legislative Assemblies of the Dominion, should be addressed, or in other words what their titular designations should be. The Leader philosophically comes to the conclusion that the members of the Commons should be styled and addressed M. P., and the members of the Legislative Assemblies, M. P. These designations are not altogether acquiesced in by the Ottawa Times, who replies in a column article, coming to the conclusion that M. P. P. is indicative of a member of the Assembly is a misnomer. There being no Provincial Parliaments, consequently to address a man M. P. P. would be to give him a title which would be meaningless, therefore the letters should be M. L. A., member of the Legislative Assembly, and M. P., member of Parliament. It also says Senators should be addressed as such, and that too in full, to prevent people from being led astray as to the actual meaning. And then in the most condescending manner possible declares that having laid down what ought to be done in this particular, hopes the question will be set at rest. The Leader not liking this cool way of being snuffed out, returns to the subject, and while adhering to its former theory that M. P. P. should be the designation by which to distinguish members of the Legislative Assembly, has no objection to M. L. A., thinking that there is force in the reasoning of the Times; and is not to be outdone by its Ottawa contemporary, says: "The entire question is now narrowed down to a choice between M. P. P. and M. L. A., for the members of the local assemblies." Certainly, if not now settled, it will be between the Leader and Times agree, for who shall dare dissent when these journals have issued their fiat.

Nova Scotia.

Much apprehension has been felt in political circles, and a good deal of controversy has taken place in reference to the position which Mr. Joseph Howe and his followers will take. It has been suggested by some that it was their intention not to take their seats in the Commons, but to organize the Local Parliament and govern Nova Scotia independently. Others have supposed that they would take their seats, and become factionists, obstructing the government in carrying out its policy as much as possible. It appears, however, that neither of these courses will be taken, but a more sensible and patriotic one followed.

A caucus was held in Halifax, composed of the party elected, a short time since, to discuss the position of affairs and the best course to pursue. Nothing, however, transpired to enlighten the world what was done. The anti papers kept remarkably mum, and it is only now that we are beginning to learn what the intentions of Mr. Howe and his followers are. The Halifax Express throws some light upon this subject by informing its readers that the result of the deliberations was simply to insist upon a change of government in Nova Scotia, and to petition the Crown for a repeal of the Union, Mr. Howe to lay it at the foot of the throne. In the meantime, the members of the Commons for that Province are to take their seats, holding themselves aloof from both government and opposition until they know the fate of their Province.

This course is, under the peculiar circumstances in which they have placed themselves, the most wise. The result can easily be foretold. Mr. Howe, if he goes home with his petition, will be courteously received, and courteously and firmly told that the Union was an accomplished fact, and would have to have a fair trial. This done, Howe will return, the local government will pursue its course, and the members of the Commons attach themselves to one or other of the parties in the Dominion. Considering everything, Mr. Howe has adopted as mild a course for self and fellows as could be expected.

The Vandenhoff Case.

This case came up again yesterday before the Police Magistrate, and after argument was heard on behalf of the prisoner, he was discharged. The points taken by Mr. Diamond, the prisoner's counsel, were: First, That a false pretence, within the meaning of the statute, was being made regarding an existing fact; and secondly, if this was found, the Magistrate must be convinced that the false representation was made with fraudulent intent, and with the design to cheat the complainant out of his money. That in the present instance the representations of the prisoner were that one George Vandenhoff, Jr., would hold an entertainment on a certain evening at a certain hour; that if there had been no such person, the representation might be criminal, but as it appeared there was a person of that name, who was in town, and announced his intention to hold the entertainment in question, there was no misrepresentation as to an existing fact. And secondly, there was no proof of criminal intent on the part of the prisoner. On the contrary, it appeared in evidence that the reason that Vandenhoff did not appear was on account of his getting intoxicated, and it also appeared that as soon as prisoner was informed that he would not appear, he commenced refunding the money to the audience, and only stopped when the funds ran out. His Worship agreed with the objections and discharged the prisoner accordingly.

—The Superior Courts in Connecticut are divorcing people faster than the clergymen are marrying them.

—Greeley says "the Republican party cannot afford to take any dock-lod this fall." A democratic paper says Greeley is load enough.

—The concluding words of a Utah obituary notice are very pathetic: "He leaves thirteen widows and fifty-four children to mourn his loss."

—A horse thief in Illinois was recently captured, tried, convicted, and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment, in one hour.

—Taxes in Dundas for the current year is two cents on the dollar, equal to 33 1/3 per cent. on the annual income.

—A vagrant named James McNamara, 90 years of age, died in the Kingston county goal on the 17th inst.

—A fire occurred in Toronto on Friday, Oct. 18th, and destroyed a two storey house belonging to Mrs. Wootton.

—At a political demonstration on Wednesday last, held in New York, the President was denounced as "Andrew Johnson, Traitor, Kene-gade, Outcast."

—Beecher says people who think it wicked to black their boots on Sunday morning, do not hesitate to black their neighbors' reputation on week days.

—It has been suggested by some of our contemporaries that too much fuss has been made over Mr. Howe and his success in Nova Scotia, and recommend that he be let alone. A good suggestion.

—The wife of the care-taker in the Montreal Post Office, has been arrested for robbing the Post Office. A large amount of money has been stolen, and purloined letters with money have been found on her person.

—A boy named Champagne, in the Township of Gloucester, while hunting partridges on Sunday last, accidentally shot himself through the head. He died almost immediately. His dog remained with the body and would allow no stranger to come near it.

—A letter from Syria gives terrible accounts of the condition of the Cretans. With the exception of a few cantons and villages, it is doubtful whether there is a village standing in the island, or at least in a condition to offer shelter to its people during the winter.

—The Ottawa papers say the Nova Scotian members have engaged one whole lot of the new wing of the Russell House. These maritime gentlemen, it is evident, do not intend to be hampered for room. Considering there are but eighteen of them, they have plenty of room to spread themselves.

—Goodwin, a private in the Royal Artillery, blacked himself up like a negro and tried to desert. He was caught, tried before a garrison Court-martial, and while his comrades were on their way to Malta, he has found a secure retreat in the Rochelais military prison for two years, and his assistant, a negro, a three months' lodging place in the common goal, Montreal.

—Fine writing is popular at the South, but it is dangerous if carried too far. A poet of Charleston died lately, and is thus lamented by a friend: "Young in years, but old in achievement, he has left for himself a niche in the temple of fame, over which we now see hovering for an instant his spirit, a rainbow borne by the light of genius shining through the waters of truth."

—A letter from Palermo says: "To the horrors of cholera have been added in Sicily the horrors of famine. A drought which has now lasted nearly two years, has parched up vegetation and deprived the flocks and herds of the food necessary for their sustenance. The cities and towns are deserted by the wealthier inhabitants, the shops are closed, the markets scantily supplied."

PARTY PROCESSION.—Thirteen more Orangemen have been sent to trial from the petty sessions of Newtownards, for a party procession there, on the 12th July last. About ten thousand persons assembled on that occasion, and walked in order behind flags of orange and crimson color. There were other emblems of the society borne, and a great many more sashes.

They marched to the music of drum and fife. No breach of the peace occurred.

LONDON, Oct. 18.—A dinner was given at Manchester last evening to the Ministry, at which Lord Derby, Lord Stanley, and nearly all the members of the Cabinet, were present. In reply to the usual sentiment in honor of the administration, the Premier made a speech, in which he defended the action of the Government on the Reform question, and refuted some of the attacks which had been made upon the Representation of the People Bill. Lord Stanley, Secretary of Foreign Affairs, also addressed the company. He spoke of the disturbed condition of Europe, but declared that notwithstanding the threatening appearance of affairs, he still entertained hopes that peace would be preserved. While reviewing the present relations of Great Britain with foreign powers, he alluded to the controversy between his Government and that of the United States in regard to claims for indemnity. This controversy, he said, still remained open, but England had all along dealt with this grievance in a friendly spirit in the discussion, and time was already soothing the irritation which might have arisen on the other side of the Atlantic.

Admiral Farragut, yesterday entertained the Lords of the Admiralty at the flag-ship "Franklin" at Portsmouth.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 18.—Mr. Campbell, of the firm of Campbell & Sons, whose failure was recently announced, was arrested and held for trial on a charge of defrauding the National Bank of Liverpool of £10,000 sterling.

PARIS, October 18, midnight.—Napoleon has made an imperative demand upon the Italian government for the strict observance on the part of Italy of the convention of September. The expedition at Toulon is equipped and ready to sail to the relief of Rome, and only waits for the reply of Italy, which is hourly expected to the demand of the Emperor. It is believed the Italian government will yield.

LONDON, October 18, midnight.—The following telegram has been received from Florence, dated to-night: It is reported that General Garibaldi has again escaped from Caprera, and that he left the island on an American ship.

The Garibaldians have appeared in the waters district between Rome and the sea. They have taken possession of the railway running between the city of Rome and the sea port of Ostia, and torn up the rails, preventing all communication. It is still believed in Florence that the governments of Italy and France have a perfect understanding with each other, and are really acting together with the treatment of the Roman question.

THE principles on which this Company is

One of the advantages secured by those who

This most important restriction shows that the

Must Largely Influence Profits and Bonuses.

The next division of profits takes place in appears from the trade returns recently before the Imperial Parliament that 917 ships were built in Great Britain last year. Sunderland builders are credited with 1 of this number; Glasgow with 121; Newcastle, 44; Hull, 39; Liverpool, 38, and London, 32; the remainder coming from other ports in the kingdom.

New Brunswick has been elected a Senator in the Californian Legislature. Generally speaking, the Canadian element on the Pacific slope is exerting a powerful influence on the local State institutions. The new territory Montana, for instance, contains a large infusion of Canadian blood, and nearly all the leading shop and store keepers are from Quebec, Ontario, Nova Scotia, and New Brunswick, and the French element in the population of the territory is so large that most of the storekeepers are obliged to keep French speaking clerks in order to accommodate it.

A plant is now successfully grown near New Orleans and at other places on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico which is des d to take high rank among the textiles of the day. It belongs to the urticacia, or nettle family, and is technically known in any as the bahmeria tenacissima, and is widely still by its Mexican name. A Frenchman introduced it into Mexico several years ago, and its cultivation is extending throughout the South.—

inducement to do so is very great.—The fibres can be woven into cloths of great strength, and beauty, and the raw material sells in England at twice the price cotton. The plant is quite hardy, and yields as much as five crops a year. Kingdon is virtually dethroned.

le Moniteur, official organ of the French Government, recently contained a review of improved fire-arms in the Paris Exhibition, in the course of which it came to conclusion that the deadlier the weapon, the briefer and less destructive the war. Its conclusions are supported by the following curious statistics: At Austerlitz

French lost 14 per cent, of their effective force in the field, the Russians 30, and Austrians 44 per cent. At the dread-enormous proportions, and returning enormous profits. The vessels in the trade are usually fitted up for the purpose. Saw is placed between the skin of the ves-

Albany Lumber Market.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK ENDING OCT. 16.

The receipts of the week of lumber have been large, embracing the cargoes which were being the Albany Lumber. Canal freights have advanced $1.00 to $1.50 per 1000 on the lakes. This has caused a decrease in lumber prices.

The trade has been moderately active at unchanged rates.

The shipments continue large, partly from previous sales, and freight remains as in last week's quotations.

Freights to New York $1.50 to $1.75; to New Haven and Bridgeport, $2.00; to Middletown and Norwich, $2.50 to $2.75; to Hartford $3.00 to $3.25; to Providence, $3.00 to $3.25.

The receipts by the Erie and Champlain canals during the week ending Oct. 15, in the years named, were as follows:

Boards and Shingles, Timber, Staves, Scantling, &c. 1881 1,285,181 1,285,181 1,285,181 1,285,181

From the above figures it will be seen that they are official that the excess in the supply of lumber over last year up to this period, is 47,716,277 feet.

The following table shows the prices current at the principal yards at the date of our report:

the lips of the Earl of Cardigan, the Commander of the Eleventh Hussars at Balaklava, in 1854, who actually led the celebrated "charge," and was related to Mr. Stephen Massett, during his recent visit to England, after he had recited Tennyson's stirring poem.

At about one o'clock on that memorable day, after the Heavy Brigade had been attacked by the Russian cavalry, the of the cavalry division was considerably advanced towards the enemy, and the Light Brigade had been ordered to dismount to relieve their horses. Suddenly they were again ordered to "mount," and aide-de-camp Capt. Nolan came forward, and to Lord Lucan, commanding the cavalry, the Light Brigade were to attack the Russians in the valley. Lord Lucan ran up to Lord Cardigan and said: "It is Lord Raglan's order that the Light Brigade is to attack the Russians in the valley." Lord Cardigan replied: "Well, I don't see any other way."

Lucan answered: "I cannot help that. I am a Russian battery in front, and one on each flank, while the ground on the flank is covered with Russian riflemen." Lord Lucan replied, saluting with his sword: "Certainly, my lord, but you will allow me to inform you that there is a Russian battery in front, and one on each flank, while the ground on the flank is covered with Russian riflemen." Lord Lucan answered: "I cannot help that."

follow him, and he was attacked by the

The first thing that Lord Raglan said was, "What, sir, could you possibly mean?"

The Fenian Plan for Seizing the Queen.

AN OPINION OF A NEW YORK JOURNAL.

The New York Times, which has persistently ridiculed the Fenian question, is naturally enough, the reports gain "little or no credence" in England, but precautions are actually said to have been taken. We should say Balmoral was pretty safe. The funds of the brotherhood would not be too far north, even by third-class trains, and we doubt whether their commissariat, with its churn full of cold potatoes, would not break down before they had traversed the twenty miles of rough country between Balmoral and the railway. As it has been throughout the whole affair, however, the real and only danger lies in the madness of a few desperadoes, and the folly and ignorance of those whom they influence. It is not impossible that some of the dispersed Manchester Mohawks may have been misled and concocted some such fantastic scheme, while the inevitable traitor—they really don't deserve such a good friend—telegraphed to the authorities. They may be certain of one thing—if any of them do venture into the Highlands, they won't get such lenient treatment as they do in England or in their own country. We do not envy any Irishman up in that neighborhood if the story reaches the clansmen round Aberfeldie.

A Story of a Diamond.

THE DRESS CARELESSNESS OF A WASHER.

ROMANS.

The great Sancy diamond, which stands ninth in the glittering and very restricted aristocracy of the world's big diamonds, is to be sold, and while it is on show at one of the best jewellers, the story of its life and troubles travels round Paris. And, indeed, since it was found on the battlefield in the swordhilt fallen from Charles le Temeraire's dying hand, its vicissitudes have been great, and far too numerous to recount in full. At one time Henry IV. borrowed it from De Sancy, to give it as a guarantee to the Swiss for the troops they had lent him; and the messenger to whom De Sancy confided it disappeared before he reached the king. A long and anxious time elapsed before the loan was repaid, and he had become of the faithful servant, but it was at last discovered that he had been attacked and assassinated. The body was found, exhibited, opened, and in the stomach lay poor Sancy! The messenger had swallowed it to preserve it from the hands of the assassins. The precious stone went on leaping from impossibility to impossibility, until it reached the scene of its last troubles, which is in Lyons, about twenty years ago. Monsieur le Comte Denidoff and his wife were visiting Lyons with the amiable writer Jules Janin. The day was hot, and the Comtesse threw off her shawl, and taking out the pin, in which was mounted the celebrated diamond, asked Jules Janin to preserve it from the hands of the assassins. They passed the day looking at the sights of the theatre. Après non amant, went to the Court, between the acts, did you give the pin to the Comtesse? Poor Jules Janin bounded on his seat, plunged his hands convulsively into his waistcoat pocket, and then, without uttering a word, rushed from the box. During his headlong course back to the hotel all the incidents of the day, all the horrors of the situation, pressed on his brain like a nightmare. He remembered that after their walk he had changed his dress; that he left the door of his room open, because the garcon was coming to arrange it; that the waistcoat containing the diamond had been thrown on a chair; that the Marchiseuse was due that day; and that the waistcoat was to be washed. A complication of horrors! His fears were groundless; he found his door open; he had procured no fight in his haste, but rushed into the darkness toward the fatal chair when he perceived that the room was full of bright rays, and flashing and glittering on the floor, lay the Sancy. The garcon had arranged the room, the Marchiseuse had come, the waistcoat had been taken to be washed; but the diamond had slipped out and was saved, and so was Jules Janin. But he still remembers with horror the episode of the Sancy diamond.

Poisonous Drinks How they are Made.

A short time ago, a man in a state of intoxication was arrested in Philadelphia, and taken to the station. There he was searched, and among other things found was a black book, part of the contents of which we publish below. He asserted that the receipts to him were worth five hundred dollars, and that all the liquors to which they referred were actually made in that way. A sense of duty to the public induces us to publish them, and drinkers may see what vile stuff they are drinking. The man was and is an attaché of a diabolical kind.

which led to the commission of the crime.

FENIANS AGAIN.—Every body now and again

have a little sensation in reference to the Fenians. The Leader of the 24th inst., says

"We have it on good authority that the Fenian leaders in the United States are distributing arms and ammunition among the farmers on the frontier in the neighborhood numbers, and wagons are always ready at the station to take them off. We do not wonder that these facts are well known to the Government, and that all the necessary have been taken to prevent any sudden raid upon the Dominion. More than this, these fanatics cannot hope to accomplish. Let them go on in their madness. Canada has long since passed that stage when she could

COMMERCIAL BANK FAILURE.

MONTREAL, Oct. 23, 1867.

The news of the suspension of the Commercial Bank came like a thunder clap upon the business men of Montreal, this morning. The meeting of the Presidents of the other Banks, and what transpired at the various sittings yesterday, were known to but few parties outside those immediately concerned, and from the reports which had gained currency there was every prospect that some arrangement would be made by which the Bank would be enabled to tide over its present embarrassments, and thus avert one of the most widespread commercial disasters which ever swept over Canada. The possibility that the Bank would not be able to resist the extraordinary pressure which met it on every side, was very remote; the probability that it would keep its head above water and prevent the impending disaster was very strong—so strong indeed, as to produce very little concern in commercial circles. It may well be imagined therefore, that the announcement of the suspension in the morning papers created the wildest excitement. Merchants read the brief notice and went to their Counting Houses, not to do business. Correspondence was merely glanced at and turned over to subordinates. Anything like attending to regular business was abandoned. Trade seemed paralyzed. Men went on change, but not to sell nor buy. They gathered in knots of twos and threes and sixes, and talked only of the failure. And if Mr. King could have heard how they talked and what they said, one would imagine he would have been glad to exchange his position as head of the great Bank monopoly for that of the commonest hod carrier. The language was neither choice nor select; the epithets were not of the softest nature; nor were their opinions of his dogmatic conduct in the slightest manner concealed. Very few amongst them justified him in his action, and only now and again could be heard one bold enough to take up the gauntlet in his favor. The remarks of the Montreal Gazette, severe as they were, were not deemed too severe by a large majority of the principal merchants. They were justified openly and heartily, while the wispy-washy excuse of the evening Witness was as openly and heartily condemned. It was felt that the calamity, the extent of which no one could tell, might have been spared the country, if the Montreal Bank had given its guarantee in conjunction with the other Banks that it would stand by the Commercial in the extent of a serious run. It was felt that this might have been done without any detriment to itself, and because it was not done, the mercantile community charge the Montreal Bank as being the immediate cause of this disaster, which, as the Gazette truly expresses, is the greatest ever witnessed in Canada—Who can tell what will be the result of this Bank monopoly? The Commercial has gone to the wall. Which of the other Upper Canadian Banks will be the next to suffer? Who can tell? The subject is sufficiently pregnant to cause the most serious apprehension. "Submit to our terms," says the Bank of Montreal, "and we will do the business of the country." What those terms are, business men who have been unfortunately obliged to accept them tell us, are such as to give the largest profit to the Bank, while they stand a chance of getting next to nothing. In many instances the Bank realizes a profit of ten, twelve and fifteen per cent, while the trader barely makes both ends meet. It is looked upon as a "huge shaving shop," to use the words of a prominent Montreal merchant, and if to-morrow it was found in as tight a place as the Commercial, it would not receive much sympathy.

The immediate effect of the suspension of the Commercial Bank has been to produce an utter stagnation. The Montreal Bank put on the screws to-day, and the other Banks followed suit. "We are not discounting," was the invariable answer which met their customers at every Bank counter, "and we don't know when we will." Some holders of Commercial Bank paper, who were obliged to realize, sold to brokers to-day at 95, 90 and as low as 75 cents. A prominent produce dealer informed me that he had received a telegram from Western Canada, asking him if he would take $2,000 in Commercial Bills at 70 cents, as he had purchased that sum at that figure to-day. There are a good many rumors afloat as to what will be done. Some think the Bank will resume specie payments and go on at once, and others think that the storm which has been brought about Mr. King's ears will change the policy of that gentleman towards the Commercial, and that he and the other Banks will come to its assistance. This rumor gathers strength from the fact that Mr. King went to Kingston to-day. But whatever is done, the feeling is universal that prompt action is required on the part of Banks and moneyed men to lessen the effects of the disaster caused by the suspension of the Commercial Bank. What that action may be it is difficult to foretell, but that something will take shape before many hours out of the many schemes proposed for relief, is very probable.

SWINDLING OPERATION.

MONTREAL, Oct. 23, 1867.

A nice little confidence game has just been nipped in the bud, not through the activity of the police, but through the stupidity or carelessness of the chief operator. About half past twelve to-day, while the occupants of the offices and shops along St. Francis Xavier St. were preparing to leave for luncheon, he was reputed to be a C. Falardeau, a French broker doing business on that street had been knocked down in his office and robbed of $35,000 in Greenbacks. A crowd soon gathered about the place, and on the floor behind the counter was found lying Falardeau, in an apparently insensible condition. He was speedily roused, however, and briefly told his story, which was to the effect that while handing the parcel of greenbacks containing $35,000 to a party with whom he had previously negotiated, he was struck on the forehead by some blunt instrument, and at the same time stabbed in the arm, and that the party had decamped with the money without leaving its equivalent in gold. It was found that Falardeau had received a slight blow on the head, but not sufficient, in the estimation of many, to produce insensibility, and the story that he had been robbed looked very fishy. It turned out that this broker had gone to several other similar establishments during the forenoon, representing that he had secured a purchaser for $35,000 in greenbacks, at a good paying rate, and as he had not that amount of his own, he asked for a loan, giving his cheque therefor, which would be paid during the afternoon, as the purchaser was to come at noon to obtain his Greenbacks. As he had been doing business for some time, and had hitherto sustained a fair reputation, he had no difficulty in getting what he wanted. From one broker he got $200, from another $500, another $1,000, and from others sums varying from $2,000 to $4,000. These brokers became very excited and some of them when they heard the unwelcome news, and steps were immediately taken to ferret out the robbers. Detectives were employed, telegrams were sent to every part of the city, to all the railway and shipping stations near Montreal, and constables were sent to search the vessels and every other avenue by which it was possible for the robber to escape. In these endeavors none took a greater interest than Falardeau and his two brothers, but no clue could be obtained, and those who had loaned the money upon the security of cheques which were not worth the paper they were written upon, began to think there was no hope of ever getting their money back. A good many, however, looked upon the story of Falardeau as very improbable, and it was considered best by one or two to examine more closely the premises. Accordingly an entrance was effected, and unperceived the safe was fished out the bundle of Greenbacks, and in one of the drawers was found packages of silver to the amount of over $1,000. This was soon taken possession of and given into the custody of the officials, and upon enquiry being made after Falardeau, it was ascertained that he was not at his residence, nor could he be found. It was after dark this evening when the money was fortunately discovered, and while the parties were making the search, one of the brothers of Falardeau unexpectedly came upon the scene, and was apparently, unexpectedly to himself placed in the custody of the police. It is surmised that this brother was an accomplice, and that as soon as the robbery of Falardeau was discovered, he and while the police were busy searching for the supposed robber, it was his intention to clear off with the money. But like many other operations in "California games," he was not sharp enough, and he fell into the trap of his own creating. The matter will likely be investigated to-morrow before the Police Magistrate.

A letter from Mr. R. L. Jones, in reference to the sinking of a well in the engine house, from Messrs. Flint & Robertson, calling the attention of the Council to the fact that they have no power to remit a moiety of the fine imposed upon P. Tancey, and said moiety belonged to the complainant.

BY-LAWS.

The Council went into Committee on By-Laws. Mr. Brown in the chair.

Mr. Sutherland moved, seconded by Mr. Diamond, That the By-Law to amend the By-Law limiting the number of tavern licenses, by extending the number, be read a second time.

Mr. Holden opposed the passage of the By-Law, on the ground that there are a sufficient number of taverns already, and that the proper time to move in this matter was at the commencement of the year. He believed that the license should be made as high as possible, and then allow any one to sell, so long as the number allowed by law not exceeded.

Mr. Diamond supported the By-Law, on the ground that it would be the means of closing houses in which an illicit traffic is carried on, and to the away with what he considered an anomaly in receiving men's money, which the Treasurer had done, and then prevent them from selling liquor. He believed that it would be better to act under the provisions of the statutes, and grant such number as are allowed by law.

Mr. Holden replied that if he understood the law, there was not a license issued legally this year, because no license can be issued unless a certificate be first given by the Mayor that all the requirements of the law had been complied with, and that in no case had there been a certificate given.

The Mayor confirmed this statement.

Mr. Sutherland argued in favor of granting further licenses, and he did so in conformity with the wishes of a large majority of the ratepayers. He also stated that Mr. Papineau and Mr. Naven had gone to a good deal of expense, and were entitled to receive licenses, there being but nineteen and a half licenses issued, the half license issued being the one issued to the Ferry House.

The Mayor argued against the passage of the By-Law, on the ground that they should not be over-riding their own By-Laws.

Mr. Waters took the same view as the Mayor.

Mr. Diamond pointed out a provision of the law, which provided that a certificate should be signed by the Mayor and the Clerk, setting forth the number of licenses allowed to be issued in the Municipality, and sent to the Island Revenue Inspector, which had not been done.

The Mayor replied, stating that when this should have been done he was sick in bed, and he could not be expected to run round looking for certificates.

The motion being put, the vote stood, YEAS—Messrs. Diamond, Kennedy, and Sutherland—3.

NAYS—Messrs. Corby, Waters, Holden and Tanahill—3.

Mr. Foster asked to be excused from voting, which was allowed on motion of Mr. Diamond.

Mr. Waters objecting, stating that every man should be compelled to vote.

Mr. Holden moved, seconded by Mr. Waters, that the Committee rise without reporting.

Mr. Diamond moved in amendment, seconded by Mr. Sutherland, that the By-Law for amending the nuisance By-Law be read a second time, which was carried; after which the Committee rose and reported, and the By-Law relative to nuisances and profligate language was passed.

The Mayor appointed Monday evening, next for a special meeting of the Council, to investigate the Street Surveyor's pay lists, and the Council adjourned.

the United States. The French population, too—Canadians and Acadians—numbering nearly one million, have preserved till now, and insist on preserving, the language, the religion, the traditions, the manners of its Norman fathers. All these have been guaranteed by the British government, and it is only fair to Great Britain to point out the present conduct of the French Canadians as an instance of her liberality. Certainly the French colonists of Louisiana, Alabama, Missouri, Michigan and Minnesota have not fared so well; nor the Spanish inhabitants of New Mexico and California. These have lost their language, their customs, their traditions, their institutions, and their religion has not had that popular respect and fair play which it enjoys in Canada. If the Rouges of Lower Canada hanker after annexation, they cannot be sincere in doing so through love for their French nationality, language, and religion. For if they know anything, they ought to know that within twenty-five years after their admission into the Union, the French Canadians as a distinctive people would cease to exist.

BELLEVILLE, FRIDAY, OCT. 25.

THE ROYAL CANADIAN BANK.—Shortly after the opening of the doors of the Royal Canadian Bank on Thursday morning, Oct. 25th, says the Toronto Telegraph, a run upon it commenced, and was continued with more or less activity throughout the day. The demand for gold was ably met, and the institution proved its soundness fully and satisfactorily. During the morning, the crowd on Toronto street was pretty large, most of those present being spectators. A couple of policemen were on hand and they kept the crowd moving.

APPOINTMENTS.—We understand that Dr. Jessup has been appointed Collector of Customs for the port of Prescott, and Mr. Elwood Collector for Port Huron. Tories are proverbial for providing for their own, and these appointments are instances of the fact. Reformers may wear the life of their bodies in support of their leaders, but when these secure places for themselves, those who have aided in the advancement of "the big guns," are left neglected and unprovided for.—Brookville Recorder.

Poor unfortunate Reformer, will not some Minister of State require the services of that body whose life has been worn out in support of its leader. It has been a whim with us, that Reform leaders were the most assiduous in looking after their followers; but it appears we have been wrong, for the Reformer has been left out in the cold. Poor body, we hope he will still survive.

"There is a branch of the Bank of Montreal in Belleville, at which the greater portion of the business of the town has hitherto been transacted. The citizens, however, are so strongly incensed against it on account of recent events, that they wish to have nothing more to do with it. On Tuesday evening a meeting of the merchants of the town was held, at which the Mayor presided."—Toronto Telegraph, Oct. 24.

Wrong. The greater portion of the business of this town was done at the Commercial Bank, and not at the Bank of Montreal, hence the stagnation created in business when the Commercial Bank closed. The branch Bank of Montreal in Belleville has been doing no business here, except collecting, thereby doing more harm than good.

"Perry Davis' Pain Killer has the largest sale of any medicine in the world."

BUSINESS NOTICE.—Parties going west would do well to secure tickets from Toronto west from Mr. R. P. DAVY, agent for Great Western Railway, opposite the market, Belleville. 115-1m —One Patrick Sullivan, died on the street last night from hemorrhage caused by excessive drinking.

—The Indian Bureau's advice from the west show that the peace business is progressing slowly, and it is doubtful if anything permanent is settled before winter commences.

—The Indians who murdered the Adhem and Allen party in Idaho, were recently surrendered to the whites by their tribe and two of them were executed. The remainder were placed under guard.

—It is reported that Judge Johnson is to be reported to Montreal, Mr. M. A. Beaudry to be made Judge at Bedford, Messrs. A. Robertson and O'Kill Stuart to be created judges of the Superior Court, and W. H. Webb, M. P., to replace Mr. Stuart.

The Fenian Prisoners.

Speaking of the appeal for the pardon of Father McMalon the British Whig says: "A great many Fenians were set at liberty without trial; a great many equally guilty Fenians were acquitted, and among others, the English clergyman; and since this Irish Priest has been punished and the majesty of the law maintained, it may now be as well to pardon him, if he is not likely to sin again."

Well, Mr. Whig, does not the argument apply with as much force to every Fenian prisoner as to the Priest? Should he who had the power and influence to guide these men be the only one selected for pardon, Bosh! This sickly sentimentality is disgusting.

Bank Failures.

Bank failures in Canada have fortunately for the prosperity of the country, been of such rare occurrence, as to justify the unbounded confidence which people not only in Canada, but in the commercial metropolis of the neighboring republic, have had in the paper of the country. This security will not we fear be re-established for some time, when two of the oldest and supposed most solvent of our Banks have gone to the wall, and closed their doors within twelve months, people will begin to think there is something wrong either in the management of these monied institutions, or the law which governs them. The vast majority of the people do not investigate closely the causes which lead to bank failures, and hence come to the conclusion that all are unsafe. By the last statement made to the Government, and published in the official Gazette, it was shown that the Commercial was as solvent as any other banking institution in the Province, and yet, ere half a month passes over, its doors are closed, and a general panic created. Our readers are already aware how this was brought about. The publication of the report made by Messrs. Holton, Allan and Morris as to the affairs of the Bank, and the recommendation to reduce the value of the stock 40 per cent, left the impression upon the people that this depreciation in the value of stock was equally a reduction on the value of the bank notes in circulation. With this impression weighing upon the minds of the people, it is no wonder that many became alarmed, and withdrew their deposits, and bill holders clamored for gold for their bills, thus driving the Bank to seek assistance, not eleemosy aid, but a loan from other Banks, such as are every day extended to business men. When this assistance was asked from other Banks, the applicant received the same reception that many a solvent merchant has received when in straitened circumstances; namely, the cold shoulder. And as there is a leading spirit in all walks of life, whether private or public, so there is in the Banking institutions of this Province, which spirit always tries to bring others under subjection, if not by fair, then by intrigue and unfair means. The marplot in Canada, so far as relates to monetary affairs, is Mr. King, of the Montreal Bank. He aspires to more than his name indicates—King. This is not sufficient, he desires to rule absolute in directing and controlling every Bank in Canada. Failing in this, the advantage which his position gives him is used whenever opportunity occurs, to their ruin and destruction. To rule or destroy seems to be his motto, and finding the Commercial Bank in his power, he did not hesitate to use the advantage thus obtained to its downfall. Other Banks were prepared to extend aid, but he who was most able resolute, and Shylock-like demanded the pound of flesh; but unlike Shylock, he received it, our laws not interfering to prevent it. That the Bank of Montreal could have prevented the calamity which has befallen the Commercial Bank, is acknowledged by the Montreal Press, as well as that of Ontario. The Gazette says all the representatives of the Banking houses then in Montreal, expressed a willingness to come to the assistance of the Commercial Bank. Mr. King, was willing, provided "the other Banks would guarantee" the amount advanced by him; or in other words, he desired to obtain the endorsement of all the Banks in the Province to a transaction which he should have been as anxious to see carried out as any one of them; and when he could not obtain this advantage he left in a huff. The other Banks "stood quite ready to do their share, but would not consent to any special conditions of favor to the Bank of Montreal; and so," after holding during the day four protracted and anxious meetings, the entire matter had to come to a failure in consequence of the Bank of Montreal, and Mr. King, its Manager. The conduct of this Manager was most dogmatic, and had it not been that the meeting was so strongly impressed with the immense importance of the occasion, and the necessity for patient discussion and calm and right action, Mr.

"King might have perhaps been shown a proper appreciation of his conduct."

Why was this course pursued? Was it to bring every Bank in Canada a suppliant at his feet? Or was it a deep laid scheme to drive from circulation all paper money except that issued by the Bank of Montreal? We are not prepared to say that a national uniform paper currency would not be advisable, but if this is the mode of forcing it upon the country the sooner it were known the better, so that other monied institutions may set their houses in order, for if, as it is forcibly put by the Toronto Telegraph:

"Our banks do not stand by each other they will assuredly follow the Commercial Bank into liquidation, for the Bank of Montreal has got the whip hand of them all, and will not hesitate, when occasion offers, to push them to the wall. The Commercial Bank had a large discount account, showing that it offered accommodation to our business community, while its funds were not locked up in unseizable real estate. No bank in Canada could sustain the pressure that was brought to bear upon the institution, and it is to the discredit of the other banks that they did not give it a helping hand. It was doing an excellent business, and its shareholders are not men of straw. We think that the Banks are fast laying up trouble for themselves, and if they will not act unitedly against a huge monopoly, they certainly cannot expect to hold out by isolated efforts."

Taking the last official returns published in the Gazette as our guide, to what conclusion must it lead us? We find that the Commercial Bank had, on the 30th September in its vaults, which could be made immediately available: Coin, bullion and Provincial notes, $703,141; Government securities, $400,000; balance due from other Banks, $174,231; promissory notes, or bills of other Banks, $106,284; amounting in all to $1,383,656, with which to meet a run of $1,248,979 of bills in circulation; $400,391 due other Banks; and $3,007,678 of deposits; in all $4,657,048. By this it will be seen that, without temporary aid from some quarter, the closing of its doors was inevitable, though the same official return shows that the Bank has assets to the amount of $9,140,982, with which to pay liabilities amounting to $4,657,048.

Let us now look at the position of the Montreal Bank, and see how much better position it holds, and how much better could it stand a run. At the same date this Bank had in coin, bullion and Provincial notes, $1,608,129; Government securities, $3,527,405; notes and bills of other Banks, $379,438; balances due from other Banks, $1,836,538; or $7,351,510 to meet a demand of: Notes in circulation, $657,862; balances due to other Banks, $560,269; deposits, $11,041,014, in all $12,259,145; or in other words a little over seven millions and a quarter to meet a demand of twelve and a quarter millions.—The reader will at once see, that were the latter Bank to lose the confidence of the people and a simultaneous run made upon it, unaided by loans or otherwise, it would have to close its doors; yet its total assets are $19,957,940 to meet liabilities of $12,259,146. Every other Bank in the Province is in a similar position. We have pointed out these facts to show how absurd it was, under the circumstances, to make a run upon the Commercial Bank; and how ruinous it proved on the part of those who could have sustained the Commercial in its difficulties, not to do it, for no Bank knows the moment it may be placed in a similar position to that of the Commercial.

The rain gauge is examined every day at 1 o'clock, p.m., and shows then the quantity of rain that has fallen during the preceding 24 hours.

In the above statement snow is included, one inch of snow being considered equal to about one-tenth inch of water. It will be seen that a much larger quantity of rain fell in the five months commencing 1st May in 1866, than during the corresponding period of 1867.

Ginseng.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

SIR,—There appeared a paragraph in a late number of your paper, as well as in the Toronto Leader, in which enquiries are made respecting ginseng. "How it came that a portion of this article, which had been one of value in trade with China in the earlier years of Canada, 'so suddenly fell off.'" A certain writer, I think Charlevoix, states that the Canadians, unacquainted with the nature of the plant, and anxious to gather large quantities of the root for exportation, collected the plant at the wrong season of the year, whereby the plant was entirely destroyed, and thus a valuable article was entirely cut off from the country. But I have seen a letter, written before the close of last century by Asa Washburn, of Hallowell, to Col. Bell of Norwich, in which the latter is requested to search for, and collect the plant for Mr. Washburn, reference being made to its great value.

I am, respectfully yours, W. C. Belleville, Oct. 24, 1867.

Breach Loaders.

We have the satisfaction of announcing that the whole Volunteer force has now been armed with the best breech-loading weapon which is as yet in existence. Thirty thousand Snider-Enfield rifles have been distributed among the different Volunteer battalions of Ontario and Quebec. These have, in several rifle matches within the few weeks, been thoroughly tested, and the result has invariably been such as to give the greatest satisfaction and confidence in the weapon to all who are armed therewith. In accuracy of fire, it is far superior to the muzzle-loading Enfield, while in respect to rapidity the breech-loader can fire, at the very least, three shots for every single shot fired by the muzzle-loader.

It is obvious that every improvement in simplicity of loading and rapidity of fire, must tend to raise the value of Volunteers or Militia as compared with that of regular troops in action, and the general result of the acquisition of these improved arms by the Volunteers is to inspire them with confidence in themselves and in their weapon, the importance of which cannot be overrated.

The Fenian leaders have been advertised by the manifesto of the Troy servant girls, that they will soon be reduced to their last cent if they do not devise some means of raising the wind once more, and attracting fresh recruits. As they are now depositing in the most ostentatious manner, depots of worthless old arms, and cases having the outer appearance of valuable stores, at different points along the Canadian frontier. But we shall be much surprised if the limit of gullibility of their, heretofore, dupes has not already been reached; and if these shallow devices succeed in filling the deplorable vacuum now existing in the Fenian treasury, "Surely in vain the net is spread in the 'sight of any bird.'"—Montreal Gazette.

—Hon. Geo. Brown and Mrs. Brown started for Europe, Thursday Oct. 24th.

—A machine has been invented for printing letters of correspondence—three or more at one impression.

—A man by the name of Dunn, living near Toronto, has been committed to stand his trial for shooting his neighbors cattle.

—Some ginseng proposals in the New York Herald to protect commerce on the Atlantic by permanently anchoring a vessel on the ocean telegraph line some hundreds of miles from the coast, from which notice of all easterly or nor-easterly storms may be telegraphed to the cities of the coast from ten to twenty hours in advance of their arrival. By this means he thinks millions of dollars worth of property and thousands of lives saved annually, as vessels could remain in port when notified of the approach of a storm, and by the use of signals could be warned of the coming danger.

—The question is, should a vessel be permanently and safely anchored at the entrance proposed from shore? That is the difficulty which the Herald's correspondent has never yet been able to get over.

Telegraphic News.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, Oct. 25 (midnight).—The following significant despatch has been received: "FLORENCE, ITALY, Oct. 23 (9 p.m.).—The news to-night is glorious for the cause of Italy. The government has deemed it best to suppress the details for the present."

Paris, October 24, morning.—At the latest accounts received from Italy last night, the formation of the Italian minister was incomplete in consequence of the hesitation of Gen. Durandi to accept the portfolio tendered to him by Gen. Cridolani. Rotazzi was acting as Prime Minister. Francis Joseph, the Emperor of Austria arrived at Paris yesterday evening and was received at the Railway station by the Emperor Napoleon. After exchanging congratulations, the Emperor entered a state carriage and were driven to the Tuileries. The Monarch says this visit of the Emperor Francis Joseph adds a new pledge of anxiety to the cordial relations established between Austria and France.

BERLIN, October 24.—The German States which are not members of the Confederation, have signified their intention of adding their signatures to the new peace treaty concluded between the Confederates of the North and the United States of America.

NEWMARKET, October 24, eve.—The course to-day was crowded with spectators. Additional interest was created by the announcement that "Lozenge" and "Wolsey" would run again for the Cambridge share stakes, the contest for which on the second day resulted in a dead heat for these two horses. The race took place much excitement, and resulted in the success of "Lozenge." The Free Handicap which followed was won by "Palmer." The Sweepstakes was won by "Rosecrans." One of the winners on the first day of this meeting.

LONDON, October 24.—The French Emperor Napoleon requested the city of Cork the authorities in a general conference, for the settlement of the Roman question, and to prevent the recurrence of the recent events in Italy.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—Sir James South, an eminent astronomer one of the founders and several times president of the Royal Astronomical Society, died to-day at the advanced age of 50 years.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—In consequence of a secret movement in the city of Cork the authorities are keeping a sharp watch upon the Fenians there, and the police patrols have been doubled.

The government has refused the application of council for a postponement of the trial of the parties implicated in the outrage at Manchester.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The morning despatches from Florence, say it was known in that city early last night that Gen. Garibaldi had traversed Italy, and succeeded in reaching Foligno in the province of Umbria, and that his arrival there was discovered, and he was forbidden by the Italian authorities from proceeding any further; since then nothing has been made public as to his movements or whereabouts.

The London Times of to-day has a strong editorial on the French intervention. It stigmatizes the compulsory course of France as cruel to Italy, and perilous to Europe, and declares that its effect will be transient, for the Garibaldians must rise again, and a new enterprise against Rome is inevitable.

PARIS, Oct. 24 (a.m.).—The troops which were sent to embark on the naval expedition for the relief of Rome are now encamped around Toulon.

PARIS, October 24, eve.—The official statement of the Bank of France reports an increase of 4,000,000 francs in bullion during the past week.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—The official returns of the Bank of England show that the amount of bullion in the vaults has decreased £475,000, sterling during the week ending to-day.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 24.—The Board of Directors of the Royal Bank of Liverpool, yesterday, made an announcement of 45 per share upon the stockholders. An examination of the condition of the bank shows that its liabilities do not exceed £1,500,000 sterling. The directors say that the institution will soon resume business.

LONDON, Oct. 24.—A delay in the trial of the Manchester rioters is asked by the counsel for the defence, on the ground that the present excited state of public feeling against the Fenians, and the prejudice which exists against the prisoners in Manchester, will interfere with the impartial administration of justice.

LONDON, Oct. 25, noon.—Despatches from Rome state that the party of action, who have hitherto been very quiet, attempted an insurrection on Tuesday. A mine was placed under the barracks of the Papal soldiers, which was fired was a failure. Many persons were injured and the building was badly shattered. The general outbreak, which the firing of the mine was to signalize, was quickly suppressed, and the city soon became quiet.

LONDON, October 25, noon.—Consols 94½; Erie 45½; Bonds 69½; 1 C 78½.

LONDON, October 25, p.m.—Consols 94½; 1 C 78.

LIVERPOOL, October 25, noon.—Cotton firm; stock in port 678,000 bales, of which 165,000 are American.

LIVERPOOL, October 25, p.m.—Manchester advices favorable. Breadstuffs active and firm. Corn 33s 3d; California 34s 3d; Red 34s 3d; Peas 32s; Tallow 44s 9d.

GLASGOW, Oct. 25, p.m.—The steamer ship Hibernia has arrived.

—A young man named Ogilvie was run over by the Grand Trunk Railway car, in Toronto, on the 24th Oct., and nearly severed the head from the body.

THE principles on which this Company is founded contain all the elements required

to develop the benefits of Life Assurance, and afford every facility to intending assurers--

One of the advantages secured by those who insure their lives with this Company is that the outside expenditure for Management is absolutely restricted by the Deed of Settlement.

This most important restriction

shows that the interests of participating policy holders are closely watched and carefully attended to by the Company. Attention is es-

of premiums expended for Management

Must Largely Influence Profits

The next division of profits takes place in the profits should insure at once.

Garibaldi.

HIS LATEST MANIFESTO AGAINST THE PAPE.

Garibaldi, before his arrest, on board the Leghorn steamer, drew up the following fresh proclamation, which has found its way into the Italian papers:—

Italians! To-morrow we shall have crowned our glorious revolution by dealing a final blow at the tabernacle of idolatry, imposture and shame in Italy. That pedestal of all tyranny, the Papacy, has incurred the anathema of the whole world, and the anathema of our own people. Italy is now a nation, and she has fixed on Italy as on a redeemer. And should the arrest of a single man cause her to stop terrified in her glorious mission? According to the desire of some friends, I have returned home, free and without conditions, with the promise that a steamer should be sent for me to take me to the continent. At present the man whose name is a shame to Italy has recourse to the precautions of hired assassins to prevent my return. In that situation I only ask my fellow-citizens to continue in the sacred path which they have traced out with the calm and majesty of a nation which has the consciousness of its power. To the army and the people I spoke of discipline when they, indignant at the cowardly servility of those who govern us, demanded to be led to Rome. I told the soldiers that they should reserve their bayonets for a more glorious mission, and that for the mercenaries of the Pope the stocks of their muskets were sufficient. Notwithstanding the genius of evil, which weighs over our land there is one fact evident to all; that is, the imposing fraternity of all the robust elements of the nation, the army, people and volunteers. Woe to him who should cast discord among those brothers! And when Italy shall see all her children united for her redemption those few cowards who pause from a miserable fear of a foreign intervention will disappear.

I therefore repeat, you must pursue the redemption of Rome at all hazards, and if you think my aid is necessary you must take steps to release me. GARIBOLDI.

A Clever Operator.

Some weeks ago, General Doyle, Commander of the Forces and Lieut. Governor of New Brunswick, was accosted in the streets of Fredericton by a tall, gentlemanly soldier-like individual. The General intimated that the stranger had the advantage of him, his features had never been seen before or had passed from his Excellency's recollection. The stranger was not slow to make himself known. He was Colonel Graham recently Military Secretary to the Emperor Maximilian, but he had served some years before in the same regiment as the General, he had been present in the United Service Club when the General had made a brilliant speech, which he (Graham) had profited by many times since. To make a long story short, by the mention of persons and things, Colonel Graham managed to convince the General that he was a genuine individual who had served in the same regiment; he was invited to Government House, and being a well informed, agreeable, man who had seen much of the world, he became a welcome guest, in the circles of the New Brunswick capital. Governor Dundas of Prince Edward Island, came to Fredericton on a visit, and was so charmed with Colonel Graham, that he invited him to pay a visit to Charlottetown. The colonel consented, but a serious difficulty presented itself. The English mail had not arrived, the colonel had been previously disappointed in not receiving remittances, and expected all deficiencies to be made good by the next mail. In the meantime, he could not accompany Governor Dundas; he told General Doyle's aide-de-camp because he was afraid that, as a stranger, no banker would cash his check, and the general consulted and at once, with the generosity of a soldier towards an old comrade, told his aide-de-camp to introduce Col. Graham to a banker; and the colonel, nothing loth, made a draft on his agent in England for £150 sterling, and so was enabled to make his journey. The next day he made his journey, and visited to Governor Dundas. But in Charlottetown, he became impetuous again, and playing the same game skillfully as he had done in Fredericton, he made the amount. He left Prince Edward Island for Canada, bearing a letter of introduction from Mr. Dundas to Mr. Cartier, who was very polite, as befitted his station and his disposition. He in turn gave Col. Graham a letter of introduction to His Excellency, Governor Beelan, at Quebec, and there again Col. Graham felt the necessity of making a draft on his London agents for £150 sterling, which was cashed through the intervention of the urbane Lieutenant-Governor. From Quebec Col. Graham came to Toronto, but we have not heard that he obtained any money here. We are afraid that Toronto is not so hospitable to strangers as the more retired capitals of New Brunswick, Prince Edward and Quebec. The hero of our tale went from Toronto no one knows whether, and all that remains to be told is, that the drafts on the London agent have been returned, and that no one has yet been able to find a trace of Col. Graham or Maximilian's agent. —Globe.

Mr. Gough's Recovery.

On a certain Sabbath evening, some twenty years ago, a reckless, ill-dressed young man was loitering under the elm trees in the public square of Worcester. He had become a wretched waif on the current of sin. His days were spent in the waking remorse of the drunkard; his nights were passed in the buffooneries of the ale-house.

As he sauntered along—out of humor with himself and the rest of mankind—a kind voice saluted him. A stranger laid his hand upon his shoulder, and said, in cordial tones, "Mr. G—, go down to our meeting at the town hall to-night." A brief conversation followed, so winning in its character that the youth consented to go. He went; he heard the appeals signed the pledge of total abstinence. By God's help he kept it, and keeps it yet. The poor boot-crumper who tapped him on the shoulder (good John Stratton) has lately gone to heaven. But the youth he saved is to-day the foremost of reform on the face of the earth. Methinks when I listen to the thunders of applause that greet John B. Gough, on the platform at Exeter Hall or the Academy of Music, I am hearing the echo of that tap on the shoulder, and of that kind invitation under the ancient elms at Worcester! He that winneth souls is wise.—Quigley.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, SATURDAY, OCT. 26.

THE BANK DIRECTORS' MEETING.—In another column will be found an official statement of what occurred at the meeting held in Montreal by the Bank officers, of which we may have something to say in our next.

JUVENILE SMOKERS.—The law prohibiting minors from smoking on the streets is rigidly enforced in Halifax, N. S., several youths having recently been arrested and fined for so doing. It is a pity that some such law is not in existence here for the benefit of our infantine smokers.

NEW DIRECTORY.—Our Town is now being canvassed for a new Business Directory, to be called the Grand Trunk Railway Gazetteer, which we are assured will be superior to any work heretofore published. It will, compiled, as a work is valuable, and should be well supported.

BURGULAR'S TOOLS.—The Madoc Mercury informs us that on Saturday, 19th inst., a bunch of skeleton keys, carefully wrapped up in an india-rubber pouch, were found in an opening in the sidewalk alongside Mr. E. D. O'Flynn's store, Madoc, and upon further search a centre bit, several drills, and a number of steel rods and saw keys were found. It is well that these keys have been found, as it will put the people on their guard.

WOLVENESS.—The Mercury says: Several of these wild animals have recently been trapped in the neighborhood of Wadsworth's Lake, and in the Stony Settlement, Tudor. One of these "painters," trapped by Mr. P. Gunter, was so large, that when placed on its hind legs, the fore paws rested on a man's shoulders. Two or three others have been seen and heard in unpleasant vicinity to travellers after dark in Tudor.

GOLD DISCOVERIES.—The Madoc Mercury of the 26th inst. says: "During the last week another rich discovery has been made near the mine, and especially in the vicinity of the Richardson mine, yielding, we are informed, as much as six ounces to the pan." It also says that the shows of gold have been taken from Lot No. 24 in the 6th concession of Madoc, where the "gold was to be seen in the rock."

Run on Banks.

The suspension of the Commercial Bank has led to a general distrust in all Banks, and a run was made upon the Royal Canadian, Gore, and other Banks, in Toronto and other places. And to add to the excitement, the Bank of Montreal refused to take Royal Canadian bills, and it was generally rumored this morning that it had refused all Upper Canada bank bills. This, however, was not correct. It has put its foot, for the present, upon the Royal Canadian only, hence they are not current here to-day, though we learn by the Toronto Leader, Globe and Telegraph, that the run upon the Bank in Toronto had abated, and that the bills were taken freely at par. The Bank has not suspended.

—Dear hunting west of Ottawa is unusually good.

—Perry Davis' Pain Killer has the largest sale of any medicine in the world.

—Some of the clergymen in New York receive $3,000 a year for marriage fees.

—New Brunswick has a poor crop of potatoes this season.

—The "James A. Harding," with the shows of gold on its side, was by a few feet.

The Difference.

When the Fenian raid took place in Canada in 1866, and in Ireland at a later period, the English Press spoke of the affair lightly, and in many cases contemptuously, as the act of a number of lawless men. Sympathy was expressed in many quarters, and leniency recommended. How different the tone when the same outrages are committed at their own doors. That crime which by many is looked upon and palmed as treason when committed in Canada or England, is vehemently denounced as murder in Ireland, and the Press clamor for the full penalty of the law being carried out. Every one must regret and lament the murders which have been committed in connection with Fenianism, but it is well that the people of England have had the plague fully developed at their own doors, and felt its effect. As long as it was confined to Ireland and Canada, these people could look on complacently, and attribute outbreaks to political disquietude, and excuse them on the principle "the restlessness of the Irish character." No such excuses are found for them, however, when committed in England. Oh, no, it then becomes a heinous murder, and punishment must follow. As a sample we give an extract from the Liverpool Courier of the 10th inst. It says,

"In the case of the Manchester outrage we are fortunately liberated from all those technicalities which baffled justice so long in Ireland. A more exonerating, daring, atrocious murder never was committed. That all admit. The verdict of the jury is given and sentence pronounced, swift execution should follow. A remedy against Fenianism will be found far more effective than shipments of local addresses."

The reader will naturally ask why such an outrage is any the less heinous in England than in Ireland? Do not the same laws govern all parts of the Empire? A few more Fenian outrages committed in England will teach the people there a lesson they will not soon forget.

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.

EL DORADO, Oct. 24, 1867.

SIR.—I would have written you ere this, in reference to the gold news of this locality, were it not that I was from home, and consequently not in a position to furnish you with any facts respecting the position of affairs in this, the "Golden City of the North." I must say that El Dorado has not much improved during the past three or four months, as matters for a while looked rather gloomy, and consequently there were no great inducements for parties to expend their capital in the way of erecting buildings or in the purchase of property. However, I am happy now to say that affairs are decidedly improving, and, as a matter of course, the drooping spirits of the good citizens of El Dorado are becoming somewhat revived.

Gold discoveries still continue to be made in various parts of the county, which, together with many other facts, must prove to the satisfaction of the most incredulous the existence of gold here in paying quantities, and that all that is now required is to have crushing mills erected to extract the precious metal from the quartz.

In reference to the celebrated Richardson gold mine, I may say that the excavation thereof is being carried on with energy, and up to this date I am sure there have been several thousand tons of quartz rock taken out of this mine, most of which is pronounced by parties capable of forming opinions upon such subjects to be really very rich. It is the very poorest of the quartz will pay well for crushing. The quartz is stored away in suitable buildings for that purpose, awaiting the construction of the crushing mills. The mine is now about forty-five feet deep, and, as was generally expected, is becoming richer still here, they proceed. Mr. Hardin the settler here, superintending the work, and through his kindness access to the same is permitted to almost every person desirous of having a peep at this world renowned mine. The Company are now busily engaged in the construction of various buildings, such as offices, sheds, &c. They are also building a crushing mill, which is expected to be completed by the middle of November.

Messrs Scott & Taylor deserve great credit for their energy and enterprise in getting their crusher ready so soon, notwithstanding the many obstacles with which they have had to contend.

We also heard of several other mills being in the course of construction further back in the county, and especially in the vicinity of the village of Queensboro, where excellent indications of the presence of the precious metals exist. No doubt it will be necessary to have crushing mills established in various parts of the district to accommodate the wants of the numerous miners scattered over the locality. Several very important gold discoveries have been made lately in the vicinity of El Dorado. A few days ago Mr. Unwin discovered a very nice show of gold on a lot about three miles North East from El Dorado, and so confident is he that he has a "good thing" there, that he at once entered into an agreement for the purchase of the property for some seven or eight thousand dollars. Mr. Editor, I feel also very happy to be able to report good news respecting the different mining companies established here. There are now some ten or twelve different mining companies engaged in the development of the mineral treasures of this district. The most important of these companies are working under the management of Messrs. The Royal Canadian Mining Company are succeeding admirably well in their mining operations, having opened some excellent shows of gold on their side. They have recently several pieces of quartz were obtained, in which the gold was visible to the naked eye, which to a very great extent corroborates the results of the various assays made of the stock belonging to this company. I believe the stock holders of the company are now open, and have been offered for the sale of stock, which, for some time, for the reasonable sum, namely, ten dollars per share, spirit of the mine, and the head of the company, and also the undoubted richness of the stock of this company as quick as any mine of the celebrated Richardson Mine stocks.

In reference to the El Dorado Mining Company, I am also happy to be able to state that they are prosecuting their labors with no small amount of energy, and up to the present are meeting with very favorable success. I was to-day shown by Mr. Mitchell Scott, of this company, a very good specimen of quartz taken from the Company's mine, which, indeed, presented a fine show of gold, visible to the naked eye. The depth of this mine is about forty feet. The Excelsior Mine, which is adjacent to the Richardson gold mine, are also despoiling of special notice, as well as the Kootenay and Brantford and Godech Mining Companies. All these companies are prosecuting their mining operations with diligence and with every prospect of success. The average depth of these companies mines being about twenty feet deep, and judging from the results of the various assays made by some of the very best chemists of the quartz taken from the mines of these companies, I think their chances of success are good.

However, we must be patient and await the results of the crushing mills, which will now be in operation in a few days, as all depends upon them at the present. I am informed that the proprietors, Messrs. Davis & Crawford, of the Eureka Mine, situate on Lot No. 3, in the 6th concession of Elzevir, are about resuming their mining operations, as it would be a pity that this mine should be idle, its quartz having been tested by experienced chemists and found to be very rich, both in gold and silver.

There are several mines adjacent to the village of Madoc that present excellent indications for gold. For instance, I may mention the shaft being sunk on the Kirk property by Forster and others, who report the discovery of gold at two feet below the surface of the earth. The proprietors of this mine are about organizing a company to develop the mineral wealth of this property, and no doubt will succeed as the indications are really very satisfactory.

The excavating of the mine on the Seymour property is stopped for the present in consequence of the large quantity of water flowing into the mine, but I believe it is the intention of the parties to resume operations as soon as possible.

Since the erection of the crushing mills affairs are becoming better in these parts, and I am certain that if the crushing mills continue to work well, we will have pretty lively times yet this fall, in this quiet and really interesting locality.

I am yours, &amp;c.

A. C. GREEN OF EL DORADO.

Statement of Facts Concerning the Recent Negotiations Between the Commercial and Other Banks.

[From the Montreal Herald.]

1. In the latter part of September the Commercial Bank obtained assistance from the Bank of Montreal to the extent of $300,000, at the request of the Government and upon the condition that the Commercial Bank should repayable in November and December, with interest at the rate of six per cent per annum.

2. Upon the 16th October, the Commercial Bank again applied to the Bank of Montreal for assistance to the extent of $300,000, in consequence of the former loan not having proved sufficient to meet the withdrawal of deposits.

3. This advance was declined, for the reason that the Commercial Bank had considerably increased, instead of diminished its discounts during September, when it was in need of assistance.

4. The Commercial Bank then applied to the Government for assistance, and failed to obtain it.

5. The Commercial Bank renewed its application to the Bank of Montreal, which was again declined, as the position was, however, that the other Banks in Upper Canada should be applied to, and that if they were disposed to assist, and could not conveniently do so from their own cash resources, the Bank of Montreal would assist in the latter.

6. The Bank of Montreal proposed to the Bank of British North America, and it was agreed that such advances were required, they should be made by the two Banks to the others in the proportion of two-thirds and one-third.

7. A meeting was held on the 20th October, when the representatives of the Ontario Bank being the only one that had arrived, after a full discussion, agreed to do so, provided that others, who were expected from Upper Canada, would do the same.

8. On Monday morning, 21st October, the following Banks were represented at a meeting held at the Bank of British North America, of which Mr. Paton was appointed Chairman.

The Bank of Montreal,
The Bank of British North America,
The Ontario Bank,
The Bank of Toronto,
The City Bank of Montreal,
The Royal Canadian Bank.

9. The Directors of the Commercial Bank, at the meeting, explained the position, and asked for a loan of $750,000, upon the security of one million five hundred thousand dollars of the Government of the Bank of Montreal, stating that to offer any available assets would, in the opinion of the Directors, render it very difficult to carry on their current business.

10. The Commercial Bank explained the position, and asked for a loan of $750,000, upon the security of one million five hundred thousand dollars of the Government of the Bank of Montreal, stating that to offer any available assets would, in the opinion of the Directors, render it very difficult to carry on their current business.

11. The last proposal was at once rejected by the Upper Canadian Banks, who declared themselves quite able to furnish any assistance they thought proper to give from their own resources.

12. It was then suggested by the Bank of Toronto that the Bank of Montreal should surrender the securities obtained for the loan made in September, and accept Detroit and Milwaukee bonds in common with the other Banks, and that each contribution should be in proportion to capital.

13. The Bank of Montreal rejected this proposal, and stated that having already assisted the Commercial, and its offer to advance to other banks in support of the Commercial having been declined, it withdrew from the meeting, for the purpose of allowing the other banks to decide amongst themselves how far they would go in advancing to the Commercial before the Bank of Montreal would take any further part in the discussion.

14. The Bank of Montreal was requested and agreed to do so, to the Commercial in the meantime, upon condition that the result of the meeting should be communicated without delay.

15. Mr. Galt, who had been requested to attend the meeting of Banks, when no prospect of agreement seemed probable, proceeded to the Bank of Montreal with the President of the Commercial Bank, after the close of the meeting, to announce that the banks had agreed to contribute as follows, to support the Commercial, subject, however, so far as the Upper Canadian banks were concerned, to confirmation by telegram from their head offices, viz:

British Bank of Toronto	$100,000
Bank of Montreal	60,000
City Bank	72,000
Royal Canadian	60,000
Ontario Bank	120,000
Total	$412,000

And it was expected by the meeting that the following Banks would not refuse to contribute when the circumstances were explained, viz:

Gore Bank	$60,000
Merchants' Bank	72,000
Quebec Bank	60,000
Total	$192,000

Making $604,000 in all.

16. The Bank of Montreal, on hearing of this result, agreed to await the confirmation expected from Upper Canada, and also, if the proposed assistance was not accepted, to extend the time for repayment of its loan of $300,000 to the same period as the loans from the other Banks.

17. The Bank of British North America advanced $100,000 to the Commercial, on the day, on Commercial paper, to enable settlement with other banks to be made.

18. After considerable delay, telegrams were received from the head offices of the Banks in Upper Canada, declining to sanction the advances that had been agreed upon by their representatives in Montreal.

19. The Commercial Bank, at a late hour in the evening, made a final application, desiring to know if there was any term upon which it could be sustained by the Bank of Montreal, the reply being that it was hopeless to expect that the latter could undertake such a serious responsibility at that time.

20. All efforts to obtain assistance having failed, the Directors of the Commercial Bank, resolved to suspend specie payments, as already announced.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 25, noon.—The barque Home from Quebec, spoken at sea had lost her deck load and sustained other damage.

FLORENCE, Oct. 25.—Garibaldi has again been heard from. Without regarding the prohibition of the Italian authorities he left Foligno and pushed on toward the South. At last accounts he had arrived at Riccia, a town in the southern district of Umbria, not far from the Papal frontier, and within forty-two miles of Rome.

Gen. Bixio has accepted a position in the new Cabinet, as Minister of the Marine.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Additional advice from Rome acknowledge that the Garibaldians have not all retired from the territory of the church, but represent that the Pontifical troops have recently had encounters with the remnants of the insurgents in which they have been uniformly successful.

PARIS, Oct. 25.—The reception of the Emperor of Austria in Paris has been most cordial and gratifying. His visit is popular with the Parisians, and wherever he appears in public he meets with enthusiastic manifestations of welcome from the people. A profound sympathy for the Emperor is felt by the unfortunate Maximilian heightens the respect and esteem with which the Emperor is received by all classes.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—About two weeks ago a Mr. O'Donnell, was shot in this city under circumstances which led to the belief that the outrage was perpetrated by a Rielist, a town in the north-west of Manitoba, not far from the Papal frontier, and within forty-two miles of Rome.

Intelligence from China states that a great battle had been fought between the rebel army and the Chinese forces. The rebels were defeated, and the Chinese took place within 30 miles of Peking, and that city was in great danger of falling into the hands of the victorious rebels.

—Rowdiness is rampant again in Ottawa—a sort of amateur highway robbery being most affected.

American Despatches.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 25.—The United States steamer "Osage," with Gen. Roussseau and the Russian Commission on board, left Fort Simpson on the 14th.

It is understood that arrangements have been completed by the Pacific Railroad Company for the junction of the Lincoln and Marysville and Western Pacific Railroads.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Herald's Vera Cruz special says the re-election of President Juarez is now undoubted. Out of the 245 electoral votes Gen. Porfirio Diaz only drew 73.

Admiral Tegenhaff is still at Vera Cruz, and there is as yet no certainty of his getting the late Emperor's body soon.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Herald says:—A large party of financial and military celebrities started for Mexico on the steamship "Winnington" yesterday afternoon. Senator Romero, Mexican Minister to the United States, will be taken aboard at Charleston. Among the passengers are General Sturm, chief of ordinance; Col. Mejia, of the Mexican army; Gen. Babcock, of Grant's staff; and other military, financial and commercial characters. The objects of the party are various.

NEW YORK, Oct. 26.—The Times Washington telegram says:—The public will recollect, at the Surratt trial, the panel of jurors in the Criminal Court here was qualified, because the law had not been complied with. To-day a new panel was ordered, and 36 names drawn. They are all white, as the law yet includes the word white in its phylology. Congress tried to change it at its last session, but the President rejected the Bill.

—Some poor idiot, the other day, thought it a clever practical joke to send a bottle aloft at sea containing a slip of paper, on which was written:—"Dr. Livingstone, off Zambesi. Not lost at all. Can't think how the report got about." The ignorant donkey was, in point of geography, quite as much at sea as he evidently supposed the great traveler to be.

—The most exquisite stanza of late days, is the following which we find in a volume of poems published by an Ohio poet:

"I am an American maiden,
My eyes are blue and mild;
My lips are lovely and rosy,
My heart is undivided."

Guppy suggests an equally poetical and probably much more truthful, the following:

"I am an Ohio poet,
Kiss with half a dozen souls;
My lips are lovely and rosy,
And my stockings are full of holes."

—The late gales have been awfully disastrous all along the coast of Cape Breton, Magdalen Islands, and Prince Edward Island. A new schooner named the Julia Dash, belonging to Castine, Maine, with a crew of twenty-five men, struck on a reef about a mile and a half from the shore of the Magdalen Islands, and all were lost. Evidently the men attempted to swim ashore, as ten bodies were driven in perfectly naked. The loss of life has been fearful among the fishermen.

Statistics of British India.

The commercial rise and progress of the Indian possessions of the British Crown are very conspicuously set forth in the statistics abstract of the Colonial and other portions of the Empire, recently published. We find that the area of British India is 956,438 square miles, with a population in 1861 of 143,371,810 inhabitants. The public revenue in 1865 was nearly £46,000,000 sterling, and the expenditure about the same. The public debt was £40,500,000. The total tonnage of vessels entered and cleared in 1865 (exclusive of coasters) was 3,285,666—3,228,354 of which belonged to British shipping. The total value of imports in the same year was £40,500,000, more than half of which was bullion and specie. The exports were valued at £69,500,000. Wool exports have regularly increased, 7,057,161 lbs weight having been shipped in 1863, and 23,432,959 lbs weight in 1865.

Albany Lumber Market.

REVIEW FOR THE WEEK ENDING OCT. 23.

The receipts of lumber continue large and keep the assortment good. There is a fair supply of all kinds, but shingles, both fired and sawed, being more scarce. The sales for the last week have been good and a manifest improvement on the previous week. Prices remain as per our previous quotations. The shippers have been large and in excess of receipts. Late buyers have commenced laying in winter stock, and a good trade for the remainder of the season is anticipated.

Freights to New York $1.50 to $1.75; to New Haven and Bridgeport, $2.00; to Middletown and Norwich, $2.50 to $2.75; to Providence, $3.00 to $3.25; to Portland, $3.50 to $3.75.

The receipts by the Erie and Champlain canals during the 3rd week in Oct. in the years named are as follows:

The Cork Examiner states, that Lord Stanley made a visit to the Pope to ascertain if the endowment of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland out of the funds now belonging to the Church of England would be accepted as a settlement of old scores, so far that question was concerned. The Pope declined to interfere. The question was then put to Cardinal Cullen as the representative of the Roman Catholic Church in Ireland, who convened a meeting of all the Irish Prelates. The Bishops discussed three possible modes in which the State might come to their assistance, by a pecuniary endowment—by grants to the Priests personally, to the Church as a Corporation for distribution among the clergy; by way of the creation of glebes and parsonages. The result was a resolution—unanimous if we understand it correctly—against accepting any aid whatever, or in any shape from the State. This is a very important decision, and we presume that it is correctly reported.

DOMESTIC ECONOMY.—Among the appliances of domestic economy at the Paris Exhibition is the "Norwegian automatic apparatus," by which meat and other food, after having been boiled for five minutes, may be completely cooked in three hours, without artificial heat of any kind. The apparatus consists of a box lined with non-conducting materials, and two tin cans, in which the food to be cooked is placed, boiled for five minutes over a gas or other stove, and then inserted in the box and hermetically shut in with a cover also lined with insulating substances. When the box is opened three hours afterwards the contents are found completely cooked, without any care or attention having been needed. The box may be moved about, carried by hand or otherwise, during the operation. The whole process is practically exemplified in a small sheet of the Gustavus Vasa where saucapans containing meat are put in raw and taken out cooked at different hours of the day.

—Rovinsky is rampant again in Ottawa—a sort of amateur highway robbery being most affected.

Daily Intelligencer.

BELLEVILLE, MONDAY, OCT. 23.

POSTAGE.—The Hon. M. C. Cameron gives notice that postage must be paid on all communications to the public departments of Ontario.

INDIAN AFFAIRS.—Mr. E. Parent, under Secretary of State, gives notice in Saturday's official Gazette that communications relating to Indian affairs, Indian lands and ordinance lands, must be addressed to the Secretary of State for Canada, Ottawa.

A SHOW OF LADIES.—There is to be a show of ladies in Paris at the end of the present month, which will terminate the Exhibition. The prize to be awarded to the plus belle will consist of a pair of earrings valued at £24,000 sterling. The great difficulty is about electing the jury, every man in France wanting to be on it.

THE OTHER BANKS.—The bills of the Royal Canadian Bank, which were refused at the Commercial Bank here on Saturday, are taken to day in small quantities from customers, but refused when presented in large lots. The hand of King is visible in this transaction. An official notice from Ottawa announces that the "Government will continue to receive the Notes of all the Chartered Banks, except those of the Commercial Bank and the Bank of Upper Canada."

A SHARP THICK.—A special telegram from Ottawa to the Globe says: "The Bank of Montreal has used the Commercial Bank as a depository for postal monies where they had no agencies—the manager at these agencies remitting to the Receiver General by draft on the Montreal Bank at Ottawa. By instructions from Mr. King, payment of a large number of these drafts has been refused at the agency here. The Government has protested the drafts in order to hold the Bank of Montreal responsible, and will enter call at once, it is said." If this be true, we hope the Government will prosecute the Bank to the bitter end.

Commercial Bank Bills.

The Globe of the 23rd, in commenting upon the failure of the Commercial Bank, says in reference to the value of the bills: "To show the certainty of all the debts of the Bank being paid, and the folly of making a sacrifice either on bills or deposit certificates, it is only necessary to recall the fact that the stockholders are liable to the creditors of the Bank for an additional amount of four millions of dollars. Nor is it likely that the estate will be a difficult one to wind up. * * * The loss will fall heavily on the stockholders, and on them alone."

And again, on the 25th: "Every dollar of the Commercial Bank bills will be paid in full. No business man has any doubt upon that point."

The Genuine Vandenhoff.

We received the following letter this morning from the genuine George Vandenhoff:

To the Editor of the Daily Intelligencer.
BELLEVILLE, N. J., 24th Oct., 1867.
SIR—I have just sent you a New York daily an extract from your paper, by which I find that some unwelcome fellow has been advertising a reading in your town under my name. I trust the culprit met with his deserts at the hands of a magistrate. I need not say I have no knowledge of him.

I particularly regret that such a hoax should have been perpetrated, because, having it in my mind to pay the pleasant town of Belleville a visit during the coming winter, encouraged by the warm reception they gave me on my only appearance there, about two years ago, I should in so doing be under the disadvantage of being taken for a fraud. I might be of use to them, which I always made it a point to be, especially in the Leisure Hours.

I am no Christian brother; I have no doubts; no nether (as you suggest), nor any other reading reader: "I am myself alone."

There is not any one who has the right to sign himself as I do. Yours and the public's obedient servant,
Geo. Vandenhoff,
Shakespearean Reader.

*Notwithstanding the "sell" upon the Belleville public, we hope Mr. Vandenhoff may carry out his intention of visiting Belleville, and we can assure him that he will receive as hearty a welcome as on the occasion of his previous visit.

A lady in East Brooklyn, N. Y., recently discovered a very neat bird's nest in her garden, composed principally of Valenciennes lace, worth about one dollar per yard. A piece of seven yards formed the lining of the nest. The lady had missed the lace, and supposed her domestics had stolen it.

The Bank Negotiations.

In Saturday's issue we gave what was supposed to be Mr. King's version of the negotiations relative to the Commercial Bank. The statement was not signed by any one, nor does the Montreal Herald say from whom it emanated, consequently, we have to receive it as a one sided statement of what took place, written for the purpose of defending Mr. King. This supposition is confirmed by the Toronto Telegraph, which says: "Representatives of the other banks 'who were present give us to understand that this statement is incorrect in several important particulars.' It also says: 'A full and complete statement of the proceedings has been prepared and signed by all those present, with the exception of Mr. King; there is no necessity for discussing the matter, until we have that statement before us.' When this statement is published we shall be able to judge where the whole fault lies. In the mean time, we have simply to say, that even that statement does not relieve Mr. King from the responsibility of refusing to aid the Commercial Bank when he had it in his power to do so, unless other Banks would endorse the Commercial Bank's securities. Or in other words, unless by doing so, he could bring every Bank in Canada at his feet, so as to enable him to crush them whenever it might suit his fancy to do so. Past experience had taught them how little they had to expect from Mr. King when in his power. They had not forgotten how the Bank of Upper Canada was closed, nor how he allowed drafts upon the Merchants' Bank of Montreal to accumulate upon his hands, and then demanding gold for the full amount a few minutes before the bank closed, in the hope that it could not pay, when he would have dishonored its bills and crushed the institution. And it is not true that within a few days he attempted the same game with the Ontario Bank, which proved too strong for him; and now, after getting the best securities the Commercial had for $300,000, he hastened its downfall. We trust that all the Banks will see the necessity of combining for mutual protection against this Bank King, and that they will effect arrangements with the Government for the issue of Provincial notes, only."

The Nova Scotia Legislative Council.

The following appointments made, on the 28th June were only gazetted on the 17th October:

To be President of the Legislative Council in place of the Hon. E. Kenny, resigned:

The Hon. Alexander Keith.
To be members of the Legislative Council:
Hons. John McKinnon,
Peter Smith,
Samuel Creelman,
J. O. Haffernan,
D. McN. Parker,
James Fraser,
In place of:
The Hon. Edward Kenny,
Jonathan McCully,
John A. Henderson,
John W. Ritchie,
John Holmes,
R. B. Dickey.

Appointed by Her Majesty as Members of the Senate of the Dominion of Canada.

These appointments must have been made by the Upper Government two days before Nova Scotia became a province of the Dominion. We take it for granted that the Council is composed of a majority of the supporters of the Government. The opposite party has since carried the country unanimously; and as things stand there must be a fine prospect of a dead lock, unless, indeed, the Legislative Councilors are prepared to sacrifice their views and feelings for the sake of securing harmony between the two branches. In Ontario, as well as in the Province of Quebec, the people have lively recollections of the unpleasant traditions of the evils that arise from a nominated second Chambers being set up in opposition to the popular branch. The prevention of this in Nova Scotia, is very desirable. It may be thought useful, for the moment, to hold a check over an Assembly that may possibly prove an antagonist to the system of government under which it has been called into existence. But this is a policy that may easily be stretched too far, if it be not dangerous to experiment on, ever so little.

The Wheat Crops of 1867.

The wheat crop in Canada for the year 1867, is quite a full average, if not more. That of the United States is generally good, and probably bears the same proportion to that of average years as the Canadian product. In Southern Russia, one of the first grain-producing countries in the world, the crop is excellent. It was thence Great Britain drew her largest supplies last year. An abundant crop of wheat in Southern Russia has more effect upon the English markets than an extra crop in the United States. In Austria the harvest was very fine, the grain of good quality, and about an average in quantity. In Hungary, the crop was well harvested, abundant and good. In Galicia, the crops suffered severely from heavy rains and floods, but with that exception, the wheat was good and an abundant yield. From Prussia the most favourable results are reported. There had been heavy rains and immense floods, but these did little damage except in localities unfavourably situated. Taking all these facts into consideration, and admitting that, in England, there is, after all, an average crop, we think that we may calculate with certainty on a very great reduction in the price of breadstuffs in the British markets during the present year ending next July.

HINT FOR A DRAMATIST.—"I have noticed with regret that the Victor has lately been severe upon the gentler sex," said Milwarden. "I assume that you mean women. Not severe, but full of kindly advice," said Mangles. "Hang it," said Milwarden, "kindly advisers are all very well, but I should be inclined to say with King David, let not your precious balms break my head, a course your fellows have been taking." "Atterly deny it. Give an instance." "What did you say about the Merry Wives of Windsor?" "I said nothing; but I remember that the play has been lately alluded to." "Yes, pleasingly. I forget the exact words, and I dare say that I shall substitute better ones, but it was something to the effect that if Shakespeare had to write the play now, there would be no merry wives, but a couple of disreputable matrons, that Sir John Falstaff would be smiled on by each, and that the intrigue would arise out of their quarrel for his good graces, and finally, to heal scandal, it would be proposed that Anne Page should be Lady Falstaff, but the knight, with a touch of Lord Ogley, would transfer her to Fenton, who should be secretly known to Sir John's illegitimate son. Then, you see, the play would be acceptable to the British matron, who now calls it coarse." "What invention!" "I use the word 'advice,'" said Mr. Mangles. "But there is a good deal of truth in it, for all that. Expand the subject into an article, and I will see whether I can use it."—Sonnet or Later, by Shirley Brooks.

"It is undeniable," says Prentice, "that in America it takes three to make a pair, he, she, and a hired girl. Had Adam been a modern, there would have been a hired girl in Paradise to look after little Abel and 'raise Cain.'"

A manly little fellow of five years fell, and cut his upper lip so badly that a surgeon had to be summoned to sew the wound. He sat in his mother's lap during the painful operation, pale but very quiet, resolutely keeping back his tears and moans. In her distress, the young mother could not refrain from saying: "O doctor I fear it will leave a disfiguring scar!" Charley looked up into her tearful face, and said, in a comforting tone: "Never mind, mamma, my mustache will cover it!"

Death of Mr. Thomas Sellar.

We regret to learn from the Montreal Gazette of the death of an old and esteemed friend and confidant, Mr. Thomas Sellar, publisher of the Echo, Montreal. Mr. Sellar was one of the foremost in organizing the Canadian Press Association, and his death will be greatly lamented by those whose privilege it was to enjoy his intimate relationship. His family have our heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement. The following brief obituary we copy from the Montreal Gazette of yesterday: It is with much regret that we find ourselves called upon this morning to record the death of the late Mr. Thomas Sellar proprietor of the Echo and Protestant Episcopal Recorder. Mr. Sellar has, for many years, been connected with the Press in Canada, and was much esteemed for his genial good nature as well as for many sterling qualities by all who knew him, and especially by his more intimate friends of the profession. He received marks of respect in 1856, by being elected to the office of President of the Press Association of Canada, at the last annual meeting he attended, accompanying the Association on the excursion to Goderich, Detroit, &c. Mr. Sellar, who has been removed at the early age of 39 years, was a native of Elgin, Scotland. He resided for a time in Glasgow, and at the age of twenty-four came to Canada, where he engaged in business in the West. Subsequently he occupied the office of sub-editor of the Globe, a paper with which he continued in after years to maintain a connection. He next became proprietor of the Echo, the office of publication of which was removed to Montreal about 1862. From that time the deceased has continued to reside in this city, where, as in an early day, he made many warm friends. The Echo has been distinguished as the organ of the Evangelical party, amongst whom, as well as with Churchmen generally, it has occupied a high position. Early in the past summer Mr. Sellar was troubled with what at first appeared to be only a slight cold, and though suffering somewhat from weakness, he attended the Press Association at Goderich, and was afterwards present at the meeting of the Diocesan Synod of Ontario in Kingston. He returned to Montreal early in August, the first symptoms of disease having developed themselves into inflammation of the lungs. Ever since he has been confined to bed, the case assuming a very complicated character, and resulting in death on Sunday morning. Mr. Sellar was married in the summer of 1866.

Important from Italy.

The news from Italy this morning is highly important. Garibaldi has not only succeeded in making good his escape and placing himself at the head of his army, but he is already pounding away at the very gates of the Holy City. Hundreds and thousands of the young men of Italy are swarming to the frontier and filling up his depleted ranks; the troops of the King are inspired with the old hero's enthusiasm and refuse to fire a shot at his brave volunteers; the Papal troops are flying before the victorious Garibaldians, and if he is not interfered with by the troops of Napoleon, Garibaldi will have accomplished ere many hours, the one darling object of his life—the liberation of Rome. For this he has struggled as no other man has struggled. For this he has sacrificed what no other man has sacrificed; and now, when apparently upon the very eve of its accomplishment, every friend of civic and religious liberty throughout the world will earnestly hope that the designs of Napoleon will be frustrated, and that Garibaldi may succeed in giving to Italy its rightful Capital, the City of Rome itself.

The Government and Montreal Bank.

The failure of the Commercial Bank has brought to the surface a few facts, which it is well the public should know; and it is well that these facts are brought to light by the leader of all agitations in Ontario. The readers of the Globe cannot but remember the oft-repeated assertions which have been made, that it was Mr. Galt who sold the country in its entirety to Mr. King; that it was Mr. Galt who was bound in fetters to the Montreal Bank, which rules the country with a rod of iron. Such, however, according to the Globe's statement of the 28th September, is not the case. The blame rests upon the shoulders of a gentleman, who, until he joined the present government, had been the model Minister and astute Financier, and who received, not only the support, but the highest encomiums of the Globe. After reciting the different applications for aid by the Commercial Bank to the Government, and then to the Bank of Montreal, it says: "Ministers were willing to furnish what was needed, but they discovered that Mr. Howland, when Finance Minister, had made a bargain with Mr. King, the manager of the Montreal Bank, in arranging for the issue of Government notes, that the Government should grant no assistance to any bank 'without his (Mr. King's) permission.' It is right that this fact has been disclosed, because many of the Grit party, who, anxious to have a grievance upon which to harp, have been industriously and insiduously attributing the whole difficulty to Mr. Galt, and more particularly to the rule of a Tory Government. Now it appears to have been the act of one, who but a few months since was extolled as the paragon of statesmen. While every one must regret the position in which Mr. Howland has placed the country, in rendering it necessary to apply to a bank manager for his permission, before it dare render assistance to an important institution, in which many widows and orphans have their all invested, still we must reflect upon the peculiar position in which he was placed. Mr. Brown and his party had done all that talent and energy could possibly do to frustrate every scheme propounded by the Government to provide ways and means; and succeeded, so far as to convince a shrewd business man like Mr. King that the difficulty of the Ministry was his opportunity, and consequently succeeded in inducing Mr. Howland to concede more than he should have done, the result of which has been to bring the whole Cabinet at his feet—a position, now that the facts are known, from which they must relieve themselves, and that, too, at an early day. That the Cabinet had no knowledge of this arrangement is evident from the remarks of the Globe, for it has the candor, in this instance, to acknowledge 'that some members of the Government were much chagrined to find themselves entirely at the mercy of their 'bankers,' but contends that they humiliated themselves by carrying out that agreement. It is no humiliation for a Government to carry out a promise which it had made. It was in honor bound to carry out that arrangement to the letter, but it will be extremely humiliating if the Ministry do not take immediate steps to relieve themselves from any such restriction. Why was this stipulation demanded by Mr. King? He saw that it would not be long ere the banks would be drained of their bullion through his management, that by an insidious policy he could create a distrust in the minds of the people, and that once accomplished, bill holders and depositors would become alarmed, a run follow, and his object accomplished. The mode of operation was "by instructions given at one of the Montreal agencies in the west" to send all Commercial bills to the place of issue at once." By this means he would be in a position to demand gold at any moment. Is not the same course being pursued now towards the Royal Canadian Bank? For while professing to honor the bills of this Bank by receiving them in small numbers, they are dishonoring them when brought to the Bank in large quantities. The intention is transparent to the most casual observer, and that is to monopolize the business of the whole country, which he thinks "legitimately belongs to him," and which he is aiming to secure.

The Globe could not discuss a question of this kind without endeavoring to fasten the whole blame upon the Government. It says: "Be it observed, that the Government, in issuing legal tenders through the 'Bank of Montreal, has separated that institution from the rest of the Banks.' Not exactly correct, Mr. Globe. The other Banks separated themselves from the Montreal Bank, by refusing to accept Mr. Galt's scheme, and no Bank took a more decided stand in opposition than the Commercial Bank, which was its last great error. Had the Banks entered into the scheme, as did the Bank of Montreal, they nor the unfortunate stockholders would now be losing their all, and the country would not now be passing through this monetary crisis. It was necessary for the Ministry to raise money; the Banks would not advance nor loan, and it became a necessity to adopt some scheme by which the necessary funds could be realized most beneficially to the country, and if the Banks would not comply, it was no good reason why the whole scheme should be abandoned, nor why an arrangement should not have been made to carry it out to as great an extent as possible. The time is not far distant when we hope to see but one paper currency in the whole Dominion, and that issued upon the authority of Canada, so that we shall have no more Bank failures, by which bill holders or depositors can be ruined. Or in other words, let the present scheme of Provincial notes be extended so as to cover the whole paper circulation of the country.

BY ATLANTIC CABLE.

LONDON, October 26, midnight.—The following important despatches have been received here:

PARIS, October 26, night.—The fleet of war steamers left Toulon this morning, under orders to proceed direct to Civita Vecchia. The embarkation of troops in transports at Toulon has been completed, and a despatch announcing their departure for Italy is momentarily expected.

FLORENCE, October 26.—The soldiers of King Victor Emmanuel refuse to fight against Garibaldi. The cause of National Unity in the councils of the King's Government is gaining ground. It is now considered certain that a thoroughly Radical Ministry will be formed, whose policy will be devoted to making Rome the capital of Italy.

PARIS, October 26, eve.—Bourse better and rentes stronger.

Rome, October 26.—The Pope in a letter to the Roman Catholic Bishops throughout the world, says that the patrimony of the church has been assailed by revolutionists, and asks them to offer prayers in all the churches for the Holy See.

The Police on Friday, in searching a house, met with resistance. They attacked the house with bayonets, killed fifteen Garibaldians, and took thirty-six prisoners and a quantity of arms and bombs. There has been fighting to-day half a mile from the city. Great excitement prevails within the walls. The revolutionists are making preparations for a second uprising. A proclamation has been issued to prohibit assemblages of over four persons together at the same time. All persons are to retire within their houses, and are to be closed when the signal of alarm is given.

It is reported that 1,600 Garibaldians attacked Viterbo yesterday, and were repulsed with heavy loss. The citizens of Rome have been armed and patrol the streets nightly.

FLORENCE, Oct. 26.—It is reported that a desperate battle was fought near Monte Rotondo on Friday. Garibaldi won the victory. With five battalions he set to fight the Papal forces, taking one hundred prisoners and three guns. Many were killed and wounded on both sides.

General Cialdini has been unable to complete the formation of a new Ministry, and has abandoned the attempt. Both Benio Ruzar and General Durandi are trying to reconstruct the Cabinet.

TURIN, Oct. 26.—There was a great popular demonstration in this city yesterday in favor of making Rome the capital of the nation, and an address to the King of Italy to that effect was adopted.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—Garibaldi's force is said to be from 10,000 to 12,000 strong. All the Papal troops have been concentrated before Rome, with orders to act upon the defensive. The troops have sailed from Toulon, and it is expected they will reach Civita Vecchia this afternoon.

FLORENCE, Oct. 27.—Two battles have been fought between the Papal troops and the Garibaldians. The first was at Monte Rotondo; the second further south, at Torretto. In both of these desperate engagements the invaders were victorious, and Garibaldi has now arrived before Rome with 10,000 men under his command.

FLORENCE, Oct. 27.—The young men of Italy are swarming over the Papal frontier to join Garibaldi. There is a report that Garibaldi received a check at Monte Rotondo from the Papal troops, which he had decidedly refused.

PARIS, Oct. 27.—The Montre-to-day says the fleet at Toulon had been kept back at the request of the King of Italy, but it has now sailed for the Italian coast because no Cabinet has been formed at Florence, and because Garibaldi is menacing the city of Rome. This action of France is declared not aggressive, as both Italy and France are interested in the preservation of order and the vindication of the law. The Montre hopes that the entente cordiale between the two countries will not be disturbed.

A banquet was given yesterday by the foreign members of the Imperial Commission of the Exposition Universelle to the French members. Many speeches were made, and a very cordial state of feeling was manifested. M. Rouher, Minister of Foreign Affairs, made an important and significant speech, in which he alluded directly to the present crisis in the Italian Peninsula, and said he hoped Italy would not, under the influence of bad passions, be led to engage in war with France, but that she would emerge from this great national trial purged and a friend of order.

It is expected that the first division of the naval expedition for the relief of Rome, which left Toulon on Saturday morning, will reach Civita Vecchia to-morrow.

The Italian rumors in regard to Italy are in circulation here. It is reported that the Italian Crown Prince has put himself at the head of an army to resist the French. Another rumor says that Victor Emmanuel will abandon his crown.

BREMEN, Oct. 27.—The King of Prussia has returned to his tour through the South German States.

The second session of the Parliament of the North German Confederation was closed yesterday by the King of Prussia in person, who,

Under the caption "Cant as a Fine Art" adopted by the New York Express ridicules the course of the English, Newmann Hall and American audiences, who, in addressing with them to try and "blame" the custom of the South, are in the habit of assuming the belief that during the late war the whole sympathy in England was universally in favor of the North. Now every one knows that this was not the case, and that partly from a hatred to the dissolution of the American Union would be conducive to the peace and welfare of the world, generally, partly from the sympathy with the South, and partly from a feeling for the weaker party, the English gallantly against such gross misstatements of the majority of the British people desired to see the South successful. There is no use in this; try to prove the contrary to the Statesmen, and the Englishmen go they are not believed, and they are regarded as being guilty of misrepresentation and untruth for their own private purposes.

Daily Intelligence.

BELLEVILLE, THURSDAY, OCT. 31.

CLOSING SHOPS.—We are requested to state that after the 1st of November, the stores will close at six o'clock for the winter months.

PENNY READINGS.—The Penny Readings, under the auspices of the Good Templars, will be held this evening in the Ontario Hall, Bridge Street.

DEATH OF BISHOP STRACIAN.—A special telegram from Toronto this afternoon announces the death of the venerable Bishop STRACIAN, which took place in Toronto at twelve o'clock to-day. He died at the good old age of 91 years and 7 months.

LA CROSSE MATCH.—A match between the volunteers and civilians in the Belleville Club will take place on the race course to-morrow afternoon, at 4 o'clock. As it is the first match of La Crosse that has been played in Belleville, we have no doubt there will be a large number of spectators.

CROPS IN GREAT BRITAIN.—Several British Commercial papers, by last mail, assert that the crop, when threshed, fell far below general anticipations, and that as supplies are still short higher prices may even yet be looked for. This feeling has given a slightly firmer tone to freights in Montreal.

APPLYING FOR TROOPS.—Trenton is making application for 400 or 500 troops. The Courier says they have fine barracks as any in the Dominion, which can be had for a moderate rent. The authorities have written to headquarters and ask that an inspector be sent to examine the buildings.

ROYAL CANADIAN BANK.—The Treasurer of the Government of Ontario, Hon. E. B. Wood, has given public notice that "all payments to be made on account of the Ontario Government may be made to the Royal Canadian Bank and its agencies," thus making the Royal Canadian Bank the financial agent of the Ontario Government. This will settle all doubts as to the safety of the Royal Canadian Bank.

NEW DOMINION MONTHLY.—The November number of this monthly is an improvement upon the first. It contains an excellent variety of both selected and original matter, and bids fair to occupy an important position in the field of literature. The typographical appearance of the magazine is highly creditable to the publishers, and as it is a Canadian undertaking, and possesses real merit, we trust it may receive a large circulation. It is published by John Douglass & Son, Montreal, at $1.00 a year in advance.

KINGSTON ASSIZES.—The trial of Ethan Allen for the murder of Cornelius Driscoll at the Kingston Brewery commenced yesterday. Mr. Wm. Ferguson and A. Tibbodeo defended the prisoner. The evidence adduced was in substance the same as given before the Coroner's inquest, excepting that Jones swore that Gemmell told him that Allen gave the fatal blow, while Gemmell gave the signal by clapping his hands. The trial occupied the whole day.

The McMahon Petition.

The Canadian Champion, referring to the petition for pardon of Father McMahon, the Fenian prisoner, makes the following just remarks. We are glad to see that the Press is beginning to speak out upon this subject:

"The coolest and most impudent thing that has ever occurred in the presentation of a petition to His Excellency Lord Monck, for the release of Father McMahon, a Fenian prisoner in the Penitentiary. With all these loud threats of war, while his fellow-rebels are making common and bloodied at home, murdering the officers of the law, and rescuing prisoners, while they even go so far as to threaten the life of our beloved sovereign, a petition to set at liberty this man, who if strict justice had been administered would have died a felon's death! McMahon, in particular, above all the other prisoners, is the most guilty. Notwithstanding the instructions of the head of his church, and the example of their superior dignitaries—this priest joined himself to the murdering gang, and gave them the benefit of his superior education and intelligence. He is just as responsible for the blood of those gallant volunteers who fell at Ridgeway as if his hand had fired the shot, and yet the Governor is asked to pardon him! We hope that the prayer of this petition will be refused. We must not forget the gallant dead who fell, and what is due to their memory. Let Father McMahon serve out his time in penitentiary, and thank his fate that he has escaped as easily as he did, the just vengeance of a wronged people. Leniency with the prisoners has been tried and found to have no effect, wrong constructions have been put upon the Fenian policy, and the Fenian leaders have ascribed the mitigation of the sentences of the prisoners to fear, rather than to an unwillingness on the part of the government to shed the blood of these misguided creatures. The lenient policy has been a failure, and has made them more bold and impudent than before. A strict interpretation of the law, not in a spirit of vengeance, but as a warning, should be enforced on any future raiders."

The Commercial Bank.

The following are the resolutions passed at a meeting of the Stockholders of the Commercial Bank, held in Montreal, on Tuesday, the 29th inst.

It was moved by Hugh Allan, Esq., seconded by the Hon. Mr. Holton.

That Thomas Paton, Esq., of the Bank of British North America, be requested to take the Chair, and Mr. Cross to act as Secretary.—Carried.

It was moved by V. Workman, Esq., seconded by George Moffatt, Esq.,

That the meeting is of the opinion that efforts should be made, with the view either to reconstitute the bank, or by retaining the present stock and obtaining additional capital, or by amalgamating with another bank; or by taking any other steps that will enable the bank to resume specie payments; the whole subject to be referred to the committee of the shareholders, to report on or before the 1st of November to the shareholders, or previously to any other persons or institutions from whom a loan may be possibly obtained, with a view to resuming specie payments.—Carried.

It was moved by J. G. Mackenzie, Esq., seconded by Robert Anderson, Esq.,

That the meeting request the Special Directors to look further into the position of the bank as it may be affected by the recent suspension of the bank, and to be prepared to submit a statement of the position of the bank to the shareholders, on the 6th of November to the shareholders, or previously to any other persons or institutions from whom a loan may be possibly obtained, with a view to resuming specie payments.—Carried.

It was moved by V. Workman, Esq., seconded by the Rev. Mr. Cordner,

That the thanks of the meeting be tendered to the Hon. Mr. Holton, Hugh Allan, and Alex. Morris, Special Directors, for the very great care and attention bestowed by them in investigating the affairs of the Commercial Bank.—Carried.

The meeting was largely attended by those interested as stockholders, as well as representatives from other banking institutions in that city. It seemed to be the impression that the Bank would be reconstituted in some shape.

Our Gold Fields.

Though there has not been that rush to the gold fields of Hastings which enthusiasts anticipated early this spring, and though disappointment has to some extent settled down upon those who expected to make their fortunes in a day, there is enough in the developments made this summer, to satisfy us that the Hastings region bids fair to take its place amongst the richest gold-producing countries in the world.

First, we have the discovery of the Richardson gold mine, which has been the basis of all subsequent operations; and here the precious metal was found in quality and quantity which placed it ahead of any similar discovery in the Dominion, and which made it rank equal to anything found in California, British Columbia or Australia. Next we had discoveries made in the townships of Madoc, Marmora, Tudor, Elzevir and other townships adjoining; and assays made of ore obtained from these various points showed conclusively that gold was widely distributed over the whole Hastings district. The opinions of practical miners who have had large experience in other gold fields have been nearly unanimous in pronouncing it a rich gold region; the opinions of mineralogists who have made a careful survey of the whole district confirm the opinion of working miners; and the operations of the season which is now nearly concluded, prove that we have a rich gold country in the Hastings District.

In conversation recently with Dr. Girdwood, of Montreal, a gentleman whose opinion upon this question is highly valued—he stated that as a result of a short visit to the Richardson Mine and the country surrounding, not long since, he was very favorably impressed with what he saw, and he had no doubt that gold was widely distributed throughout those Townships, and that it would be found in paying quantities. He said, moreover, that parties made a great mistake in stopping work when they found gold to the depth of from ten to fifteen feet; having found it, there was evidence of its existence, but the next thing to do was to find and follow the lead, and the deeper they went, the greater the probability of getting gold in paying quantities. Dr. Hall, of the same city, who has been some time in the Nova Scotia gold fields, and who has also visited the Madoc region, spoke in the most favorable terms of the gold-bearing quartz of this section, and expressed himself confident that it would be a rich gold-producing country. The evidence, therefore, of geologists, mineralogists and practical miners, and the developments made this summer, put the question of the existence of gold in paying quantities beyond doubt.

Within the past week a new discovery has been made at the Richardson Mine, which has given renewed confidence in the gold region. About three feet south from the original shaft, and very near the surface, a pocket or strave of the black sand has been discovered, and from which already six potash barrels of the rich stuff has been taken. An idea of the richness of this material may be imagined when one pan of it washed yielded $40 in gold.—The pocket is not yet exhausted, and on the sides of the wall of the crevice the rock is full of the miners are down to the depth of 50 feet, and at this depth they have again come to gold visible in the rock. A second shaft has been sunk about 40 feet west from the original shaft, at which a number of men are now at work. The machinery of the crushing mill for the Richardson mine is now all on the ground, and it is expected the mill will be in operation about the first of December. In the meantime work is being continued in both shafts, and the ore piled up in a secure place.

The Belleville Richardson Mining Company, who own a plot adjoining the property of the Richardson Mining Company, have been operating for some time past, and we are informed found gold the other day at a depth of ten feet. Canals have been dug for a distance of 200 feet at three different points, for the purpose of striking the lode of the Richardson mine, and which connects with the Richardson mine, a shaft has been sunk, and at the depth of about ten feet, gold has been found visible in the rock.

In Elzevir, it will be seen by our Bridge-water letter, gold has been found in several localities, and mining prospects are again looking up. Indeed, whichever way we turn, the news from the gold district is of the most cheering character, and the large investments made by capitalists in the purchase of lands, in the formation of companies, in sinking shafts, in building crushing mills, and in other ways, show that those most deeply interested have full confidence in the existence of gold in paying quantities.

Hon. Billa Flint, who came in from Bridge-water to-day, showed us two pieces of quartz, in which there is a fair show of gold. The quartz was obtained four feet from the surface in a new shaft which has just been opened a short distance north of the saw mill, at Bridge-water. Old miners speak flatteringly of the location.

FROM BRIDGEWATER.

From our own Correspondent.

BRIDGEWATER, Oct. 29, 1867.

The gold excitement somewhat revived here yesterday when it became known that at the Barry mine they had struck a rich vein of quartz, a fine specimen of which was shown here, containing several specks of pure gold visible to the naked eye, and being considered by judges to be likely to lead to a rich deposit. It was taken out about four feet from the surface.

Mr. Carleton commenced another mine in the saw mill yard. At the depth of three feet he found quartz similar to the above, with gold plainly visible. He improved upon this to-day, showing one piece of quartz with a small nugget of gold in it, which was reckoned to be worth about one dollar. This reckoned to be worth about one dollar. These were again surrounded by small specks. These shows combined have tended to increase the excitement, and people are looking forward to large developments of the precious metal in both these places, and are exceedingly sanguine on the subject.

Mr. Walton is sinking gold in paying quantities in the mine he last commenced, each pan of dirt that is washed yielding a good show of gold.

In the 5th concession a discovery of a peculiar nature has been made. A substance was found which can, and indeed has been, worked up and used as paint, being of a non-descript, but agreeable color, and seems likely to prove a durable one. This has been pronounced to be quacksilver ore of great value. It is in large quantities. A sample of about two hundred pounds was taken out one day just in the bed of a creek, and there seems to be large quantities of it. It was on show here in the village, and excited a great deal of curiosity.

A gentleman owning a lot in this township was in the village yesterday, assuring everybody that he had found gold in good paying quantities, but as the individual had been partaking rather extensively of the cup that cheers, ("I prefer waiting till I get better information before I say any more about it.")

Speaking of cups that cheer reminds me that we had a meeting a little while back in the vestry of the church, when the Hon. Billa Flint gave an address upon temperance, with a view to starting a literary and scientific institution in this place in connection with total abstinence. The meeting was well attended, and the address was very much appreciated, as it deserved to be. After the speaker sat down, a large number came forward and signed the pledge. Since then there have been several meetings for the formation of rules, &c., and the first regular meeting of "The Bridge-water Temperance Association" will be held on Thursday, 6th November, and continue to be held on the first and third Thursdays in each month. This is decidedly a step in the right direction, for in addition to the main object, temperance, it is proposed to establish a library, and in course of time, a reading room, which will be a great boon here, and is, indeed, what every village and town should possess. Thus it will tend to keep the rising generation from seeking pleasure and pastime in taverns, and lead them, by improving their minds, to become better members of society. It is rather a surprising thing that these sort of institutions are not more general than they are, considering the number of philanthropic persons there are in the country, and also how cheaply a thing of this sort can be done, and what an inexpensive and wholesome pastime it would prove. Charles Knight, the able English writer, some twenty years ago threw out some very excellent hints upon this subject, which, since then, have been very largely acted upon in that country, with the very best results.
